Section 11 Unproductive Estate (1) Where any part of a principal in the possession of a trustee consists of realty or personalty which for more than a year and until disposed of as hereinafter stated has not produced an average net income of at least one per centum per annum of its fair inventory value or in default thereof its market value at the time the principal was established or of its cost where purchased later and the trustee is under a duty to change the form of the investment as soon as it may be done without sacrifice of value and such change is delayed but is made before the principal is finally distributed then the tenant or in case of his death his personal representative shall be entitled to share in the net proceeds received from the property as delayed income to the extent hereinafter stated.

(2) Such income shall be the difference between the net proceeds received from the property and the amount which had it been placed at simple interest at the rate of five per centum per annum for the period during which the change was delayed would have produced the net proceeds at the time of change. The net proceeds shall consist of the gross proceeds received from the property less any expenses incurred in disposing of it and less all carrying charges which have been paid out of principal during the period while it has been unproductive.

(3) The change shall be taken to have been delayed from the time when the duty to make it first arose which shall be presumed in the absence of evidence to the contrary to be one year after the trustee first received the property if then unproductive otherwise one year after it became unproductive.

(4) If the tenant has received any income from the property or has had any beneficial use thereof during the period while the change has been delayed his share of the delayed income shall be reduced by the amount of such income received or the value of the use had.

(5) In the case of successive tenants the delayed income shall be divided among them or their representatives according to the length of the period for which each was entitled to income.

Section 12 Expenses Trust Estates (1) All ordinary expenses incurred in connection with the trust estate or with its administration and management including regularly recurring taxes assessed against any portion of the principal water rates premiums on insurance taken upon the estates of both tenant and remainderman interest on mortgages on the principal ordinary repairs trustees' compensation except commissions computed on principal compensation of assistants and court costs and attorneys' and other fees on regular accounting shall be paid out of income or paid out of principal or apportioned between income and principal as the court or the testator or creator of the trust may direct. But such expenses where incurred in disposing of or as carrying charges on unproductive estate as defined in section eleven shall be paid out of principal subject to the provisions of subsection (2) of section eleven.

(2) All other expenses including trustees' commissions computed upon principal cost of investing or reinvesting principal attorneys' fees and other costs incurred in maintaining or defending any action to protect the trust or the property or assure the title thereof unless due to the fault or cause of the tenant and costs of or assessments for improvements to property forming part of the principal shall be paid out of principal. Any tax levied by any authority federal state or foreign upon profit or gain defined as principal under the terms of subsection (2) of section three shall be paid out of principal notwithstanding said tax may be denominated a tax upon income by the taxing authority.

(3) Expenses paid out of income according to subsection (1) hereof which represent regularly recurring charges shall be considered to have accrued from day to day and shall be apportioned on that basis whenever the right of the tenant begins or ends at some date other than the payment date of the expenses. Where the expenses to be paid out of income are of unusual amount the trustee may distribute them throughout an entire year or part thereof or throughout a series of years. After such distribution where the right of the tenant ends during the period the expenses shall be apportioned between tenant and remainderman on the basis of such distribution.

Section 13 Expenses Non-Trust Estates (1) The provisions of section twelve so far as applicable shall govern the apportionment of expenses between tenants and remaindermen where no trust has been created subject however to any legal agreement of the parties or any specific direction of the taxing or other statutes but where either tenant or remainderman has incurred an expense for the benefit of his own estate and without the consent or agreement of the other he shall pay such expense in full.

(2) The special taxes or assessments for an improvement representing an addition of value to property forming part of the principal shall be paid by the tenant where such improvement cannot reasonably be expected to outlast the estate of the tenant. In all other cases a portion thereof only shall be paid by the tenant while the remainder shall be paid by the remainderman. Such portion shall be ascertained by taking that percentage of the total which is found by dividing the present value of the tenant's estate by the present value of an estate of the same form as that of the tenant except that it is limited for a period corresponding to the reasonably expected duration of the improvement. The computation of present values of the estates shall be made on the expectancy basis set forth in the American Experience Tables of Mortality and no other evidence of duration or expectancy shall be considered.

Section 14 Uniformity of Interpretation This act shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

Section 15 Short Title This act may be cited as the Uniform Principal and Income Act.

Section 16 Repeal All acts or parts of acts which are inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

Section 17 Time of Taking Effect The provisions of this act shall become effective upon the enactment thereof and shall apply to all estates of tenants or remaindermen and to all wills trust agreements and trust relations theretofore or thereafter made or created. Provided however that the provisions of this act shall not apply to receipts and expenses received or paid prior to the effective date of this act.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 113, as follows:

An Act to empower political subdivisions to promulgate administer and enforce airport zoning regulations limiting the height of structures and objects of natural growth and otherwise regulating the use of property in the vicinity of airports and to acquire by purchase grant or condemnation air rights and other interests in land to authorize penalties and remedies for violation of this act or of any ordinances or regulations made under the authority conferred herein and to authorize appropriations

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Airport Zoning Act"

Section 2 Definitions As used in this act unless the context otherwise requires

(1) "Airport" means any area of land or water designated and set aside for the landing and taking-off of aircraft and utilized or to be utilized in the interest of the public for such purposes

(2) "Airport hazard" means any structure or tree or use of land which obstructs the airspace required for the flight of aircraft in landing or taking-off at an airport or is otherwise hazardous to such landing or taking-off of aircraft

(3) "Airport hazard area" means any area of land or water upon which an airport hazard might be established if not prevented as provided in this act

(4) "Board" means any Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals

(5) "Commission" means any zoning commission airport zoning commission planning commission or joint zoning commission

(6) "Political subdivision" means any county city boroughs incorporated town and township

(7) "Person" means any individual firm copartnership corporation company association joint stock association or body politic and includes any trustee receiver assignee or other similar representative thereof

(8) "Structure" means any object constructed or installed by man including but without limitation buildings towers smokestacks and overhead transmission lines

(9) "Tree" means any object of natural growth

Section 3 Airport Hazards Contrary to Public Interest It is hereby found that an airport hazard endangers the lives and property of users of the airport and of occupants of land in its vicinity and also if of the obstruction type in effect reduces the size of the area available for the landing take-off and maneuvering of aircraft thus tending to destroy or impair the utility of the airport and the public investment therein Accordingly it is hereby declared (a) that the creation or establishment of an airport hazard is a public nuisance and an injury to the community served by the airport in question (b) that it is therefore necessary in the interest of the public health public safety and general welfare that the creation or establishment of airport hazards be prevented and (c) that this should be accomplished to the extent legally possible by exercise of the police power without compensation It is further declared that both the prevention of the creation or establishment of airport hazards and the elimination removal alteration mitigation or marking and lighting of existing airport hazards are public purposes for which political subdivisions may raise and expend public funds and acquire land or property interests therein

Section 4 Power to Adopt Airport Zoning Regulations

(1) In order to prevent the creation or establishment of airport hazards every political subdivision having an airport hazard area within its territorial limits may adopt administer and enforce under the police power and in the manner and upon the conditions hereinafter prescribed airport zoning regulations for such airport hazard area which regulations may divide such area into zones and within such zones specify the land uses permitted and regulate and restrict the height to which structures and trees may be erected or allowed to grow

(2) Where an airport is owned or controlled by a political subdivision and any airport hazard area appertaining to such airport is located outside the territorial limits of said political subdivision the political subdivision owning or controlling the airport and the political subdivision within which the airport hazard area is located may by ordinance or resolution duly adopted create a joint airport zoning board which board shall have the same power to adopt administer and enforce airport zoning regulations applicable to the airport hazard area in question as that vested by subsection (1) in the political subdivision within which such area is located Each such joint board shall have as members two representatives appointed by each political subdivision participating in its creation and in addition a chairman elected by a majority of the members so appointed

(3) If in the judgment of a political subdivision owning or controlling an airport the political subdivision within which is located an airport hazard area appertaining to that airport has failed to adopt or enforce reasonably adequate airport zoning regulations for such area under subsection (1) and if that political subdivision has refused to join in creating a joint airport zoning board as authorized in subsection (2) the political subdivision owning or controlling the airport may itself adopt administer and enforce airport zoning regulations for the airport hazard area in question In the event of conflict between such regulations and any airport zoning regulations adopted by the political subdivision within which the airport hazard area is located the regulations of the political subdivision owning or controlling the airport shall govern and prevail

Section 5 Relation to Comprehensive Zoning Regulations

(1) Incorporation In the event that a political subdivision has adopted or hereafter adopts a comprehensive zoning ordinance regulating among other things the height of buildings any airport zoning regulations applicable to the same area or portion thereof may be incorporated in and made a part of such comprehensive zoning regulations and be administered and enforced in connection therewith

(2) Conflict In the event of conflict between any airport zoning regulations adopted under this act and any other regulations applicable to the same area whether the conflict be with respect to the height of structures or trees the use of land or any other matter and whether such other regulations were adopted by the political subdivision which adopted the airport zoning regulations or by some other political subdivision the more stringent limitation or requirement shall govern and prevail

Section 6 Procedure for Adoption of Zoning Regulations

(1) Notice and Hearing No airport zoning regulations shall be adopted amended or changed under this act except by action of the political subdivision in question or the joint board provided for in Section 4(2) after a public hearing in relation thereto at which parties in interest and citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard At least fifteen (15) days' notice of the hearing shall be given by publication one time in at least one newspaper of general circulation in the political subdivision or subdivisions in which is located the airport hazard area to be zoned and in the legal journal if any designated by the rules of court of the county in which such political subdivision or subdivisions are situated for the publication of legal notices and advertisements

(2) Airport Zoning Commission Prior to the initial zoning of any airport hazard area under this act the political subdivision or joint airport zoning board which is to adopt the regulations shall appoint a commission to be known as the airport zoning commission to recommend the boundaries of the various zones to be established and the regulations to be adopted therefor Such commission shall make a preliminary report and after notice given in the same manner as is provided in subsection (1) of this section hold public hearings thereon before submitting its final report and the political subdivision or the joint airport zoning board shall not hold its public hearings or take other action until it has received the final report of such commission

Where a planning commission or zoning commission already exists it may be appointed as the airport zoning commission

Section 7 Airport Zoning Requirements

(1) Reasonableness All airport zoning regulations adopted under this act shall be reasonable and none shall impose any requirement or restriction which is not reasonably necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act In determining what regulations it may adopt each political subdivision and joint airport zoning board shall consider among other things the character of the flying operations expected to be conducted at the airport the nature of the terrain within the airport hazard area the character of the neighborhood and the uses to which the property to be zoned is put and adaptable

(2) Nonconforming Uses No airport zoning regulations adopted under this act shall require the removed lowering or other change or alteration of any structure or tree not conforming to the regulations when adopted or amended or otherwise interfere with the continuance of any nonconforming use except as provided in Section 8(3)

Section 8 Permits and Variances

(1) Permits Any airport zoning regulations adopted under this act may require that a permit be obtained before any new structure or use may be constructed or established and before any existing use or structure may be substantially changed or substantially altered but no such permit shall be required to make maintenance repairs to or to replace parts of existing structures which do not enlarge or increase the height of an existing structure In any event however all such regulations shall provide that before any nonconforming structure or tree may be replaced substantially altered or rebuilt allowed to grow higher or replanted a permit must be secured from the commission authorizing such replacement or change No permit shall be granted that would allow the establishment or creation of an airport hazard or permit a nonconforming structure or tree or nonconforming use to be made or become higher or become a greater hazard to air navigation than it was when the applicable regulation was adopted or than it is when the application for a permit is made Except as provided herein all applications for permits shall be granted

(2) Variance Any person desiring to erect any structure or increase the height of any structure or permit the growth of any tree or otherwise use his property in violation of airport zoning regulations adopted under this act may apply to the Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals for a variance from the zoning regulations in question Such variances shall be allowed where a literal application or enforcement of the regulations would result in practical difficulty or unnecessary hardship and the relief granted would not be contrary to the public interest but do substantial justice and be in accordance with the spirit of the regulations and this act Provided That any variance may be allowed subject to any reasonable conditions that the board may deem necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act

(3) Hazard Marking and Lighting In granting any permit or variance under this section the board may if it deems such action advisable to effectuate the purpose of this act and reasonable in the circumstances so condition such permit or variance as to require the owner of the structure or tree in question to permit the political subdivision at its own expense to install operate and maintain thereon such markers and lights as may be necessary to indicate to flyers the presence of an airport hazard

Section 9 Appeals

(1) Any person aggrieved or taxpayers affected by any decision of the commission may appeal to the board

(2) All appeals taken under this section must be taken within a reasonable time as provided by the rules of the board by filing with the commission and with the board a notice of appeal specifying the grounds thereof The commission shall forthwith transmit to the board all the papers constituting the record upon which the action appealed from was taken

(3) An appeal shall stay all proceedings in furtherance of the action appealed from unless the commission certifies to the board after the notice of appeal has been filed with it that by reason of the fact stated in the certificate a stay would in its opinion cause imminent peril to life or property In such cases proceedings shall not be stayed otherwise than by order of the board on notice to the commission and on due cause shown

(4) The board shall fix a reasonable time for the hearing of appeals give public notice and due notice to the parties in interest and decide the same within a reasonable time Upon the hearing any party may appear in person or by attorney

(5) The board may in conformity with the provisions of this act reverse or affirm wholly or partly or modify the order requirement decision or determination appealed from and may make such order requirement decision or determination as ought to be made and to that end shall have all the powers of the commission from which the appeal is taken

Section 10 Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals

(1) All airport zoning regulations adopted under this act shall provide for a Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals to have and exercise the following powers

(a) To hear and decide appeals from any order requirement decisions or determination made by the commission in the enforcement of the airport zoning regulations as provided in Section 9

(b) To hear and decide any special exceptions to the terms of the airport zoning regulations upon which such board may be required to pass under such regulations

(c) To hear and decide specific variances under Section 8(2)

(2) Where a zoning board of appeals or adjustment already exists it may be appointed as the board Otherwise the board shall consist of five members each to be appointed for a term of three years by the authority adopting the regulations and to be removable by the appointing authority for cause upon written charges and after public hearing

3) The concurring vote of a majority of the members of the board shall be sufficient to reverse any order requirement decision or determination of the political subdivision or to decide in favor of the applicant on any matter upon which it is required to pass under the airport zoning regulations or to effect any variation in such regulations

(4) The board shall adopt rules in accordance with the provisions of the ordinance or resolution by which it was created Meetings of the board shall be held at the call of the chairman and at such other times as the board may determine The chairman or in his absence the acting chairman may administer oaths and compel the attendance of witnesses All hearings of the board shall be public The board shall keep minutes of its proceedings showing the vote of each member upon each question or if absent or failing to vote indicating such fact and shall keep records of its examinations and other official actions all of which shall immediately be filed in the office of the board and shall be a public record

Section 11 In the event of conflict between any airport zoning regulations adopted under this act by a political subdivision and other airport zoning regulations adopted under this act by any other political subdivision with reference to the same area the more stringent limitation or requirement shall govern and prevail except as provided in Section 5(2)

Section 12 Judicial Review

(1) Any person aggrieved or taxpayer affected by any decision of a board or any joint airport zoning board which is of the opinion that a decision of a board is illegal may present to the court of common pleas a verified petition setting forth that the decision is illegal in whole or in part and specifying the grounds of the illegality Such petition shall be presented to the court within thirty (30) days after the decision is filed in the office of the board

(2) Upon presentation of such petition the court may allow a writ of certiorari directed to the Board of Adjustment or Board of Appeals to review such decision of the board The allowance of the writ shall not stay proceedings upon the decision appealed from but the court may on application on notice to the board and on due cause shown grant a restraining order

(3) The board shall not be required to return the original papers acted upon by it but it shall be sufficient to return certified or sworn copies thereof or of such portions thereof as may be called for by the writ The return shall concisely set forth such other facts as may be pertinent and material to show the grounds of the decision appealed from and shall be verified

(4) The court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to affirm modify or set aside the decision brought up for review in whole or in part and if need be to order further proceedings by the board The findings of fact of the board if supported by competent evidence shall be accepted by the court as conclusive and no objection to a decision of the board shall be considered by the court unless such objection shall have been urged before the board or if it was not so urged unless there were reasonable grounds for failure to do so

(5) In any case in which airport zoning regulations adopted under this act although generally reasonable are held by a court to interfere with the use or enjoyment of a particular structure or parcel of land to such an extent or to be so onerous in their application to such a structure or parcel of land as to constitute a taking or deprivation of that property in violation of the Constitution of this State or the Constitution of the United States such holding shall not affect the application of such regulations to other structures and parcels of land

Section 13 Enforcement and Remedies In addition to the other remedies the political subdivision adopting zoning regulations under this act may institute in any court of competent jurisdiction an action to prevent restrain correct or abate any violation of this act or of airport zoning regulations adopted under this act or of any order or ruling made in connection with their administration or enforcement and the court shall adjudge to the plaintiff such relief by way of injunction (which may be mandatory) or otherwise as may be proper under all the facts and circumstances of the case in order fully to effectuate the purposes of this act and of the regulations adopted and orders and rulings made pursuant thereto

Section 14 Acquisition of Air Rights In any case in which (1) It is desired to remove lower or otherwise terminate a nonconforming structure or use or (2) the approach protection necessary cannot because of constitutional limitations be provided by airport zoning regulations under this act or (3) it appears advisable that the necessary approach protection be provided by acquisition of property rights rather than by airport zoning regulations the political subdivision within which the property or nonconforming use is located or the political subdivision owning the airport or served by it may acquire by purchase grant or condemnation in the manner provided by the law under which political subdivisions are authorized to acquire real property for public purposes such air right avigation easement or other estate or interest in the property or nonconforming structure or use in question as may be necessary to effectuate the purpose of this act In the case of the purchase of any property or any easement or estate or interest therein or the acquisition of the same by the power of eminent domain the political subdivision making such purchase or exercising such power shall in addition to the damages for the taking injury or destruction of property also pay the cost of the removal and relocation of any structure or any public utility which is required to be moved to a new location

Section 15 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

CONDOLENCES EXTENDED TO HON. RICHARD M. SIMPSON AND DAUGHTERS

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. WADE and MALLERY, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 7, 1945.

The sad news of the death this morning of Mrs. Richard M. Simpson, wife of the Honorable Richard M. Simpson, Congressman representing the 18th Congressional District of this Commonwealth has just been announced.

By reason of his former connection with the General Assembly of this Commonwealth as a member of the House of Representatives during the 1935 and 1937 Session, Congressman Simpson is well known to most of the members of this Senate.

Mrs. Simpson was the former Grace Metz and leaves to survive her two daughters, Susan and Barbara in addition to her husband, therefore be it Resolved, That the Senate of Pennsylvania hereby extends to the Honorable Richard M. Simpson and his daughters its sympathies in this their hour of bereavement and directs the Secretary of the Senate to transmit to them a copy of this resolution.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, March 12, 1945, at 4:00 o'clock p. m., Eastern War Time.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

WEDNESDAY, March 7, 1945

The House met at 11 o'clock a. m.

The SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrove, offered the following prayer:

Dear Lord make us worthy of the trust which Thou hast placed in us. May we have bravery and devotion which befit these times. Magnify in us an understanding of the objective for which we are fighting, that our courage may be a part of Thy divine will, our struggle a share in Thy creative plan for the triumph of good over evil.

Eternal Father, draw near in tender mercy to one of our legislator's families, the Robertson's whose son has been reported killed in action. Send Thy comfort and may they and all others in like grief experience Thy sustaining grace knowing that, "Earth has no sorrow which heaven cannot heal."

May our comradeship with Thee and one another keep us faithful in devotion and courageous in action that Thy kingdom may come and Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Tuesday, March 6, 1945.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Tuesday, March 6, 1945, when, on motion of Mr. JONES, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By MISS BRANCATO, MRS. COYLE and MRS. VARALLO.

RESOLUTION No. 35.

In the House of Representatives, March 6, 1945.

Whereas, Philadelphia has come out of the severest winter in years with very dirty streets.

Whereas, The Mayor, City Council and other public officials of Philadelphia are fully aware of this condition, have daily concerned themselves with the solution of the problem—yet, in some quarters there appears to be a disposition to postpone action until this required work can be done at a reasonable figure.

Whereas, Delay in the elimination of this most unsanitary condition creates a serious health hazard which far outweighs the possible excessive costs of prompt action therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby urge the Mayor, Members of Council and the Director of Public Works of the City of Philadelphia to undertake the cleaning of City streets at once so that potential health hazards existing therein maybe speedily eliminated.

Referred to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

By Mr. LOVETT.

Section 10 Said act is hereby amended by adding thereto a new Article Thirteen to read as follows

Voting by Persons in Actual Military Service

Section 1301 Qualified Electors in Actual Military Service Whenever any qualified elector in actual military service is absent from his place of residence on any day appointed by law for holding a general municipal or primary election within this Commonwealth such elector shall be entitled to exercise the right of suffrage as fully as if he were present at his place of election in the manner prescribed in this act whether at the time of voting such elector shall be within the limits of this Commonwealth or not and regardless of whether such elector is registered or enrolled

Section 1302 Applications for Official Military Ballots Any qualified elector in actual military service may apply at any time before any election for an official military ballot on Form USWBC Form No 1 or any other form supplied by the Federal Government or by post card letter or other writing addressed to the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or the county board of election of the county wherein the voting residence of the elector is located

The application shall contain the following information Residence Length of time a citizen length of residence in Pennsylvania date of birth length of time a resident of voting district voting district party choice in case of primary name rank or grade military address branch of service and serial number When such application is received by the Secretary of the Commonwealth it shall be forwarded to the proper county board of election

The application for a military ballot in any November election may be made or information supplied over the signature of any person who is familiar with the voting qualifications of the military elector as required in the preceding paragraph

The various county boards of election upon receipt of any application shall ascertain from the information on such applications district register or from any other source that such applicant possessed all the qualifications of a qualified elector other than being registered or enrolled

Section 1303 Official Military Ballots Ballots for use by such military electors under the provisions of this act shall be prepared sufficiently in advance by the county boards of election and shall be distributed by such boards as hereinafter provided Such ballots shall be marked "Official Military Ballot" but shall not be numbered and shall otherwise be in substantially the form for ballots required by article ten of this act which form shall be determined and prescribed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth

In cases where there is not time in the opinion of the county boards of election to print on said ballots the names of the various candidates for district county and local offices the ballots shall contain blank spaces only under the titles of such offices in which electors may insert the names of the candidates for whom they desire to vote and in such cases the county boards of election shall furnish to electors lists containing the names of all the candidates who have been regularly nominated under the provision of this act for the use of such electors in preparing their ballots

Section 1304 Envelopes for Official Military Ballots The county boards of election shall provide two additional envelopes for each official military ballot of such size and shape as shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth in order to permit the placing of one within the other and both within the mailing envelope On the smaller of the two envelopes to be enclosed in the mailing envelope shall be printed stamped or endorsed the words "Official Military Ballot" and nothing else On the larger of the two envelopes to be enclosed within the mailing envelope shall be printed the affidavit of the elector together with the jurat of the person in whose presence the ballot is marked and before whom the affidavit is made and the name and address of the county board of election of the proper county. Said affidavit jurat and envelope shall be in the form prescribed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and shall contain among other things a statement of elector's qualifications. The mailing envelope addressed to the elector shall contain the two envelopes the official military ballot lists of candidates when authorized by Section 1303 of this act the uniform instructions in form and substance as prescribed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and nothing else.

Section 1305 Duties of County Boards The county boards of election shall at least thirty-eight days prior to the election deliver or mail official military ballots to all electors whose names and addresses have been ascertained as additional names and addresses of electors are ascertained the board shall deliver or mail official military ballots to such additional electors within forty-eight hours after ascertaining their names and addresses.

Each county board of election shall post in a conspicuous public place at its office a master list arranged alphabetically by election districts setting forth the name residence and the local voting district or ward of every elector to whom an official military ballot has been sent. This posted list shall not contain the elector's military address or military organization. This list shall be known as the "Military File" and shall be posted at least five days before the election day involved and shall also set forth the total number of such ballots prepared for use in such election. Copies of such military files shall be furnished upon request to the county chairman of each political party and political body and shall also be furnished to registration commissions.

Section 1306 Voting by Electors in Actual Military Service At any time after receiving an official military ballot but on or before the day of the election the elector for the purpose of voting may appear before any commissioned or noncommissioned officer not below the rank of sergeant or petty officer third class of the military or naval forces or any member of the Merchant Marine of the United States designated for the purpose by the Administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Such persons are hereby authorized and empowered to administer oaths as required herein. Such elector may also appear before any person of this or any other state or territory of the United States authorized to administer oaths. The elector shall first display the ballot to such person as evidence that the same is unmarked and then shall proceed to mark the ballot with pencil crayon indelible pencil or ink in the presence of such person but in such manner that the person administering the oath is unable to see how the same is marked and then fold the ballot enclose and securely seal the same in the envelope on which is printed stamped or endorsed "Official Military Ballot." This envelope shall then be placed in the second one on which is printed the affidavit of the elector the jurat of the person before whom the elector appears and the address of the elector's county board of election. The elector shall then fill out subscribe and swear to the affidavit printed on such envelope and the jurat shall be subscribed and dated by the person before whom the affidavit was taken. Such envelope shall then be securely sealed and the elector shall send same by mail to said county board of election.

Section 1307 Canvassing of Official Military Ballots The county boards of election upon receipt of such envelopes shall safely keep the same until they meet to canvass official military ballots which canvass shall begin immediately following the official civilian canvass for all primary elections. After the November election the canvass of official military ballots shall begin at ten o'clock A M Eastern Standard Time on the second Friday following the election. No such ballots shall be counted which are received in their offices later than ten o'clock A M Eastern Standard Time of the first Tuesday following the primary election and ten A M Eastern Standard Time of said second Friday following the November election. At such time the members of the return boards or the county boards of election shall in person dispose of official military ballots in the manner hereinafter set forth. The county boards of election may designate a sufficient number of clerks to perform such duties. When it is determined that clerks shall be appointed the total number shall in every case be in multiples of three and each member of a county board of election shall appoint an equal number thereof.

Each candidate for nomination or election shall be entitled to appoint one watcher and each political party or body which has nominated candidates shall be entitled to appoint three watchers. Watchers shall be permitted to be present when the envelope containing official military ballots are opened and then such ballots are counted and recorded.

In disposing of an official military ballot the county return board or the county board of election shall examine the affidavit and jurat and if the jurat bears a date later than the date of the election the envelope shall be set aside unopened.

The board shall then further examine the affidavit and jurat of each envelope not so set aside and shall compare the information thereon with that contained in the military file. If the board is satisfied that the affidavit and jurat are sufficient and that the elector has qualified and the board has utilized the information contained in the military file to verify his right to vote the board shall announce the name of the elector and shall give any person present an opportunity to challenge in like manner and for the same cause except failure to register or enroll as the elector could have been challenged had he presented himself in his own district to vote other than by official military ballot. If no challenges are sustained the board shall open the envelope in such manner as not to destroy the affidavit and jurat printed thereon. All envelopes on which are printed stamped or endorsed the words "Official Military Ballot" shall be placed in one or more depositories at one time and said depository or depositories well shaken and the envelopes mixed before any envelope is taken therefrom. The Board shall then break the seals of such envelopes remove the ballots and record the votes in the same manner as district election officers are required to record votes. Upon completion of the computation of the returns of the county the votes cast upon the official military ballots shall be added to the other votes cast within the county.

Section 1308 Public Records All official military ballots military files applications for such ballots and envelopes on which the jurats and affidavits appear and all information and lists are hereby designated and declared to be public records and shall be safely kept for a period of two years except that no information shall be made public which is expressly forbidden by the War Department because of military security.

Section 11 Cities of the first class and counties are hereby authorized and empowered to appropriate the moneys necessary to carry out the provisions of this amendment.

Section 12 The purpose of this amendment is to enable every qualified elector of this Commonwealth in actual military service as herein defined during the continuance of the present war and for six months thereafter to vote notwithstanding the fact that such elector may be absent on election day from the election district in which he resides whether such person is within or without this Commonwealth or within or without the United States and regardless of whether such person is registered or enrolled as a qualified elector and this amendment shall be liberally construed to effectuate such purpose.

Section 13 The following supplements acts or parts of acts are hereby repealed absolutely.

Supplement No 1 approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and forty-four supplementing the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) known as the "Pennsylvania Election Code".

NOT VOTING—3

Duffy, Fleming, Guthrie,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I am anxious, as you are anxious to facilitate the work of the House. I believe in the institution of unanimous consent bills on Wednesday, but I believe it is also unfair to the Members who stay here on Wednesday that there is no method now of distinguishing between the ones who remain here on the job and the ones who are away, and I am firmly of the opinion that there should be such a distinction, some way of recording the fact that there are the faithful few who stay here and do the business of the House on Wednesday. So I am requesting the Majority Leader and the Chairman of the Rules Committee to devise some means whereby proper credit can be given to the Members who stay here on Wednesday, and there be a record of the fact that those who are not here are not here, because after today I think, if we have a quorum in the House to do business, it is proper to object to having the men who are not here recorded as being here and on the job when you know they are not.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LICHTENWALTER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that I am in hearty accord with the gentleman from Cambria. He and I have on former occasions discussed the matter of absenteeism in the House not only on Wednesday but since the midnight curfew I have noticed that absenteeism after eleven o'clock on Monday nights and on other occasions when we were still doing business in this House. I certainly am promising him my most hearty cooperation in trying to devise some means by which it will be recorded in some manner for the people of Pennsylvania, not only their respective legislative districts, that the faithful few have remained here to care for their duties and represent their people.

INTERROGATION

Mr. LOVETT asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the Majority Floor Leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOVETT. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman mean that they will be rewarded in heaven?

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Well, Mr. Speaker, I would like to answer the gentleman from Westmoreland by saying that there are a number of starless crowns right here in the House and we might be able to at least silverplate a few of them before the end of the session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HEATHERINGTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I agree with the Leader on this side of the House and I agree with the Leader on the other side of the House, but we have had quite a few Wednesdays that have gone by and these same faithful men sat here and passed over bills that we probably stayed over here to try to defeat, and men that wanted the bill had already gone home, and I say to the Leader on the other side and I say to the Leader on this side, why put off until next week what you can do today?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will direct a slow roll call and will ask each Member to answer distinctly and loud enough for the Clerks to hear when his or her name is called.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 38, as follows:

An Act to further amend section four hundred twenty-one of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" broadening the definition of the term "deceased service persons" to include members of any women's organization officially connected with any of the armed forces of the United States and requiring county commissioners of each county to contribute to the funeral expenses of such persons

Section 1 Section four hundred twenty-one of the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 286) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 421 Definitions The term "deceased service persons" as used in this act shall be defined and construed to mean and include

(1) Any deceased person who at the time of his or her death was serving (whether or not in a combat zone) in the Army Navy Marine Corps [or] Coast Guard or any women's organization officially connected therewith during any war in which the United States has been is now or shall hereafter be engaged or who at the time of his or her death was serving in a zone where a campaign or state or condition of war then existed in which the United States was is or shall be a participant The existence of a campaign or state or condition of war and the participation of the United States therein as well as the fact that the deceased person served in a zone where such campaign or state or condition of war existed shall in each case be established by the records of the War or Naval Departments of the Federal Government or

(2) Any deceased person who had so served at any time during his or her life and whose separation from such service was honorable whether by discharge or otherwise or who at the time of his or her death was continuing in such service after the cessation of the war campaign or state or condition of war during or in which he or she served or

(3) Any deceased person who was in active service in the militia of the State of Pennsylvania under and in pursuance of any proclamation issued by the Governor during the Civil War and not duly mustered into the service of the United States and has been honorably discharged or relieved from such service

The term "legal residence" as used in this act shall be construed as synonymous with "domicile" and is hereby defined as actual residence coupled with intention that it shall be permanent or a residence presently fixed with no definite intention of changing it or of returning to a former residence at some future period Legal residence is to be determined by abode of person and his or her intention to abandon his or her former domicile and establish a new one The legal residence of a deceased service person shall be prima facie in the county where he or she made his or her abode at the time of his or her death

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. O'CONNOR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, there are a number of Members of this House absent today by reason of unanimous consent who otherwise would be here and voting today on these bills. Now, is it not unfair that the rule be changed today and have those who are absent recorded as being absent? When they left here the understanding was that they would be recorded as being present. I believe that this procedure for this day is wholly unfair to those who are absent.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what is the process that a Member of this House goes about to secure unanimous consent to be recorded as present when he is not here? If the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. O'Connor, is correct, that that has been a practice, and if it is practice I would like to be acquainted with the procedure by which that is done. I am still a Member of the House, and I think I should be a party to any unanimous consent agreement. I do not think that I as Minority Floor Leader should be bound or will be bound by any unanimous consent agreements that I know nothing about.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state that there is no way for a Member to absent himself from the House except under Rule 71.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LICHTENWALTER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in order to leave the record clear I want to agree with the Minority Leader. I do not know of any unanimous consent agreements regarding Members who are absent from the House on Wednesday. I have had Members on this side of the House come to me when we would be working on the calendar and near the close of the calendar wanting to catch a train at a particular time or something like that and asking whether they may be excused, but up to this time there has been certainly no unanimous agreement to have men recorded on Wednesday who were not present, to my knowledge.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SALUS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, Representative Costa and Representative Smith are both married men. Their wives believe they are in Harrisburg. They are in Harrisburg and were in the building shortly before the roll call, and while I practice law for a living I do not want to get a divorce case in either one of these cases, and I want it made a matter of record.

The SPEAKER. The Chair sees the two gentlemen in the House.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 46, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 676) entitled as amended "An act providing for the burial of certain persons who are have been or shall be soldiers sailors marines or members of the enlisted nurse corps designated as 'deceased service men' defining the term 'deceased service men' authorizing county commissioners to provide markers and burial plots for such deceased service men at the expense of such county in which they shall die or have a legal residence at the time of their death and providing for the burial of widows of soldiers sailors or marines" broadening the definition of the term "deceased service men" to include members of any women's organization officially connected with any of the armed forces of the United States and requiring county commissioners of each county to contribute to the funeral expenses of such persons

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 676) entitled as amended "An act providing for the burial of certain persons who are have been or shall be soldiers sailors marines or members of the enlisted nurse corps designated as 'deceased service men' defining the term 'deceased service men' authorizing county commissioners to provide markers and burial plots for such deceased service men at the expense of such county in which they shall die or have a legal residence at the time of their death and providing for the burial of widows of soldiers sailors or marines" as last amended by section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 32) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted Et Cetera That the term "deceased service man" as used in this act shall be defined and construed to mean and include any soldier sailor marine of members of [the enlisted nurse corps] any women's organization officially connected with any of the armed forces of the United States having a legal residence within any county within this Commonwealth who has died or shall hereafter die anywhere within or without the United States while in the service of the United States in the military naval or other branch of the [combative] forces of said United States during any war in which the United States has been or shall hereafter be engaged or where a state or condition of war has existed or shall hereafter exist in the United States or any foreign country or territory or upon the high seas or of any soldier sailor marine or member of [the enlisted nurse corps] any women's organization officially connected with any of the armed forces of the United States who served or who shall hereafter serve in any such [combative] force of the United States during any war in which the United States has been or shall hereafter be engaged or who has served or shall hereafter serve in any such combative force of the United States where a state or condition of war existed or shall hereafter exist in the United States or any foreign country or territory or upon the high seas whose separation from such active service was honorable whether by discharge or otherwise or any soldier sailor marine or member of [the enlisted nurse corps] any women's organization officially connected with any of the armed forces of the United States whose separation from active service with the military or naval forces of the United States was honorable whether by discharge or otherwise who has died or may hereafter die in any county of this Commonwealth although he or she may not have a legal residence in any county of this Commonwealth Whenever the body of said soldier sailor marine or member of [the enlisted nurse corps] any women's organization officially connected with any of the armed forces of the United States is unclaimed by any relatives or friends and the county commissioners are notified of this condition in writing giving the facts by any organization of veterans and upon investigation the county commissioners shall find such condition to exist or who was in active service in the militia of the State of Pennsylvania under and in pursuance of any proclamation issued by the Governor during the Civil War and not duly mustered into the service of the United States and has been or hereafter shall be honorably discharged or relieved from such service and who shall have a legal residence in any county of this Commonwealth and shall hereafter die either within or without the county of his legal residence.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 238, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fifth day of January one thousand nine hundred thirty-four (P. L. 223) entitled "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War the war between the United States and Spain the China Relief Expedition or in the Philippines or Guam providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who because of death or incapacity cannot personally receive compensation imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General making an appropriation and repealing inconsistent legislation and providing penalties" by further providing for compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the Cuban Occupation the Porto Rican Occupation the Cuban Pacification or who served during a certain time in the Philippines and was awarded a campaign medal and making an appropriation

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the fifth day of January one thousand nine hundred thirty-four (P. L. 223) entitled "An act providing compensation to certain persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States during the World War the war between the United States and Spain the China Relief Expedition or in the Philippines or Guam providing the method of making payment to representatives of persons who because of death or incapacity cannot personally receive compensation imposing certain duties on the Adjutant General making an appropriation and repealing inconsistent legislation and providing penalties" as amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1012) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 2 As used in this act the word "veteran" includes any individual a member of the military or naval forces of the United States during the war between the United States and Spain between the twenty-first day of April one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight and the thirteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight or who served in the China Relief Expedition in the Philippines or Guam between the twenty-first day of April one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight and the fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred and two or who served in the Army of Cuban Occupation between the eighteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred ninety-eight and the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred two or who served in the Army of Porto Rican Occupation between the fourteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred ninety-eight and the tenth day of December one thousand eight hundred ninety-eight or who served in the Philippines between the fourth day of July one thousand nine hundred two and the fifteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen provided a campaign medal was awarded for such service or who served in the Army of Cuban Pacification between the sixth day of October one thousand nine hundred six and the first day of April one thousand nine hundred nine or who served during the World War between the sixth day of April one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and the eleventh day of November one thousand nine hundred and eighteen but does not include (a) any individual at any time during such periods or thereafter separated from such forces under other than honorable conditions (b) any conscientious objector who performed no military duty whatever or refused to wear the uniform or (c) any alien at any time during such periods or thereafter discharged from military or naval forces on account of his alienage

The term "legal resident of this Commonwealth" means any individual who gave the State of Pennsylvania or any specific place in this Commonwealth as his or her place of residence at the time of entering the military or naval forces of the United States for such period without regard to the place of enlistment commission or induction The proof of such residence shall be either the official records on file in the War Department of the United States or such other evidence of bona fide residence as may be deemed sufficient by the Adjutant General of Pennsylvania

Section 2 This act is predicated upon the belief that the people in adopting article nine section sixteen of the Constitution authorizing a loan for the payment of compensation to persons who served in the military or naval forces of the United States intended compensation to be paid for the service of all veterans connected with or arising out of the wars in which the United States had engaged prior to the adoption of said constitutional amendment in the event that it is decided by the courts that the compensation provided for by this amendment cannot be paid out of the Veterans' Compensation Fund then such compensation shall be paid out of the General Fund in the State Treasury

Section 3 The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or as much thereof as may be necessary is for the purpose of paying the compensation to veterans hereby appropriated to the Department of Military Affairs and their dependants provided for by this amendment in the event the same cannot be paid out of the Veterans' Compensation Fund

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 255, as follows:

An Act to reenact and amend clause two of section seven hundred and two and to further amend clause three of section nine hundred and five of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by providing for the furnishing of street lighting by contract with lighting companies upon petition of property owners in villages and for the assessment and collection of the costs and maintenance thereof upon property benefited thereby and for the levy of an annual township tax for street lighting without petition of property owners and validating petitions of property owners contracts entered into between townships and lighting companies taxes levied to pay the costs and maintenance of lighting service and the collection receipt and payment out of the revenues therefrom notwithstanding such petitions were filed contracts entered into and taxes levied collected and paid out under unconstitutional laws validating agreements and understandings between township supervisors and lighting companies to continue lighting service pending the enactment of valid laws regulating and providing for the expenditure of moneys arising from special lighting taxes and authorizing the payment of the costs and expenses of maintaining lighting service until valid laws are enacted to collect charges from property owners benefited thereby out of the road tax fund and the creation and transfer of moneys to a special account for such purposes at any time notwithstanding the prior adoption of the budget and authorizing any light and power company to apply the net rate and to waive the gross rate or to grant discounts and to waive penalties in the same manner as if payments had been made by the township within the time required by the contract and the company's schedules or tariffs

Whereas the Supreme Court in the case of Manheim Twp v Workman 350 Pa 168 held unconstitutional clause two section 386 of the General Township Act of July 14 1917 Pamphlet Laws 840 which authorized contracts for lighting service in villages in townships of the second class and for the levy of a tax upon the assessed value of real estate in such villages to raise revenue to pay for such service The court held that the moneys to be raised to pay for such a service should have been imposed on property according to the foot front rule and

Whereas the reasons given by the court in said opinion are also applicable to existing contract for lighting service entered into under clause II of section 702 of the Second Class Township Law approved May 1, 1933 Pamphlet Laws 103 and to tax levies made pursuant to such provisions and

Whereas certain taxes have been collected under existing law to pay for lighting service the revenues from which are held in the treasuries of such townships and are available for the payment of lighting service rendered subsequent to said decision of the court at the request of citizens and of public authorities if such payments are validated by law and

Whereas public necessity required the continuation of said public utility service until provision could be made by law validating existing contracts entered into in good faith and the taxes levied and collected pursuant to such unconstitutional provisions and the payment out of such tax moneys and for the enactment of laws for the assessment of charges for street lighting service according to the foot front rule therefore

Section 1 Clause two of section seven hundred and two of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" is hereby reenacted and amended to read as follows

Section 702 Supervisors to Exercise Powers The corporate powers of townships of the second class shall be exercised by the township supervisors They shall have power

II Contracts and [Tax Levy] Assessments for Lighting On the petition of the owners of a majority of the lineal feet frontage along any street highway or portion thereof within the township to enter into contract with electric gas or other lighting companies to light and illuminate said streets and highways and other public places in villages with electric light gas light or other illuminant

[The township supervisors shall levy for the maintenance of said lights an annual tax upon all the property including factories and places of business abutting upon the said streets and highways in the district benefited thereby based upon the assessment for county purposes Such taxes shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes The collector of taxes shall receive the same commission as on the road tax] The township supervisors shall annually assess or cause to be assessed the cost and expense of the maintenance of said lights by an equal assessment on all property benefited by such lighting in proportion to the number of feet the same fronts on the street or highway or portion thereof to be lighted The supervisors may provide for an equitable reduction from the frontage of lots at intersections or where from the peculiar or pointed shape of lots an assessment of the full frontage would be inequitable No such [tax shall be levied] assessment shall be made against any farm land but vacant lots between built-up sections whether tilled or untilled shall not be deemed to be farm lands Provided however That the assessment per front foot against vacant lots shall be only twenty-five percentum (25%) of the assessment per foot front against property with improvements thereon All such assessments for street lighting shall be filed with the township tax collector who shall give thirty days written or printed notice that the assessments are due and payable stating the due date to each party assessed either by service on the owner of the property or by mailing such notice to the owner at his last known post office address The tax collector shall be entitled to the same commission for the collection of such assessments as he is entitled to by law for the collection of the township road tax If the assessments or any of them remain unpaid at the expiration of not exceeding ninety days the exact time to be fixed by the township supervisors they shall be placed in the hands of the township solicitor for collection The solicitor shall collect the same together with five percentum (5%) as attorney's commission and interest from the date such assessments were due by a municipal claim filed against the property of the delinquent owner in like manner as municipal claims are by law filed and collected Where an owner has two or more lots against which there is an assessment for the same year all such lots shall be embraced in one claim [The] All assessments when collected shall be paid over to the township treasurer who shall receive [all such taxes collected for lighting the streets and highways] and shall keep the same in a separate account and pay out the same only upon orders signed by the chairman of the township supervisors attested by the secretary The tax collector and the treasurer shall make a report to the auditors of the township annually

Section 2 Clause three of section nine hundred and five of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and forty-one (P. L. 531) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 905 General and Special Tax Levies The board of township supervisors may by resolution levy taxes upon all property and upon all occupations or upon property alone within the township made taxable for township purposes as ascertained by the last adjusted valuation for county purposes for the purposes and at the rate herein-after specified to wit

* * * * *

Three [Upon the receipt of a petition of a majority of the owners of real estate of the township requesting it and] An annual [tax] assessment not exceeding five mills for the purpose of lighting the streets and highways in the manner provided by the general powers of this act and of defraying the cost charges and expenses thereof

Section 3 (a) All petitions by owners of property heretofore filed with township supervisors under the provisions of clause II of section 386 of The General Township Act approved July fourteen one thousand nine hundred seventeen Pamphlet Laws 840 or of clause II of section 702 of The Second Class Township Law approved May first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three Pamphlet Laws 103 and the amendments thereto to enter into contract with electric gas or other lighting companies to illuminate the streets and highways and other public places in villages with electric light gas light or other illuminant all contracts heretofore entered into by township supervisors with such lighting companies pursuant to such petitions all annual taxes heretofore levied by township supervisors based upon the assessment for county purposes for the maintenance of such lights the collection and receipt of such taxes and any payment heretofore made out of the revenues derived therefrom for the maintenance of lighting service under the provisions of said acts are hereby ratified confirmed and validated notwithstanding the unconstitutionality of the provisions of said clause II of section 386 of The General Township Act approved July fourteenth one thousand nine hundred seventeen Pamphlet Laws 840 and clause II of section 702 of The Second Class Township Law approved May first one thousand nine hundred thirty-three Pamphlet Laws 103 under which such petitions were filed contracts entered into and taxes levied collected and paid out

(b) All agreements and understandings heretofore entered into between township supervisors and lighting companies for the furnishing or the continuation as a public necessity of lighting service until such time as valid laws could be enacted and provision made for the collection of charges from property owners for such purposes are hereby ratified confirmed and validated

(c) All tax moneys heretofore collected under the provisions of such unconstitutional laws and now held in separate accounts in the treasury of any township of the second class shall be used and expended by township supervisors only for maintenance of lighting service heretofore or hereafter furnished by a lighting company and the payment out of such moneys for such purposes are hereby ratified confirmed and validated Such tax moneys shall be expended only in and for the district and for the purpose for which levied and collected

(d) In case insufficient revenues are available in the separate accounts of a township for the payment of the maintenance of lighting service heretofore or hereafter furnished by a lighting company until such time as valid laws are enacted to pay for such services and payments are received thereunder then and in such case the township supervisors shall pay any deficiency so existing out of the road tax For such purposes the township supervisors may by resolution make such transfer from one road tax account to another tax account or create a new road tax account and transfer moneys into such new account and appropriate the moneys in such account to pay accrued liabilities for the maintenance of lighting service at any time after the budget for the year has been adopted and the appropriation measures put into effect

(e) Any electric light and power company which shall receive payment under and in accordance with the provisions of this section for service rendered prior to the effective date of this act in any lighting district shall have power to apply the net rate to such payments and to waive the gross rate or to grant discounts on such payments and to waive penalties imposed thereon by the contract heretofore entered into with a township and which is validated by the provisions of this act or by its schedules or tariffs in the same manner and with like effect as if such payments or any of them had been made within the time required by such contract or such schedules or tariffs and the application of such net rate and the waiving of such gross rate or the granting of such discounts and the waiving of such penalties shall not be deemed a violation of the schedule or tariffs of such company on file with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission

(f) Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to apply to proceedings pending in the courts of this Commonwealth

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

BILLS PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 165, was passed over at the request of Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, JR.

There being no objection House Bill No. 51, Printer's No. 166, was passed over at the request of Mr. LICHTENWALTER.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 204, as follows:

An Act to amend sections fourteen and twenty of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 414) entitled "An act relating to vital statistics and to make uniform the law with reference thereto" by changing the conditions under which information or records may be furnished and certified copies of birth certificates shall be issued

Section 1 Sections fourteen and twenty of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 414) entitled "An act relating to vital statistics and to make uniform the law with reference thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 14 Certified Copies

(1) Subject to the requirements of sections 18 19 and 20 the department shall upon request furnish to any applicant a certified copy of any certificate or any part thereof except a certificate of birth in which case a partial certified copy shall be furnished containing only the name date of birth place of birth and the filing date relative to such record In compliance with any court order the department may issue a complete certified copy of any birth certificate and for official purposes upon request of any agency of the United States Government or the Commonwealth it may without charge verify directly to such agency complete information from the original record on forms furnished by the department

(2) Copies of the contents of any certificate on file in department or any part thereof certified by the department shall be considered for all purposes the same as the original subject to the requirements of sections 18 19 and 20

Section 20 Disclosure of Records

(1) The vital statistic records and files of the department are open to inspection subject to the provisions of this act and regulations of the department but it is unlawful for any officer or employee of the State to disclose data contained in vital statistical records except as authorized by this act and by the department

(2) Disclosure of illegitimacy of birth or of information from which it can be ascertained may be made only upon order of a court of competent jurisdiction in a case where such information is necessary for the determination of personal or property rights and then only for such purpose or upon a specific request therefor by the person if of age or by a parent or other lawful representative of the person to whom the record information or certificate relates. When a person of illegitimate birth is living under or using a name different from his or her name originally recorded the department upon satisfactory proof that the facts on the original record apply to such person may issue a certificate substituting the name being used for the name contained in the original record.

(3) The department shall not permit inspection of the records or issue a certified copy of a certificate or part thereof unless it is satisfied that the applicant therefor has a direct interest in the matter recorded and that the information therein contained is necessary for the determination of personal or property rights. Its decision shall be subject however to review by a court under the limitations of this section.

(4) The department may permit the use of data contained in vital statistical records for research purposes only but no identifying use thereof shall be made.

(5) Subject to the provisions of this section the department may direct local registrars to make a return upon the filing of birth death and stillbirth certificates with them of certain data shown thereon to Federal State or municipal agencies. Payment by such agencies for such services may be made to local registrars as the department shall direct.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed the same without amendment.

SENATE MESSAGE

ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. CHUDOFF asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution.

Mr. CHUDOFF offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ROSE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I listened with interest to the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, in which he brought to the attention of this House the fact that the New York legislature had passed a permanent F. E. P. C. bill. Mr. Brown expressed the hope then that this state would not be found wanting. I concur wholeheartedly in the hope expressed by Mr. Brown, but at this time, Mr. Speaker, I wish to direct the attention of the Members of the House to a story which appeared in both the Philadelphia Record and the Philadelphia Inquirer this morning in which it is shown that the Philadelphia Bar Association had yesterday approved the Dumbarton Oaks proposal.

Now, we lawyers are notably slow in taking cognizance of the fact that certain things are occurring in this country, but I see now that the Philadelphia Bar Association has been a little more on its toes than have the Members of this House, for on January 24th of this year the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, and I introduced a resolution memorializing Congress to adopt the Dumbarton Oaks proposal. Unfortunately this resolution has been languishing in committee and has not been brought out on the floor of this House. I had felt at the time this resolution was introduced that it would be brought out speedily. Today, a little after the famous Yalta conference, and on the even of the San Francisco meeting. I feel that the Pennsylvania House of Representatives would not be found wanting again, and I am now expressing the hope that the Members of the Rules Committee will speedily consider this very important resolution, which provides for the memorialization of Congress for the adoption of the Dumbarton Oaks proposal. With the war in the stage it is in today I hope that we in the Pennsylvania House will go on record as calling for the adoption of the peace machinery. Let us now bring that resolution on the floor, and I do not think any Member of this House will oppose it.

SENATE

MONDAY, March 12, 1945.

The Senate met at 4:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.
The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

"Unto Thee we lift our eyes, O Thou that dwellest in the heavens, for from Thee cometh our help." We pray Thee to endow us with the wisdom that is born of the fear of God, for "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." Let that fear, that reverence, that love of the Lord be planted deep in the hearts of the men and women of America, and it will express itself in benevolent attitude and deed to the needy in a world distressed and hungry. Let that love in our hearts, then our homes, our churches and our schools will be nurturing a future citizenry in whose hands our religion and our democracy will be secure.

May our political and military leaders, our legislators and our administrators never lose sight of the fact that righteousness exalteth a nation, and sin is the reproach and the destruction of any people. Thy Word declares this, and the graveyards of the nations prove the truth of it. Keep us, O God, from a repetition of that tragedy.

May the President and his counselors, the Governor and the Lieutenant-Governor and their advisers deliberate with God and follow His leading.

In the name of Him whose rule of life was "Not my will but Thine be done." Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HEYBURN and Mr. SNOWDEN, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Wade asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SCARLETT.

BILLS SIGNED

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (M. Harvey Taylor)

announced that the Acting Chief Clerk having reported that the following bills had passed both houses of the General Assembly and the same being correct, the titles were publicly read as follows:

Senate Bill No. 212, entitled:

An Act defining the lien of taxes imposed and assessed on real property by political subdivisions; and fixing the time from which the lien of such taxes shall date.

Senate Bill No. 228, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and sections one and fourteen of the act approved the twentieth day of April one thousand nine hundred and five (P. L. 239) entitled "An act providing for and defining the rights remedies duties and liabilities of purchasers of real estate at judicial sales and of their grantees heirs and devisees and of the persons then in possession thereof" extending the provisions of said act to purchasers of real estate at tax sales and their grantees heirs and devisees and persons then in possession thereof.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (M. Harvey Taylor) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (John M. Walker) in the Chair.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

The CHAIR cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communications; which were read by the Clerk as follows:

Honorable George F. Holmes
Secretary of the Senate
State Capitol
Harrisburg, Penna.

My dear Mr. Holmes:

This will acknowledge receipt of your kind letter of February 1, 1945 and the enclosed copy of the Resolution adopted by the Senate in regard to the award of the Bronze Star Medal to my son, the late Lieutenant Colonel James P. Barr, Jr.

For myself and for my family, I take this occasion to express our most grateful appreciation to the members of the Senate for this courtesy. We have all been deeply touched by the expression of their sympathy and by the commendatory words of the Resolution.

With many thanks, I remain, Yours sincerely,

JAMES P. BARR.

March 10, 1945.

Senate Chambers
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Attention: Mr. Wm. Holmes

My dear Mr. Holmes:

At a regular meeting of Miners' Hospital of Northern Cambria held March 7, 1945, a resolution was unanimously adopted by the Board of Trustees endorsing Senate Bill No. 307, introduced by Senator John J. Haluska of Cambria County.

It was the opinion of the Board of Trustees of this Institution that the Hospitals as well as the Doctors, are equally responsible for the care of the patients and the contents of the Bill governing both Doctors and Hospital administrators meets with the approval of the Board of Trustees.

Will you kindly make this a part of the Legislative Record and inform the Senate accordingly?

Very sincerely yours,

MINERS' HOSPITAL OF N. CAMBRIA,
Per: William McMullen, President.

CITY OF PITTSBURGH

March 6, 1945.

Hon. John C. Bell, President,
Senate of Pennsylvania,
Harrisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

At a meeting of the Pittsburgh Council held March 5, 1945, Bill No. 2004, Resolution endorsing and requesting the Senate and the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania to enact into law Senate Bill No. 351, relative to the appropriation of 20 million dollars to be allocated to counties, cities, boroughs, towns and townships of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, for the repair and maintenance of streets and roads, was read and adopted.

For your information I enclose a copy of Bill No. 2004.

Yours respectfully,

E. W. LINDSAY, City Clerk.

BILL No. 2004

Whereas, There has been presented to the General Assembly of Pennsylvania Senate Bill No. 351, which provides for an appropriation of $20,000,000 to the Department of Highways to be allocated to counties, cities, boroughs, towns and townships of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the repair and maintenance of streets and roads necessary in connection with the production of war materials and the transportation of farm products to convenient markets; and

Whereas, The passage of this bill will be beneficial to the City of Pittsburgh: Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council and the Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh do hereby endorse and respectfully request the Senate and the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania to enact into law Senate Bill No. 351; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to State Senator Elmer J. Holland, to Hon. Hiram G. Andrews, Minority Leader of the House, to the Presiding Officer of each branch of the Legislature and to the Chairmen of the Committee on Appropriation.

In council March 5, 1945. Read and adopted three times and finally passed.

THOMAS E. KILGALLEN,

Attest: E. W. LINDSAY, Clerk of Council.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The communication will be spread upon the Legislative Journal.

RESOLUTION BY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CHESTER

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate Resolutions passed by the Council of the City of Chester, which was read by the Clerk and then referred by the Chair to the Committee on Municipal Government.

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the existing wage tax levied by the City of Philadelphia is imposed on hundreds of thousands of persons who live in suburban communities outside that City, and

Whereas, most of such non-residents who are thus subject to the tax derive no substantial benefit from the City of Philadelphia, many of them being employed in industries which are equipped with their own police and fire protection, with the result that revenues from the tax so levied inure almost entirely to the advantage of residents of that city, and

Whereas, many of the non-residents of Philadelphia affected by the said tax spend in that city substantial portions of their earnings, thus benefitting that city,

Whereas, the communities in which the non-resident workers so taxed live furnish to such non-residents their police and fire protection, lighting, sewers, streets and other public improvements, governmental structures and all other civic benefits, unaided by any share in the revenues derived from the said tax, and

Whereas, many thousands of residents of Philadelphia who work outside that City are not subjected to such a tax by the communities in which they work although they receive advantages in as great measure from such suburban communities as non-resident workers in Philadelphia receive from that city, and

Whereas, non-residents of Philadelphia have no voice in its government nor in the selection of its elected officers, and the imposition of such a tax on non-residents of the City of Philadelphia is taxation without representation and contrary to one of the foundation stones of our Nation,

Now Therefore Be It Resolved by the Council of the City of Chester, Delaware County, Pennsylvania that the Wage Tax of the City of Philadelphia is, to the extent to which it taxes the earnings of non-residents of that City, contrary to the principles of American representative government and the said Council of the City of Chester do hereby vigorously urge the termination of the said tax insofar as it is levied on non-residents of the City of Philadelphia,

Be It Further Resolved that certified copies of this Resolution be sent to the Governor of Pennsylvania and the representatives of the County of Delaware, and of the other counties adjacent to Philadelphia, in the legislature of the Commonwealth.

Adopted this 20th day of February, 1945.

RALPH F. SWARTS, Mayor:

Attest: VINCENT A. MARRON, City Clerk.

Approved this 20th day of February, 1945.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. JASPAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. JASPAN. In 1943, Governor Edward Martin in an address before a joint session of the Legislature stated he hoped for a quick businesslike session, and in order to attain that end, he sought the co-operation of the Democratic Party. Then the prosecution of the war was uppermost in the minds of all. Co-operation was accorded by the Democrats, but notwithstanding, politics was the theme and played to an advantage by the Republican Party. The Governor joined with his fellow-republicans in making it a quick-political session instead of a quick businesslike session. It was, in short, a do-nothing session, excepting for the politics indulged in by our Governor. Promises and pledges made by the Governor were not kept. His program and platform in 1942 were couched in beautiful English, contained high-sounding phrases, glittering generalities were resorted to, and extravagant promises made. An artist schooled in the game of politics, resorting to every trick, stratagem and artifices, was at work. The artist, Governor Martin, however, was repudiated by the people of Pennsylvania in 1944.

Now again, Governor Martin promises much, but let me warn him now, the Democratic Party will not be fooled again, nor will the electorate. Before I proceed further, I wish to digress for a moment and put a few pointed questions to our Governor:

1. Why, Mr. Governor, have you not filled the vacancy now existing in the Liquor Control Board This office has been vacant for several years.

2. Why, Mr. Governor, have you not filled the vacancy now existing in the Board of Parole? This office has been vacant for almost two years.

3. Why, Mr. Governor, have you not filled the offices of Director and Assistant Director of Service to crippled children? These offices have been vacant for one and one half years.

Mr. Governor, why have you not filled the vacancies existing in the offices of Director of the Bureau of Tuberculosis Control and that of Chief of Division of Sanatoria?

5. Mr. Governor, why has the program at Huntingdon Industrial School been sabotaged? A promise of another school in the distant future is no answer. Immediate relief is required.

6. Mr. Governor, why are the standards as set by the Secretary of Health with respect to services to crippled children so poor that the Federal Government would refuse aid, even if requested?

7. Mr. Governor, what provisions have been made for immediate attention—not attention tomorrow or the day after—for those afflicted with tuberculosis, insanity and rheumatic fever?

Mr. Governor, you are charged with certain responsibilities, and they should be discharged as quickly and as faithfully as possible. You owe an explanation for having failed to make the appointments above referred to. The mentioned offices are highly important and can not function properly and to the best interests of the public unless properly manned. Do you hesitate to make them for fear you might antagonize certain political interests?

Governor Martin, it is quite obvious that the health and welfare of many of our unfortunate and helpless children have been ignored by your Secretary of Health and Welfare.

Welfare and health represent some important phases in our state government. If necessary, I say to you, that every cent of our surplus, which today amounts to $170,000,000, should be spent to help the unfortunate. To save at their expenses is certainly poor and false economy, and the surplus resulting therefrom represents an attempt to build up a political record without any regard for the needs and wants of our people. I say to you, Mr. Governor, spend it today, and not tomorrow. Tomorrow may be too late for many of the unfortunate and helpless.

In January, 1945, you again addressed a joint session of the Legislature and again presented an elaborate program. Mr. Governor, are you sincere? Or will it be a repetition of 1943? Will politics again be the theme song? Thus far, although you again asked for a quick business-like session, nothing has been accomplished. Yes, we have been in session almost ten weeks. There has been talk, talk and more talk, conference following conference, and when bills are finally presented, they reveal tendencies to serve two masters at the same time.

Mr. Governor, why is it necessary to invite the president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturer's Association to many conferences concerning legislation? They very seldom, if ever, have shown a disposition to help or serve the common man. I realize, however, Mr. Governor, that you dare not offend them for you will need them in your next campaign. If you are serious and sincere about your elaborate program, invite all who are interested, and not any one group to the exclusion of others. However, to simply go through the motions without doing anything is ridiculous and child's play. By all means we are representatives of the public, and I take it that public interests should transcend political considerations.

Mr. Governor, may I inquire why the utilities are permitted to run rampant in our state without any regard for the utility user? Do you realize that almost 10,000,000 utility users are being sacrificed for the benefit of the few?

I note, from the papers today, Mr. Governor, you have seen fit to inquire into sharp practices of finance and credit companies. Yes, this is politically wise, particularly in view of the fact the soldiers may be coming home, although it affects very few, and we do not necessarily have to deal with these companies.

Mr. Governor, in view of what you now propose, I challenge you to join with me to make a searching inquiry into the sharp practices of private utilities, affecting not a few, but millions of utility users. People, of necessity, must use utility service. You may, however, treat this at the present time as politically unwise. I do not think so. Do the utilities, Mr. Governor together with the Pennsylvania Manufacturer's Association, represent the power behind the throne?

I see utility groups and other pressure groups here every day attempting to influence legislation. If my memory serves me rightly, I think you said that you were opposed to any pressure from any of these groups. Mr. Governor, I am not so sure you are practicing what you preach. The day of reckoning will come when our people, the common people, will express themselves and be heard.

Mr. Governor, you are politically ambitious, and you are striving hard to appease all elements to gain votes. Ambition, however, is made of sterner stuff. It is my honest belief that you are now setting yourself up as a potential candidate for the office of United States Senator in 1946, with Jay Cooke as your running mate for Governor, and either Mr. Duff or Bill Livengood for Lieutenant-Governor.

Forget Jack Bell for Governor, Mr. Heyburn for United States Senator or our present President Pro Tempore, Mr. Walker, for Lieutenant-Governor; you are on the wrong side of the fence.

Mr. Governor, let me say in closing that you are a fine person, a patriotic citizen during war and peace, and an astute politician.

May I emphasize, however, that you are purely a political Governor and you are falling into serious blunders when you forget the common man. Do not give the appearance of helping him, when in fact you are ignoring him. Do not forget that our government is intended for all. Once for all set aside and dismiss from your mind those who desire special privileges. It is your duty and our duty to act in conformity with public opinion.

Let us be honest with one another, forget politics for the time being, and redeem our pledges as made to our people.

Let's adopt a quotation from Shakespeare: "Suit the actions to the words, and the words to the actions." Anything short of this borders on sheer hypocrisy, sham and pretense.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of information.

Mr. HEYBURN. I would like to inquire on what the gentleman from Philadelphia is speaking.

Mr. JASPAN. I say, in response to the gentleman from Delaware, written words live long after spoken words are dead.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BERGER read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 475, entitled:

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CROWE, from the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish, reported as committed, House Bill No. 631, entitled:

An Act approving, ratifying and enacting into law, the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Compact for the prevention, abatement and control of pollution of the rivers, streams, and waters in the Ohio River drainage basin, and making the State of Pennsylvania a party thereto; creating the "Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission;" providing for the members of such commission from the State of Pennsylvania; and providing for the carrying out of said compact after the conclusion of hostilities of the present war.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. MALLERY, from the Committee on Municipal Government, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 222, entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties interest and costs on unpaid county, city, borough, town, township, school district, poor district, and county institution district taxes with certain exceptions, prohibiting the sale of real property for the nonpayment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, a few moments ago the Chairman of the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish reported from that committee House Bill No.

631. I have been a member of that committee since I came to the Senate, for the 1941 and 1943 sessions. To use the expression of the acting President Pro Tempore, I bled trying to get that bill out of committee. And now it comes over here. We have had a similar bill in the Senate since January 22 and that bill was never considered in the Senate, Senate Bill No. 160, and now without a meeting of the Committee on Forests and Waters, Game and Fish being held this bill comes out of that committee. This bill has to do with the Ohio River Compact. I am not speaking in opposition to this bill but I think on an important bill such as this we should be accorded the courtesy of a committee meeting being held so that the members of the committee might have opportunity of studying the bill.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, before I offer this resolution I just want to make a brief statement.

We have been trying to do everything in our power for the service men and women and I feel we ought to make certain, as much as in our power, that they be represented at the peace conference.

On the strength of that feeling I am offering the following resolution and ask its immediate consideration.

RESOLUTIONS

Mr. RUTH offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, March 12, 1945.

Whereas, The establishing of a permanent peace for the whole world is the earnest prayer of all civilized mankind; and

Whereas, It is the unanimous and just opinion of all conscientious people that those who bore the brunt of the fighting in this war should also have a prominent voice in the making of the peace; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Senate and House of Representatives of the 1945 Session of the Pennsylvania State Legislature, hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States of America, to require that in any peace conference which is to decide the final adjustments for the future world peace, that each branch of the fighting forces of the Nation shall be represented at the said peace conference and each branch of the fighting forces to be appointed by members of said forces, who have been actively engaged at the various fronts and on the seas; and be it further

Resolved, That each member so representing his or her branch of the service shall have full voice and vote in any and all final decisions; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, signed by the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Secretary of State of the United States, the President of the Senate of the United States, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. TROUTMAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 12, 1945.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) That when the Senate adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, March 19, 1945, at four o'clock, p. m.; and when the House of Representatives adjourns this week it reconvene on Monday, March 19, 1945, nine o'clock, p. m.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO THE HONORABLE JOHN H. DENT

Mr. COLEMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, March 12, 1945.

Whereas, Thirty-seven years ago last Saturday, in the City of Johnetta, Armstrong County, Pennsylvania, the fluttering of wings, harbinger of good tidings, caused great consternation and led to the first utterance of the radio phrase, "Faster than a bullet, more powerful than a locomotive—its Superman!"; and

Whereas, Inquiry revealed the reason for all this commotion was the birth of a son to Samuel and Genevieve Dent, and

Whereas, It is reliably reported that his first utterance was "Blub, Blub, Blub," which freely translated meant "The Democratic Party," and

Whereas, At the age of sixteen he entered the United States Marines, spent four years in the service adding luster to the brilliant page of history written by that great army of red-blooded Americans, and

Whereas, he entered politics in Westmoreland County and soon established a firm beach head on the Republican front, and

Whereas, We, on the minority side feel that as our leader the ex-Marine has the situation well in hand, therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Senate extend their congratulations to the Minority Floor Leader, the Honorable John H. Dent, and express the hope that he will be with us for many years to lend his talent and expression for the betterment of humankind.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, as we all know and hope, victory for the United Nations is near. After victory there must come peace. The question of setting up the location for the peace organizations to meet is one that confronts the leaders of the United Nations at this time. We in Pennsylvania are very proud of the city of Philadelphia, the place that it holds in the hearts of all free men all over the world. A campaign has been instigated and promoted by the Philadelphia Record, which has attracted nation-wide approval.

We therefore feel, as members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, it is our duty to express our opinions on the selection of the City of Brotherly Love as the capital of the peace of the future.

I therefore present to the Chair, on behalf of all the members of the Senate from Philadelphia, the following resolution:

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING AUTHORITIES TO SUPPORT LEGISLATION FAVORING PHILADELPHIA AS PEACE SITE

Mr. DENT on behalf of himself and Messrs. DiSilvestro,

Farrell, Jaspan, Kephart, McCreesh, Rosenfeld, Stiefel and Woodward offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 12, 1945.

Whereas, Philadelphia is the birthplace of the Declaration of Independence, "that title-deed of the human race," and

Whereas, the loftiest ideology of Democracy was born on the soil of Pennsylvania and in the City of Brotherly Love, setting into motion dynamic forces that became the torchbearers of mankind and shapers of its destiny, and

Whereas, the eternal principles enunciated in the Declaration of Independence permeate and cement the United Nations in their sacred quest for a lasting peace, and

Whereas, the coming victory of the United Nations in the present global struggle and the ensuing peace will make the Declaration of Independence not only the heritage of America but that of the entire world, and

Whereas, on April 25, 1945 there will be held in San Francisco, California a conference of 39 nations to create a pact to make secure the future peace of the world, and

Whereas, Philadelphia, once the capital of the United States is thus ideologically and historically eminently suited to become the World Capital of Peace, the permanent home of the United Nations and the nerve-center of the world-machinery of peace, and

Whereas, proposals have been put forth advocating Philadelphia as the World Capital of the United Nations and the Independence Hall as the theme-center of a beautifully landscaped mall leading to the Delaware River Bridge Plaza, the latter proposal in complete harmony with the elaborate plans of Independence Hall Association, and

Whereas, aforesaid proposals have received the fervent approval of Pennsylvania's citizenry with such eminent Pennsylvanians in its vanguard as Governor Martin, U. S. Senators Joseph F. Guffey and Francis J. Myers, Congressman Michael J. Bradley and many other members of the Pennsylvania Congressional Delegation, Mayor Bernard Samuel, outstanding civic leaders and representatives of historic, patriotic, fraternal, business and labor organizations, and

Whereas, it is urgent that the aforesaid proposals receive local, national and international attention as a prerequisite to their favorable consideration, Now Therefore Be It

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) that the General Assembly of Pennsylvania join forces with all advocates of the aforementioned proposals by

1. Memorializing the President of the United States, U. S. Secretary of State and the members of the United States Delegation to the forthcoming San Francisco Conference of the United Nations to advocate the establishment of the World Capital of the United Nations on the soil of Pennsylvania and in the City of Brotherly Love

2. Viewing with favor the proposal for the construction of a landscaped mall leading from Independence Hall to Delaware River Bridge Plaza and the suggested grouping of the building of the United Nations Council around our Shrine of Liberty

3. Memorializing the United States Senators from Pennsylvania and the Congressional Delegation from Pennsylvania to initiate and support all Federal Legislation that may be required for the accomplishment of the aforementioned proposals

4. Expressing its readiness to enact measures, if any may be required, that will be conducive to the execution of the plans embodied in the aforementioned proposals.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

BILL INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. BARR read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 504, entitled:

An Act authorizing housing authorities to clear blighted areas and prevent blight; to acquire real property and make it available for redevelopment by private enterprise or by public agencies in accordance with approved redevelopment plans; conferring powers on housing authorities, cities, and other public bodies; making obligations issued by housing authorities in connection with redevelopment projects, legal investments and security for deposits; enabling the advance preparation of projects to provide jobs and stimulate industry when necessary in the period of reconversion; and creating an Advisory Board to housing authorities.

Which was committed to the Committee on State Government.

NOTARIES PUBLIC

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented in writing from His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth, nominations for appointment as Notaries Public.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 39 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the ninth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six (Special Session of 1936—P. L. 13), entitled "An act imposing an emergency State tax for a limited period of time on liquor, as herein defined, sold by the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board; providing for the collection and payment of such tax; and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue and the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board," as previously reenacted and amended by extending the provisions thereof for a further limited period of time go over in its order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 63, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-three (P. L. 118) entitled "An act ceding concurrent jurisdiction of this State over certain lands owned or hereafter acquired by the United States" by further regulating cession of jurisdiction by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the United States of America

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred eighty-three (P. L. 118) entitled "An act ceding concurrent jurisdiction of this State over certain lands owned or hereafter acquired by the United States" as last amended by the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 223) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That the jurisdiction of this State is hereby ceded to the United States of America over all such pieces or parcels of land not exceeding ten acres in any one township ward of city or borough within the limits of this State as have been or shall hereafter be selected and acquired by the United States for the purpose of erecting post offices custom houses or other structures exclusively owned by the general government and used for its purposes. Provided That an accurate description and plan of such lands so acquired verified by the oath of some officer of the general government having knowledge of the facts shall be filed with the Department of Internal Affairs of this State as soon as said United States shall have acquired possession of the same. And provided further That this cession is upon the express condition that the State of Pennsylvania shall so far retain concurrent jurisdiction with the United States in and over all lands acquired or hereafter acquired as aforesaid that all civil and criminal process issued by any court of competent jurisdiction or officers having authority of law to issue such process and all orders made by such court or judicial officers duly empowered to make such orders and necessary to be served upon any person may be executed upon said land and in the buildings that may be erected thereon in the same way and manner as if jurisdiction had not been ceded as aforesaid

All such descriptions and plans heretofore filed with the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall as soon as it may conveniently be done be transferred to the Department of Internal Affairs and the Department of Internal Affairs shall give to the Secretary of the Commonwealth proper receipts for such descriptions and plans

The jurisdiction so ceded to the United States of America is granted upon the express condition that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall retain concurrent jurisdiction with the United States in and over the lands and buildings aforesaid in so far that civil process in all cases and such criminal process as may issued under the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania against anyone charged with crime committed outside said land may be executed thereon in the same manner as if this jurisdiction had not been ceded. The United States shall retain such jurisdiction so long as the said land shall be used for the purposes for which jurisdiction is ceded and no longer

The jurisdiction so ceded to the United States shall be upon the further condition that the Commonwealth reserves to itself and its political subdivisions whatever power of taxation it may constitutionally reserve to levy and collect all taxes now or hereafter imposed by the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions upon property persons and franchises within the boundaries so ceded

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. CHUDOFF, SKALE and DILLON.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 37.

In the House of Representatives, March 7, 1945.

House Bills No. 329 and No. 330 propose to make fundamental changes in the insurance laws of this State. That changes should be made in our insurance laws, is a well recognized fact, yet consideration must be given to the fact that for decades, the insurance policies in this State have been written upon the basis of mortality tables adopted as far back as 1868. These bills would effect changes in the insurance law which would permit the use of more modern mortality tables. At the same time, major changes are made in the basis upon which cash values, surrender charges and other values of insurance policies will be determined. The changes are of the most technical nature. They are vital to millions of policyholders in the State and nation. These changes require much greater study than can be given to them at the present time. Although it is universally recognized that the basis upon which policies of life insurance are issued requires complete modernization, this long delayed task should only be adopted after an exhaustive study; therefore be it Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That a committee of seven on the part of the House of Representatives be appointed to act with a similar committee on the part of the Senate (if the Senate shall appoint such committee) to study the proposed changes in the insurance laws as set forth in House Bill No. 329 and No. 330 and to report its findings and conclusions to the next regular session of the General Assembly with a bill or bills embodying the changes which the committee recommends should be made in the insurance laws of this State.

The committee shall organize immediately after its appointment, and elect a chairman and a secretary from its membership.

The members of the committee shall receive no compensation but shall be reimbursed for any necessary traveling and living expenses actually incurred in the performance of the duties hereby imposed.

An item shall be inserted in the general appropriation bill for the purpose of paying such expenses.

Referred to the Committee on Insurance.

shall be determined" as amended by changing the provisions regarding the maximum compensation of the State Civil Service Commission

With the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Mr. LEVY asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1945.

A son of Pennsylvania has by his courage, resourcefulness and heroism saved the lives of thousands of our fighting men on the Western Front, materially shortened the war and brought credit to his native state.

Lieutenant John Battenfield Mitchell of Pittsburgh, who went overseas last August with an armored engineers battalion, was the man who saved the bridge crossing the Rhine at Remagen and kept open the way for the entry of General Hodges' army into Germany's Ruhr land.

It was he who discovered the cache of explosives planted by the Germans in order to blow up the Ludendorff bridge.

With only a ten minute margin, he disconnected the wires that were intended to detonate the charge and blow the bridge into the Rhine.

He was the man who was not only at the right spot at the right time, but the man who knew what to do in the right way; therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that it extends to Lieutenant Mitchell its congratulations on his outstanding accomplishment and its thanks for the glory that his valorous action has brought to Pennsylvania, and as evidence of its high regard for his conduct and in grateful acknowledgment of the debt due him by the people of Pennsylvania, the Chief Clerk of the House is hereby directed to forward to him a copy of this resolution.

Mr. WATKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill.

RESOLUTION

Messrs. BARRETT and BOIES asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1945.

Pennsylvania has a group of native entertainers, residents of Munhall in Allegheny County, who have, as the Fox Hole Entertainers, spent almost two years of their lives in keeping up the morale of our fighting men.

For eight months this group, consisting of Evan E. Evans, his wife, Helen H. Evans, and their son and daughter, Maryetta and Lester E. Evans has delighted the service men in U. S. O. camp shows in this country, but for fifteen months they have put on shows overseas in England and in the combat zones in France, Belgium, Luxemburg and Germany.

They were first attached to the Third Army and were with General Patton during his drive from Nancy to Metz. A transfer to the First Army of General Hodges early in December of 1944, made them a part of his successful drive to Cologne.

The troupe is not made up of young men and women looking for thrills, but of those who are making sacrifices and endangering their lives in order to do that which they are best equipped to do in order to promote the war effort. Evan E. Evans, the head of the foursome, is the father of Lester E. Evans, and the grandfather of two sons of Lester.

Pennsylvania is not only well represented on foreign fields by fighting men, but by those who keep the fighting men in fighting condition, and to the latter effort, the Evans family has well contributed; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that it extends its thanks to each member of the Evans family making up the troupe that has given so much of time and talent toward keeping high the morale of our fighting men, and in appreciation for what they have done, the Chief Clerk of the House is directed to forward a copy of this resolution to Evan E. Evans somewhere in Europe.

ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. YESTER asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Messrs. YESTER, HUNTER, MORAN and HEATHER-INGTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1945.

On Wednesday, February 28th, at the Mercy Hospital in Scranton, a son was born to the Honorable William Shaffer and his wife, the former Betty Jenkins.

The son's name is William David, and he is the culmination of a romance that began here in Harrisburg when his wife, who as Miss Jenkins, was then employed at the capitol, met the good looking member from Pittsburgh; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives that it extend to the Honorable William Shaffer and his wife, its hearty congratulations upon the birth of their son and its best wishes for their happiness in their new possession; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution shall be transmitted by the Chief Clerk of this House to the mother of William David Shaffer.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Shaffer. The House will be in order. This is a trying moment.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to report to my colleagues that I came through the ordeal in fairly decent shape. I have had about twelve days now to recuperate, so I beg to inform you that everything is well with me. I certainly thank the gentlemen.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The gentleman is out of order, boasting about himself. What we want to hear is about the boy and the mother.

Mr. SHAFFER. Mr. Speaker, it seems to my mind that I have heard the gentleman from Delaware pat himself on the back once in awhile. I hope I am not out of order.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. It is was for the same reason I would thank you.

Mr. SHAFFER. But I do desire to say in closing that my wife is very well and we have much to be thankful for. The boy looks just like me, a nice big dimple on the chin—but maybe I am out of order. Thank you very much for this opportunity to express my heartfelt thanks for the expression of the House.

HOUSE BILL No. 1 MADE A SPECIAL ORDER

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 165, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and certain sections and to add certain new sections to the act approved the twenty-second day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1937) entitled "An act to preserve and improve the purity of the waters of the Commonwealth for the protection of public health animal and aquatic life and for industrial consumption and recreation empowering and directing the creation of indebtedness or the issuing of non-debt revenue bonds by political subdivisions to provide works to abate pollution providing protection of water supply providing for the jurisdiction of courts magistrates aldermen and justices of the peace in the enforcement thereof and providing additional remedies for abating pollution of waters imposing certain penalties and repealing certain acts" by changing the definitions of "establishment" and "industrial waste" by changing requirement of notice to discontinue discharges of industrial waste by changing penalties for violations and requiring prosecutions to be instituted or approved by the Attorney General by prohibiting the discharge of silt into any waters of the Commonwealth and regulating the discharge of acid mine drainage into waters thereof authorizing the Sanitary Water Board to establish standards of purity and to determine the time for compliance with the provisions of the act in certain cases and requiring the Board's approval of plans for opening reopening or extending coal mines by authorizing the acquisition by purchase or condemnation or otherwise by the Sanitary Water Board of easements or rights of ways and the acquisition or construction of pipe conduits drains or tunnels and providing for the payment of a portion of the costs thereof by the Commonwealth in certain cases

The motion was agreed to.

ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. ROOT asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a bill.

CONDOLENCE RESOLUTION

Messrs. GARDNER, KENNEDY, TURBETT, SLOAN, REGAN, BARTON and FOOR asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1945.

The members of the House of Representatives were saddened by the news of the death of Mrs. Richard M.

Simpson, wife of the Honorable Richard M. Simpson, Congressman representing the eighteenth Congressional District of this Commonwealth.

Congressman Simpson is well known by most members of the General Assembly as he was a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives during the two legislative terms of 1935 and 1937.

Mrs. Simpson was the former Grace Metz and leaves to survive her, two daughters, Susan and Barbara, in addition to her husband: therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives hereby extends to the Honorable Richard M. Simpson and his daughters, its sympathy in this their hour of bereavement, and directs the chief clerk of the House to transmit to them a copy of this resolution.

PHILADELPHIA—UNITED NATIONS PEACE ORGANIZATION HEADQUARTERS

Messrs. CORRIGAN and SALUS asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution and for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1945.

Whereas, With the approach of military victory, there arises the greater question of establishing a just and lasting peace, and

Whereas, United Nations have been holding conferences relative to the setting up of a world wide organization dedicated to the proposition that all free peoples are seeking a permanent peace, and

Whereas, The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has within its confines, the City of Brotherly Love, the metropolis of Philadelphia, known all over the world as the cradle of liberty, a symbol to all freedom loving peoples all over the world, and

Whereas, The selection of the City of Philadelphia as the Capitol City of the world wide peace organization would be appropriate and fitting, therefore be it

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully petition the President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt, to forward to the representatives of the United States the formal proposal that the birthplace of freedom, the City of Philadelphia be selected as a permanent headquarters for the United Nations Peace Organization, be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the President of the United States, Congress of the United States, and the Mayor of Philadelphia.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LEVY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I take great pleasure in advising the Chair that we tonight have the pleasure of welcoming back to the House a Member of the House who has been in Philadelphia for twelve weeks confined to a hospital there. I refer to our own Ed Duffy, of Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, for calling the attention of the Chair to the presence of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Duffy. The Chair being of the same build himself does not see how he could miss Mr. Duffy; he realizes now that the bright light shining on that side of the House was the Duffy smile.

THE SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, for presiding.

Section 8 This act shall take effect immediately upon final enactment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO SUSPEND HOUSE RULE 75

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 75 of the House be suspended for the specific purpose of calling the roll and recording the votes of Members on House Bill No. 1, Printer's No. 165, by party affiliation. The names of the House Members of the majority party shall be first called in their alphabetical order, after which the names of the House Members of the minority party shall be called in their alphabetical order. The name of the Speaker shall be called last.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am offering this motion for the following reasons: early in the session the sponsor of House Bill No. 1, the Chairman of the Committee on Revision of Rules, was one of those who proclaimed the doctrine of party responsibility. The intimidation from the sponsor of this bill was that it was the province of the side of the House upon which he was seated to legislate, and that theirs was the responsibility for legislation, and that our function on this side of the House was to sit still, look pretty and say as little as possible. Therefore by means of this motion, if passed, the gentleman will be able, I hope, to demonstrate party responsibility and show to the world that he has 105 votes on his side of the House for House Bill No. 1, and that he does not need any Democratic assistance.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, without assuming the province of the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, it is for strictly procedural reasons and on the basis of the adherence to the rules of this House that I am going to ask the Members of the House to vote against the motion. The procedure of the House has been definitely established, it is orderly, and all of the purposes for which the gentleman introduced the motion can well be accomplished by the record that will be established on the vote according to the rules as they are at the present time. I ask all the Members of the House to vote against the motion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would ask when the discussion is over that there be a division.

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I will recall the early days of the session when a question was raised on the floor of this House dealing with the rule of this House. May I call attention of the Minority Floor Leader to the fact that we were discussing how many Members of the majority and how many Members of the minority should make up the House Committees. It was suggested that since the Republican majority consisted of 109 Members, and the Democratic minority 99 Members, that the membership of the committees should be fifty-fifty according to party affiliation.

It was then, as Chairman of the Committee on Revision of Rules, that I advanced the thought that since the Republican party did in fact have a majority of the votes in this House, to it particularly fell the duty to exercise the privilege of advancing the program of this administration; that it was not practical to have an even division on the committees by party affiliation, but that the Republican majority should be given the majority membership on each and every Committee.

That has been demonstrated since the early days of this session; it has been demonstrated with regard to this very measure. As a result of the measure's having been introduced and having been sponsored by the present administration, the matter has been reported to the floor of this House by a Committee representing the majority membership of this House. It was proposed to have manned our committees in the way we did, and it was proper that we should submit by that medium this measure for the consideration of this House this evening not by the Republicans but by the membership of the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, Jr. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, there are a number of Members on this side of the House firmly in favor of the bill, and so firmly converted that they will be a little tired of listening to the debate, and they have asked me could they be excused. If the gentleman is sure that he has one hundred five members that will pass this bill, I will tell them they do not have to stay unless they want to.

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, Jr. Mr. Speaker, may I respond to the gentleman in this way, if he wants to assume the responsibility for the minority party in the House of Representatives in the matter of leaving before the consideration of this measure and final action on it, all I can say is that it is his responsibility and not mine.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

A division having been called for, ninety-three Members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred four in the negative, less than a majority having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, Jr. Mr. Speaker, I recall Tuesday House Bill No. 1 was before this House on second reading, and at that time a debate ensued last one hour and forty minutes. I feel that every feature of this measure was discussed at length pro and con, and it is not my intention tonight to go into the merits of the measure.

Despite the fact, however, that we had this prolonged discussion on what naturally seems to be, and I believe is, a most important piece of legislation, some doubt seems to remain in the minds of the membership as to certain features of this bill. I think that they have been influenced by communications from their respective districts which have been misleading, and which indicate that the people in those districts are not familiar with the provisions of this bill. Therefore may I say very briefly what has been said time and time again, but which I repeat once more for emphasis, House Bill No. 1 does not deal with sewage. The passage of House Bill No. 1 will not make any borough or municipality in this Commonwealth install sewage treatment planned. House Bill No. 1 accomplishes the elimination of silt exemption in the Pure Streams Law of 1937, and it provides for measures where possible and where practical, that acid mine drainage may be diverted from a clean area to a polluted area.

I think if the membership will read this bill as I have, and I have studied it for a great many hours, they will agree that in no way does the measure deal with sewage, and I want the Members to consider that and despite the admonitions from their home districts, believe that it deals with silt only, and as I have stated, the diversion of acid mine drainage where practical.

I urge the membership of this House to vote "aye" on this bill, feeling confident that when it is finally enacted it will make the state of Pennsylvania a leader in this nation in the cause of conservationism.

The amendments, as I said on Tuesday, were the result of conferences which have been held for the past fifteen months with groups representing the conservation interests of Pennsylvania, statewide groups, industry, the various governmental agencies of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the sponsor, and I feel that they make it fair, I feel they make it enforceable, and I believe that the administration of Pennsylvania will see to it that it has provisions, as all other divisions of the act of 1937, will henceforth be enforced for the good of the people of this State.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Modell. Will the gentleman yield?

The Chair is informed that there was an agreement before the bill came up for discussion to recognize the Minority Floor Leader. The Chair apologizes for being lax in that respect.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Modell.

Mr. MODELL. Mr. Speaker, I regret exceedingly that the amendments that I introduced last Tuesday to House Bill No. 1 were not accepted by the Members of this House, because if they had been we would have before us this evening House Bill No. 1 in its original form, which is the bill that has been clamored for by citizens of this state. It is the bill which really would give the people that which they have been seeking for many years.

However, I do want to say that nevertheless, speaking for myself at least, I will vote for this bill because it is some improvement over the Pure Streams Act of 1937. It will not give all that we seek, but it is some improvement, and for that reason I will vote for this bill.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, in reference to this particular bill, we from Philadelphia have sat by and paid attention to what both sides of the House thought was for the best interest of all the people, but we can not allow this bill to become a law, as I know it will become tonight so far as this House is concerned, without Philadelphia taking part in it.

I have here with me a four page letter from the Mayor of Philadelphia. This letter has no reference to politics in the slightest degree, but it shows the activity of the present administration in it's endeavor to have a proper law passed in Pennsylvania, and also the anxiety of the citizens of Philadelphia to be part and parcel of this program. If I can have the unanimous consent of the House that this letter be made a part of the record tonight and to be printed in the Journal with the same force and effect as if I burdened them listening to these four pages, I will just hand the letter up, and ask unanimous consent to allow me that privilege. Otherwise I will have to read the letter.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, to extend his remarks on the record. Is there objection? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

EXTENSION OF REMARKS OF MR. SALUS

Bernard Samuel, Mayor

City of Philadelphia, Office of the Mayor

Philadelphia 7, Pa., March 9, 1945.

Samuel W. Salus, Esq.
213 South Broad Street
Philadelphia 7

Dear Sam:

I give you herewith a resume of the action taken by the City of Philadelphia in my administration looking toward the objective of preventing the coal companies in the upper reaches of the Schuylkill River Valley from discharging untreated colliery wash water into the drainage basin.

In 1896 suit was brought in C. P. No. 1, Miscellaneous Docket No. 246, to restrain among others the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co., and the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company from discharging colliery wash water charged with coal silt and mine dirt into the drainage basin of the Schuylkill River. This suit was prosecuted over a period of ten years and finally resulted in a consent decree being entered by Chief Justice Mitchell on June 25, 1907 requiring these coal companies and several others that no longer exist to create certain sedimentation facilities so as to materially reduce the solid content of the colliery wash water discharged into the streams. These facilities were created, but in the course of time, between 1907 and 1943, they had ceased to function in most cases because of the failure on the part of the coal companies to maintain them in operating condition.

The silting up of the Fairmount Basin resulting in material interference with the intake pipes of our water pumping station had reached such a stage in the Spring of 1943 that I directed the then City Solicitor, Robert McCay Green, to take steps to reopen the 1896 case in the Supreme Court. A petition was filed for a rule to show cause why the original defendants and some twenty-two other defendants should not be required to treat their colliery wash water before discharging it into the drainage basin of the Schuylkill River. The Court allowed the rule, but after hearing argument, decided it would be improper to bring twenty-two new defendants into the case without giving them due process of law by the filing of a bill in equity and affording them the opportunity to answer in accordance with the equity rules. The City Solicitor thereupon filed a new bill in equity together with a petition to the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania asking that court to take original jurisdiction of the suit. This petition was refused and the Supreme Court held that the bill could not be filed against the defendants having offices in Philadelphia County and the defendants not having offices in Philadelphia County could be joined on petition to the court.

Pursuant to the advisory decree of the Supreme Court, a bill in equity was prepared by the City Solicitor's office and filed on October 29, 1943 on behalf of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and the City of Philadelphia against twenty-four operating collieries in the drainage basin of the Schuylkill River to restrain them from maintaining a public nuisance by polluting the Schuylkill River by silt and coal dirt resulting in endangering the health of Philadelphia residents, impeding navigation of the river, threatening the water supply plant including auxiliary pumping stations and reservoirs and fire protection systems, as well as manufacturing plants which are engaged in the war effort. The bill of complaint averred that the Schuylkill River is a stream with its head water in Schuylkill and Carbon Counties, Pennsylvania, from which it flows to the City and County of Philadelphia through Berks and Montgomery Counties. The bill relates in detail the water supply plants constructed by the City, together with the auxiliary pumping stations and reservoirs which the City operates and maintains for the storage of water, as well as the pipes and conduits which have been constructed, the filter beds and the high pressure fire protection system which uses millions of gallons of water. The bill further relates that two million inhabitants of the City of Philadelphia as well as numerous manufacturing and industrial plants which are engaged in manufacturing material and equipment essential for the prosecution of the war, are supplied water from the Schuylkill River.

The bill prays that the defendants be enjoined and restrained from maintaining coal silt and culm dumps, or depositing coal dirt, coal silt or mile refuse on or near the banks of the Schuylkill River or its tributaries without making adequate provision by coffer dams, rip rap retaining walls or other facilities to prevent their erosion into the water of the drainage basin of the Schuylkill River, and to further restrain them from permitting coal washery water to be discharged into the Schuylkill River or its tributaries without taking all known adequate means to first remove the coal dirt, silt, coal refuse or other pollution from all of the water discharged from the breakers or washeries operated by them.

Preliminary objections were filed by all of the defendants who were served with the bill on December 18, 1943, which objections were overruled in March of 1944 by the Court of Common Pleas. By the same order the Court required the defendants to file answers on the merits. Subsequently counsel representing the defendants took up with the Attorney General and the City Solicitor the possibilities of agreeing to a consent decree accompanied by a stipulation that each company defendant would take the steps necessary to eliminate as much of the solid matter in the run-off water as was possible in view of the present development of the art of silt elimination.

Numerous meetings were held and engineering investigations made by both the City and State governments with respect to this proposition and a tentative agreement was reached between the City's representatives and the coal operators, which, however, was not satisfactory to the Attorney General. This resulted in a breakdown of the negotiations in the Fall of 1944, at which time the City Solicitor advised counsel for the coal companies to file their answers on the merits. I am advised that these answers have been filed in the form of cross bills, all of them alleging new matter, which requires the City Solicitor's office to file answers to the new matter alleged. The City Solicitor's office is now engaged in cooperating with the Attorney General's office in the preparation of the answers to the new matter alleged in the answers to the City's bill in equity.

My administration has spared no effort to compel the coal operators to desist from discharging silt-laden water into the Schuylkill River basin. We intend to press this suit now pending to trial as soon as the procedural difficulties are cleared up and I have reason to believe that our efforts will be successful.

Very truly yours,

BERNARD SAMUEL.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I welcome the opportunity to support House Bill No. 1. It builds in a slight way upon a foundation which I am one of those who helped to lay. It is a projection of the enactment of the General Assembly in 1937. This bill can be the beginning of great and wonderful things for Pennsylvania, or it can be the most lamentable failure to which a General Assembly ever subscribed.

We must look beyond the objectives that are stated in House Bill No. 1 because what we are doing in part is recreating; recreating an empire for Pennsylvania before its natural resources were depleted, when it had its forests and its streams, its abundant supplies of water and was one of the most supremely blessed areas of equal extent in the whole world. We have lost a part of that heritage, we have lost our forests and we have lost that one essential factor in industrial development, water. Unless legislation such as House Bill No. 1 is enacted, and unless those to whom the enforcement of this act is committed, keep faith with the people of Pennsylvania, our ports are a declining factor in our commercial and industrial life, and we are seeing the beginning of the end of our supremacy in manufacture, and we are seeing the continuance of that woeful waste represented by our desolate hills where mighty forests once grew and where they can grow again.

So House Bill No. 1 with all its imperfections, with all of its weakness—and it is imperfect and it is weak—is weak and imperfect as Pennsylvania has been weak and imperfect in permitting the conditions ever to exist which we seek to remedy.

Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1 recognizes another fact, that Pennsylvania does not belong to us; we hold it in trust; in trust for our children and their children, and because we hold it in trust it is a solemn obligation to see that that heritage is no further depleted.

As to the mechanics of this bill, Members of the House are voting greater discretion into the keeping of the Sanitary Water Board than we ever by legislation have imposed upon any similar body. We are declaring, making a declaration of intent; we want something done, something we would like to have done, something that experts tell us can be done, but something that will not be done unless we have first, a Governor who wants it done, second, a Sanitary Water Board that knows how to do it, and third, a chief law officer of the Commonwealth whose intent it is to see that our intention made the declared policy of the Commonwealth.

I personally am willing to take the Sanitary Water

Board on faith, the Governor of the Commonwealth on faith and the Attorney General on faith, because under the circumstances there is nothing else that we can do. We cannot write purity formulas that will cover all the waters of this Commonwealth, and so because I have no other alternative I am accepting House Bill No. 1 with the hope that the ideals that you cherish and the ideals that we would serve upon this side of the House will be realized through the faithful performance of the public servants into whose keeping we commend this great and magnificent mission.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I am in agreement with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Modell, when he says it is a pity that House Bill No. 1, the Brunner Bill, did not come to the floor of this House the way it was originally introduced. I say, Mr. Speaker, it is a pity, because added to the bill is the one crippling amendment, the amendment giving to the Sanitary Water Board, in the words of the Minority Floor Leader, wider discretionary powers, the same Sanitary Water Board that your own Majority Leader admitted on second reading of this bill to be the board that was lax and tender to the polluters of the streams in Pennsylvania before this bill had been discussed.

And doesn't it seem strange that with all the public appeal, that with all the spirit back of this particular measure that the Governor of the Commonwealth and the Attorney General of the Commonwealth saw fit to acquiesce in these amendments, when they knew that the very bureau, the very Sanitary Water Board which they had by innuendoes told to the people of Pennsylvania was lax, told to the people of Pennsylvania was not strictly doing its duty, which give more power, wider power of discretion over the purity of streams in Pennsylvania.

I cannot agree with the Minority Floor Leader tonight; I cannot agree that this may be the beginning of a very good thing, and in his words, can become a lamentable failure. I say to you members tonight, this is a lamentable failure as a beginning. The amendments to House Bill No. 1 give back to a discredited bureau in the Commonwealth wider discretionary powers after the Majority Floor Leader and other Republican spokesmen told us a few days ago that they had been lax in the past but that a miracle had happened and they are going to change their tune.

Mr. Speaker, I want to be consistent; I believe in majority rule. That is why in the opening days of this session I voted against the motion by my own Minority Floor Leader that committees should be placed on a fifty-fifty basis when the Republican party is in a majority in the House. And I was not afraid, nor could I be intimidated to vote in the negative against my own Minority Leader, so I say to you tonight that I am going to continue to be consistent.

I am going to vote for this amended bill, because I believe in majority rule, but let me warn the Governor and let me warn the Attorney General that we are going to look in advance and we are going to look in the future and find if they follow up this bill with the acceptance of a ten million dollar grant to dredge the Schuylkill River like was stated by a Republican Member on the floor of this House, and accept Federal funds in this case, then I know we are taking a step forward, but I say to you tonight that it is only because I believe in majority rule that I am going to place the responsibility for the enforcement of this act on a discredited Sanitary Water Board, and we will watch is pretty closely.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I had not intended to get into this debate but in order to keep the record clear, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Levy, in his remarks stated that during the past week, I believe when this bill was on second reading, I had spoken of the laxity of the Sanitary Water Board in the past in carrying out the provisions of the act which allows them to crack down, if you please, upon the municipalities and the various polluters of the streams in Pennsylvania.

At that time I did say that there was a great change in the attitude of the Sanitary Water Board, and I believe that the Minority Leader has definitely described the reason. I think that any program to be successful in cleaning the streams of Pennsylvania will depend upon the Chief Executive and the Attorney General as the enforcement officer of this Commonwealth under the provisions of this bill as amended.

The LaRue Act, as it is known, of 1937, gave great power to the Board. We found that they did not act, and also we found during another administration the Sanitary Water Board failed properly to act in many instances, when many of the people of Pennsylvania, and I know many individuals, including myself, felt that they should have acted in order to clean the streams of Pennsylvania.

Certainly I am in hearty agreement with the statement made by the Minority Leader, that the success of this program in the years to come and the success of any program of this type depends entirely upon the Chief Executive of this Commonwealth and now upon the Attorney General as the chief enforcement officer. But I am confident that the people of Pennsylvania are convinced of the sincerity of the Governor of the Commonwealth and of the sincerity of the Attorney General in their efforts to clean up the streams of this Commonwealth. I believe beyond the shadow of doubt these men are sincere in trying to do a job which is long overdue in cleaning up the waters of Pennsylvania for the welfare of the citizens and also for the economic progress which we hope we will have in Pennsylvania in the post war era.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, on two or three different occasions I have addressed the House on all of the aspects as I saw them, of this great problem. I think the other day I answered the criticism that has been made tonight, and I do not intend to take your time again tonight to review the whole history of this program in reference to cleaning up our streams.

I have sat and listened with a great amount of interest to the lodge of sorrow which seems to be meeting on the other side of the House. To me this is a great occasion, for not only is before us this bill dealing with silt in the rivers of Pennsylvania, and that in which some of us are more particularly interested at the moment, in the Schuylkill River, but also tonight the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, and myself have introduced a bill providing for the erection of a desilting dam in the Schuylkill River, the purchase of the necessary properties and for the dredging of the Schuylkill River.

That program is not going to be possible—it would be futile to spend our money, it would be futile to make an appropriation of the size necessary to do this work if we did not have on the statute books House Bill No. 1.

We are going down to Washington in a very few weeks, and we are going to ask the Federal Authorities, in pursuance of the report of the Army Engineers, to appropriate ten million dollars for the dredging of the Schuylkill River from Norristown down to the Delaware River, and it would be futile for us to do so, because the Army Engineers said that unless you stop the introduction of further silt into the Schuylkill River there is no use of the Federal Government spending this money for the dredging of the lower Schuylkill.

So tonight I feel that our people, like the people of the world are turning their faces to the future and not looking back on the past, trying to see what we can do in the future and turning our face towards the future of Pennsylvania, and as Mr. Lichtenwalter said, toward a better economic situation in Pennsylvania, toward a better health situation in Pennsylvania for the usefulness and enjoyment of these great streams of ours by taking from them one of the sources that is clogging them up, and is making them so that they are not useful for industry, for water supply, for recreation or for a multiplicity of uses.

So tonight instead of being in that lodge of sorrow, let us be happy, let us be jovial, as there is something happening here that is a milestone in the course of the history of Pennsylvania, that means something to the people, that when we take this first step in House Bill No. 1, we are doing the very things that you know and I know should be done, and if it is not done you Members will be back here in two years time, when the Legislature again convenes, and there will be some vacancies. I am confident that those who do not go forward with this program will create the vacancies in the membership of this House and in the administration of our government.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, in order to keep the record clear, all I have heard here tonight was about the Schuylkill River in the eastern part of the state. We in the western part of the state are wondering what is going to happen to us. In looking over this bill I find that it takes care of the silt and acid drainage from mines, but it does not take care of the sewage in any part of the state, and a lot of our people in the western part of the state are under the impression that we do not have any bills or any laws on the statute books cleaning up the streams.

I am speaking now in order to clarify the matter. Our newspapers have been attempting to clarify it. It seems that in this House Bill No. 1 the Governor is behind it, the Attorney General is behind it and practically everybody else is behind it. They want clean streams but they already have laws on the statute books that if they really were sincere they could have started to clean these streams years ago. I don't know what is holding us back. Is there another election coming on? I believe that may be it. It may be that some of us want to use this as a campaign issue. It is a good campaign measure.

However, I don't want to dwell upon that but in order to clear up the record I want to read to you from a letter received from the Legislative Reference Bureau concerning what House Bill No. 1 does not do:

In reference to your request for information as to whether or not existing law prohibits the pollution of waters of Allegheny County by sewage or industrial waste, your attention is directed to the act of 1937, P. L. 1937, House Bill No. 1 is a proposed amendment to only a few sections of this act.

Relative to pollution by sewage of waters of the Commonwealth, section 201 of the act of 1937 prohibits the discharge of sewage of any kind into such waters, except as provided in sections 202-207. These later sections require municipal or private sewage disposal to be under the supervision and regulation of the Department of Health and have extensive provisions for the control of such sewage disposal. It further provides that in all cases where sewage disposal is permitted under the act that such sewage be so treated as not to cause pollution of the waters into which it is discharged. In addition there are penal and enforcement provisions.

Relative to pollution by industrial waste, section 301 of said act prohibits the discharge of industrial waste into waters of the Commonwealth, except as provided in sections 302-310. These provisions are similar to the provisions relating to sewage pollution i. e., where industrial waste is discharged into waters of the Commonwealth it must be done so under the supervision and regulation of the Department of Health, and in all cases where such discharges are made, the matter must be so treated as not to cause pollution rendering the water harmful to human, animal or aquatic life, or to the use of such water for domestic or industrial water supply purposes.

There is one exception to the provisions of the act relating to industrial waste. Section 310 excepts from the provisions of the act acid mine drainage and silt until such time as practical means for the removal of the polluting properties of such drainage shall become known.

In addition to the above provisions, the act also forbids absolutely petty pollution of all kinds.

To summarize, the provisions of the act of 1937 prohibit the pollution of the waters of Allegheny County by sewage or industrial waste and any sewage or industrial waste discharged into waters of Allegheny County must be done under the supervision and regulation of the Department of Health and in such a manner as not to cause pollution.

Mr. Speaker, very briefly, I could use a very strong word but I do not want to in regard to a lot of things that were said on the floor of this House, and rather than use that word at this time I am going to refer to the older Members and call their attention to a statement I made in the hall of the House in the session of 1935 when I asked for an appropriation for the purpose of cutting a hole in the hall of the House at that end down there so that the farmers could back their wagons in and haul the stuff out.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I should like to extend to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Brunner, an invitation in the not too distant future to come to my house for a drink—of clean water.

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, Jr. Mr. Speaker, may I say this to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen, if he comes too soon to our house he will have to drink the spring water which we have to buy to drink.

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 321, entitled:

An Act to amend the title and section one of the act approved the eleventh day of May, one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine (P. L. 289), entitled "An act providing for the payment to the county or counties of the moneys or bonus which any foreign railway corporation is required to pay into the State Treasury for the right to pass through said county or counties, and by which payment such foreign railway corporation is relieved from local taxation," by eliminating the reference to relief from local taxation.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. DEPUY. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 561, entitled:

An Act to repeal section four of the special act approved the sixth day of February, one thousand eight hundred sixty-eight (P. L. 124), entitled "An act to increase the number of terms of the several courts in the twenty-third judicial district, and to expedite the business therein," insofar as it relates to plaintiffs entering judgments by default for want of affidavits of defense, in the county of Berks.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMENDED

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 507, entitled:

An Act to further amend section eight hundred two of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 103), entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" regulating contracts and purchases by townships and prescribing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 315, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 208), entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words 'drug' and 'poison' and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity" discontinuing the registration of assistant pharmacists and providing that persons who have served as registered assistant pharmacists for ten years or longer shall be qualified for examination as pharmacists.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 24, entitled:

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Banking for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 726, entitled:

An Act prohibiting any city borough or town from imposing a tax on wages.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be re-committed to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, under ordinary circumstances I would be very hesitant in rising to oppose the recommitment of a bill to a committee for the purpose of a public hearing. Tonight I have listened to a communication from the honorable members of the City Council of the city of Philadelphia, requesting that a public hearing be held on this particular bill. I also understand that His Honor, the Mayor of Philadelphia, has requested that a public hearing be given to this bill, and the bill is to be moved back to committee for that purpose. I am particularly distressed, in view of the fact that requests have come from the responsible authorities in Philadelphia, but I still rise to oppose the motion to recommit this bill for a public hearing.

Mr. Speaker, any public hearing of this particular bill would necessarily involve a discussion in the hearing of the merits of the bill. Such a hearing would involve debate, and those who are advocates of the bill would represent but an infinitesimal fraction of the people of Pennsylvania who are interested in the passing of this bill. And by the same token those opposed to the bill and appearing at the hearing would represent only a very small fraction of those people who, whether they know it now or not, have a vital long term interest in the implications of the act which this bill seeks to repeal. Furthermore, such a hearing would be heard only by approximately ten per cent of the Members of this House.

Anything that I may say here tonight in opposing the recommitment of this bill is certainly not intended as a discourtesy to His Honor, the Mayor of Philadelphia, or to the honorable members of the City Council of Philadelphia. I certainly have no desire to offer to any indignities to their office. Neither do I have any wish to leave the idea that I believe that the Committee which would conduct a public hearing would not so conduct that hearing as to be in all particulars fair and give adequate opportunity to both the advocates and the opponents of the bill. Nevertheless, I am sure that the Members of this House, if they will refer to the past history of bills that have been recommitted to committees for the purpose of a public hearing, will find that the death rate of such bills was exceedingly high.

This particular bill, Mr. Speaker, deals with matters that have an extremely wide interest. They have a wide interest not only among the people of Pennsylvania but particularly among that segment of the people of Pennsylvania who work for wages. There is a great and wide interest also in the far reaching possibilities of this bill to all those who are charged with the management of municipalities throughout the state of Pennsylvania, and it is my belief that this bill deserves and should have a wider hearing, with greater latitude than can possibly be had before any committee of this House.

I believe that those who are opposed to the final passage of this bill should be very well represented and their viewpoints thoroughly expressed by their very able and duly elected representatives of this House and I believe that there should be an opportunity given to all of those who are Members of this House and who represent people in other municipalities who sooner or later may be affected by the act that this bill seeks to repeal, and they should be heard and should have an opportunity to declare their position as representatives of their constituents on this bill.

Mr. Speaker, I am aware, of course, that I must confine my remarks tonight to the question before the House and I, of course, cannot debate the merits of this bill, but there are many here who if they would study the bill would certainly never agree that this bill should go back into committee where there is somewhat of a jam from the basis of past performance, and where there is a possibility of a lingering death.

If this bill has no merit then let it die in the open. If it has merit let us stand up here in this House and hold a public hearing on this bill, let us do our full and complete duty to all the people of Pennsylvania and to all of those in Pennsylvania who are charged with the management of their political subdivisions and who must certainly know the implications of the act, as they have been expressed already in the obnoxious, vicious and immoral wage tax levied in Philadelphia today.

I say again, Mr. Speaker, that I oppose the recommitting of this bill to committee for the purpose of a public hearing, and I urge the members to support the idea that this bill be given the kind of public hearing it richly deserves, that it be permitted to remain on the calendar on third reading and final passage and that it be fully and thoroughly debated.

Mr. FINNERTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise for the purpose of opposing this motion to recommit this bill back to the Committee on Municipal Corporations. This bill has less than fifteen lines in it and any child in the third grade can understand it. I feel that to send this bill back to a committee which has reported it out here unanimously without a vote against it would be a reflection on their intelligence. Mr. Speaker, many of the people of this great state have been asking me, and I presume they have been asking you the same question, they do not understand where a bill is sent to a committee and the committee reports it unanimously, with only fifteen lines, why it should have to be sent back to that committee again to be again studied, when they have already reported it out here unanimously.

We hear a lot these days about democracy. I do not consider it is democracy when twenty men will decide the vote on any bill instead of bringing it before the two hundred nine elected members of this House to decide whether it is a good law or it is a bad law. I appeal to the membership of this House to vote against this motion and keep this bill on third reading for tomorrow. After you hear the debate then use your own good intelligence to decide whether it is a good law or a bad law and, Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. Speaker, there has been some talk here about the merits of this bill being enacted on this floor. That is all right for the Members of this House but the people who are vitally interested in the application for a hearing are the enforcing officers of Philadelphia. They, of course, would have no right to appear on the floor of this House and give their version of what this particular bill does or does not do. This bill was passed out of the committee when the Members from Philadelphia on the Republican side were not present. The bill was rushed out of committee, I think about three minutes after the committee convened, without an opportunity by the Members from Philadelphia to make a request that the officials from Philadelphia be heard.

Now, Mr. Speaker, let us see what this bill does. In the first place, it takes away home rule from every borough, every town and every city of the state of Pennsylvania. It repeals the act of 1932, known as the Sterling Act, which gave the city of Philadelphia and the city of Pittsburgh the right to raise taxes along certain lines if in the opinion of the taxing body there they feel that the taxes should be raised. This would close up all possibility of the city of Pittsburgh, for instance, levying any tax except those taxes which are constitutional and placed by the State of Pennsylvania. In other words, their taxing board would be bound hand and foot, and if this bill is passed our city council would also be bound hand and foot. The result of the passage of this bill would be the taking of $24,000,000 away from the city of Philadelphia in taxes, not all wage taxes but various kinds of taxes, and the result thereof would be the bankruptcy of the city of Philadelphia. Now, the city of Philadelphia has about one-fifth of the population of Pennsylvania. The city of Philadelphia is a great, industrial city and it is making great plans and specifications and various programs for post war activities, and if you are to bankrupt the city of Philadelphia you make it impossible for Philadelphia to work in conjunction with the Federal government and the state government in taking care of the post war efforts.

Now, Mr. Speaker, who is asking to have this bill passed? In the first place, before I go to that, is it in any way unfair for a municipality like Philadelphia, the third largest city in the union, to ask for a public hearing through its authorized public officials and given such courtesy by this Legislature? Every Legislature allows most any organization, no matter how small, an opportunity so that it may be heard and express its views. If we have this hearing I do not believe the gentleman from Delaware or any other man in this House will impugn the integrity of that committee that already passed this bill out without hearing. I think they would listen to both sides of the question and I think they will honestly and conscientiously decide whether or not this bill should be reported back to this House.

So far as the wage tax is concerned, Mr. Speaker, the big majority of all the people in Philadelphia are not opposed to it. There is some complaint from some of the outside communities surrounding Philadelphia who are not anxious to pay this wage tax because of the fact that they do not reside in Philadelphia. But, Mr. Speaker, it is not the working class in these outside surrounding counties or communities because there are very few of the residents of the two or three counties outside of the city of Philadelphia who are really of the working group. They are the group of people that you would put into the class of capitalists and they have to pay quite a little sum on this wage tax. They have their offices, their businesses, their factories and they earn their livelihood right in the city of Philadelphia. They move out to the Main Line, they belong to the aristocracy, and while they earn their livelihood in the city of Philadelphia, they do not want to contribute towards support of the city.

There are some few working people that object to the paying of this tax surely. All people object to the paying of taxes if they can't afford it. It is also common sense that no municipality, no city, and God knows, no government can exist without taxes. We are in an era where taxes must be borne by all the people, and it is just as much a patriotic duty of the people who work in Philadelphia and those who live there and those who come from the surrounding communities to help out in the paying of these taxes, to help and try not to bankrupt the city and interfere with its post war efforts.

There is nothing being requested here except a hearing and, Mr. Speaker, this is not just an application to decide, one way or the other, what should become of this bill. It is an application to be heard, and the right to be heard and the right to speak and the right to express ones views which is one of the fundamental American privileges and I cannot see why anyone in this House would object to this hearing. If their bill is as meritorious as those who are for this bill think it is, they should have no fear.

But beyond that, Mr. Speaker, there is and has been and is here tonight a lobby composed of New York gamblers who want this bill passed. We have had some experience in Philadelphia quite recently when they placed a tax of twenty dollars each on all pin ball machines and other gambling devices so that the police of Philadelphia might have a record of what these New York gamblers have on their chest and what they are planning to do. They are here as lobbyists backing this bill, and if you want the city of Philadelphia and the state of Pennsylvania just littered with pin ball machines and other gambling machines whereby no license fee may be obtained, or where no record is kept of who are the owners of the machines and throw the state and city wide open to a bunch of New York gamblers, then you ought to pass this bill.

I do not want to go into the merits of this bill any further because I am only interested now in seeing that this House votes that the officials in Philadelphia be given an opportunity to be heard on this measure and to present their views as to why this bill should not become effective and become a law.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. Speaker, there was something of a temptation during the remarks of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, to rise and raise a point of order.

Mr. Salus delved deeply in his remarks into the merits for this bill. I have tried to refrain from doing that but I presume that if the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, has decided that this is a good time to debate the merits of the bill, I had better follow his lead and also debate the merits of the bill.

Mr. Salus has raised the question and argued it very ably, that Philadelphia has a definite interest in the defeat of this bill. He has told us a great deal about what would happen to the city of Philadelphia if it was deprived of the wage tax, and he has otherwise made a case which I think will in the minds of all the Members here support my former contention that the administrators in Philadelphia of the Philadelphia wage tax do not need any public hearing on this bill; they have ample and able advocates here to state the position of the city of Philadelphia before the two hundred eight Members of this House and in the hearing of the ten million people of Pennsylvania.

So far as the Philadelphia wage tax is concerned, it found shelter under the act that it is proposed to repeal in this bill now before us, and under the shelter of that act and under the terms of the Philadelphia wage tax it is possible for the city of Philadelphia to stick its fingers, not into the pockets but into the pay envelopes of everybody who works for wages. It is possible for the city of Philadelphia to make thousands upon thousands upon thousands of residents of Philadelphia, of Montgomery and Delaware Counties, of Chester County, of Bucks County, Berks County, and even Lancaster County, to pay into the coffers of the city of Philadelphia one week's wages out of every year's earnings. That is the sort of thing that I called immoral in my former remarks. I do not propose to go any farther in debating the merits of this bill. I know it to be wrong to do so. I want to abide by the rules of this House and to speak solely on the question before the House.

The gentleman from Philadelphia has raised another point and made a very sorrowful plea that if we pass this bill and Philadelphia is deprived of its opportunity to collect the taxes, then a flock of New York gangsters are going to come in there and they are going to run Pennsylvania wide open, make it a den of iniquity in which to live. Ladies and gentlemen of this House, does that make common sense? Do we not have here in this Hall the opportunity to control, and it may be, destroy the racketeers that the Senator alleges are sitting in this House tonight, waiting for an opportunity to stick their talons in the flesh of Pennsylvanians. Nonsense, Mr. Speaker, nonsense.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, so we might be clear on the nature of this motion, the gentleman from Philadelphia has referred to the fact that there are only fifteen lines in this bill, so that it does not require a public hearing. A bill with fifteen lines may pack as much dynamite as a bill with fifteen pages. I do not think we are here now to take a stand for or against the wage tax, and this bill does not apply wholly to the city of Philadelphia. The bill applies as well to the city of Pittsburgh in Allegheny County. A bill has been introduced here tonight making the provisions of the Sterling Act available to the City of Pittsburgh as they now are in effect in the city of Philadelphia. But the question is, Mr. Speaker, solely and simply to have a public hearing to determine the effect of such a measure on a city that has had the experience, and I think it would be proper for the Members of this House to accede to the request of those officials who have had the experience in a matter so important as to go to the very foundations and their roots of the financial structure of a city as great as that of Philadelphia, and that, Mr. Speaker, is the purpose of a public hearing so that we may have the benefit of the views of all persons interested.

Mr. CULLEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. James, early tonight gave this House the reason why this bill be not recommitted.

The question before this body tonight is this, the people of Philadelphia versus the administration of Philadelphia. The people of Philadelphia do not want this bill recommitted. You vote here tonight either for the administration of Philadelphia or for the people. If you vote to recommit then you vote for the administration, and if you vote not to recommit then you vote for the people, and I say to you sincerely vote for the people of Philadelphia and do not recommit the bill.

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I again have refrained from entering into this debate. I think in all fairness the request of the Mayor of the city of Philadelphia should be recognized. Very recently the Mayor of Pittsburgh was in Harrisburg and consulted with the Governor, together with five of the city councilmen of Pittsburgh and explained to him their financial difficulty and the shortage of funds to operate the city government in Pittsburgh.

I was called and asked if I could arrange a meeting with the Minority Leader, with the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee and some of the Representatives from Pittsburgh to hear the plea of the Mayor of the city of Pittsburgh and the councilmen from that city as to their legislative program. That request was granted. The meeting was held in the caucus room. The Press was present at that meeting. They at that time told us that they would present their program, and of course, one of their requests was that they have the provisions of the Sterling Act explained to them. As I say, that hearing was granted and they at that time requested, after their program was introduced to help the financial situation in Pittsburgh that we then extend to them a public hearing, a time for a public hearing, so that the people of Pittsburgh and the officials of the city of Pittsburgh who were interested in their plight financially in that city might come to Harrisburg and be heard.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Finnerty and Mr. Skale.

Messrs. Levy, Rose and Modell asked for a verification of the roll.

REASONS FOR VOTING

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I am voting to recommend House Bill No. 726 because the city of Philadelphia has requested the Committee on Municipal Corporation for a prompt public hearing.

My vote does not indicate that I am against the merit or objectives of the measure. That will be indicated when the bill is before the House for final passage. I am not in favor of any wage tax on non-residents and will support any measure to prevent such an unfair levy.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 727, entitled:

An Act providing for the issuance of certified copies of birth death and marriage certificates by the proper city and county officers in cities of the first class to disabled war veterans and their dependents in death and compensation cases free of charge.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 771, entitled:

An Act to further amend clause (b) section six of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 198) entitled "An act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof" by conferring the authority to issue writs of habeas corpus in desertion and nonsupport cases.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 780, entitled:

An Act to further amend section six of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 198) entitled "An act to establish a county court for the county of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof" by extending jurisdiction to cases for support of illegitimate children where the putative father admits parentage.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 856, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-one (P. L. 8) entitled "An act to fix the fees to be allowed the district attorney in counties of the second class" by changing the fees to be allowed the said district attorney.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 77, entitled:

An Act regulating the issuance of execution on judgments confessed on written instruments, and providing that when such judgments are entered in one county, defenses may be made to the same by petitions to open, filed in any other county, where execution thereon is issued or made.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 25, entitled:

An Act to amend the first paragraph of section one of the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. L. 521), entitled as amended "An act to further amend the title to reenact and further amend paragraph (e) of section one and to further amend section thirty-nine of the act approved the twentieth day of June one thousand nine hundred nineteen (P. SENATE

TUESDAY, March 13, 1945.

The Senate met at 3:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern War Time.
The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (M. Harvey Taylor)
in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Edwin S. Wallace, D. D., offered the following prayer.

Lord God Almighty, Almighty Ruler, in the heavens and in the earth, grant that Thy majesty and Thy glory do not blind us to the fact of Thy Fatherhood. Thou art the author of our lives; Thou hast provided for and sustained us through the years. Give us faith to believe that Thy loving care will never be withdrawn from us as long as we seek Thee and bring our lives into harmony with Thy law.

In all their deliberations and enactments may Thy servants in this body remind Thee of God's unchangeable law of righteousness. Thou demandeth righteousness and nothing else from all of us. Any compromise with righteousness can have but one issue—failure. Keep us, we pray Thee, from the folly of trying to be wise in our own conceit, that we may be wise toward God.

Now, Heavenly Father, we give Thee thanks for one whom Thou has called to be with Thyself, our brother George F. Holmes, the Secretary of this body, whom Thou hast called out of life. We give Thee thanks for his years of useful service and we pray that Thy comforting presence may be with those who remain his loved ones.

We pray for peace, Oh God, peace among the nations of the world, peace and good will among the varied people and interests in our own land, for without peace, no happiness, no prosperity.

Give wisdom to all in authority, courage to all who are fighting for the right, and loyalty to all of us.

In the name of Christ, Leader of us all. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HEYBURN and Mr. JONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

MEMORIALIZING GEORGE F. HOLMES, EX-SECRETARY OF SENATE

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, it is with deep regret that I rise at this time. Tomorrow a group of the members of this body will make an unhappy journey to Philadelphia, to pay their last respects to George F. Holmes, former Secretary of the Senate, who died last Friday.

Today it is fitting and proper that we in this Chamber pay our last respects to his memory now.

EXTENDING THE SYMPATHY OF THE SENATE TO THE DAUGHTER OF GEORGE F. HOLMES

Messrs. KEPHART and COLEMAN offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, March 13, 1945.

George F. Holmes was born in Jersey City in 1870. His wife, Mrs. Adelaide S. Holmes died in March, 1938. Mr. Holmes left surviving him a daughter, Mrs. Frances Welzel.

While living in Jersey City he worked as a reporter on a newspaper, but at the age of 21 he moved to Cincinnati where he made his first venture on a political career as Secretary of the Board of Public Service.

Subsequently he came to Philadelphia where he returned to newspaper work, spending 7 years as a political reporter and legislative correspondent for the Philadelphia North American. This brought him into contact with legislative work and he was known to have always reported the proceedings and the activities of the General Assembly with a fairness and impartiality that impressed both newspaper men and the public.

He soon entered politics in Philadelphia when as an independent Republican he was elected a county commissioner on the Washington Party ticket in 1912. He served in such office for four successive terms, and for two of such terms he was Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners of Philadelphia County. In such offices he became known as a competent and efficient public servant and administrator.

In 1932 he was appointed by Auditor General Charles A. Waters to head a new County Auditing Bureau.

In 1933 the State Treasurer, Charles A. Waters, appointed Mr. Holmes a special agent, a post he held until his resignation in 1937.

In 1939 the Senate of Pennsylvania honored him by electing him as Secretary of the State Senate. He was re-elected in 1941 and in 1943, and served in that office until he died on Friday, March 9, 1945.

The legislators and the public learned to know him as a faithful and able public servant. He distinguished himself in all the offices he held, and as Secretary of the Senate, his application to duty and the faithful discharge of his responsibilities won him the commendation of this august body.

Therefore, be it resolved that we extend to his daughter our deepest and most profound sympathy, knowing that she knows, as we in the Senate, and all his friends know, that George F. Holmes' life was of great service to his fellow man.

And, Be It Further Resolved that a copy of this resolution, duly engrossed and attested, be forwarded to his daughter, Mrs. Frances Welzel.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I second the resolution. On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, last Wednesday George F. Holmes moved in and about the Senate Chamber. The shocking news of his sudden passing last Friday left me with a catch in my throat and I find it difficult to say exactly how I feel.

The sudden passing of Mr. Holmes impresses upon all of us the uncertainty of life; today we may be at the very zenith of our health and strength, and tomorrow be summoned to that eternity that lies beyond.

Last Wednesday, at the request of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, I had occasion to talk with George Holmes, to straighten out a matter in which the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, had a personal interest, and Mr. Holmes handled it in his usual courteous fashion.

About six weeks ago, while reading a paper as I awaited the convening of the Senate, an item in the Harrisburg Patriot caught my eye; it was captioned "Senate Secretary Dies", and it was an account of the death of the Secretary of the United States Senate. I read it with some apprehension and then called the attention of George Holmes to it and said while I was sorry for the gentleman from Washington, I was delighted to see that Mr. Holmes was still with us.

Little did he realize then, Mr. President, that his name was right on the list of the great Roll Call to join that innumerable caravan going whence there is no return. But when George Holmes enters the Celestial Senate, presided over by the Greatest Lawmaker of all, I am sure that he will be assigned his proper place, because the Great Scorer records not how you win or lose but how you play the game.

George F. Holmes was the sort of Republican who did not think that extending small courtesies to the Minority, and proper consideration, imperiled the position of his party, and so today I know that I am expressing the sentiment of the Minority when I express to the bereaved daughter our sincerest sympathy in her hour of affliction.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

By rising vote the resolution was unanimously adopted.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have here a resolution which comes out of an investigation by a sub-committee of the Joint State Government Commission, relative to practice in the Orphans' Courts of Allegheny County.

Back in 1917 the various Orphans' Court acts, such as the Partition Act, the Orphan's Court Act, the Revised Price Act, the Wills Act, the Register of Wills Act, the Intestate Act and the Fiduciaries Act, were all revised and recodified by a commission of high class, reputable and very learned lawyers from the Pennsylvania Bar, headed by the distinguished former Attorney General, George E. Alter, of Allegheny County.

Since that time, Mr. President, there have been a large number of amendments to the various fiduciary codes, one of the bills, for example, having something like 150 amendments since it was codified by the Commission of 1917.

I am presenting a resolution, Mr. President, requesting the Joint State Government Commission, during the interim between the 1945 and the 1947 Sessions, to study, revise and recodify the various fiduciary acts.

This has been suggested by various Judges of the Orphans' Court throughout the Commonwealth and their suggestion is that perhaps not so much revision as recodification is necessary.

The resolution is a resolution directed to the Senate, asking that the Joint State Government Commission be authorized to make this study and report back to the 1947 Session of the General Assembly.

JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION TO REVISE AND PREPARE FOR REENACTMENT DECEDENTS' ESTATE LAWS OF THE COMMONWEALTH

Mr. WALKER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 13, 1945.

Whereas, No revision of the decedents' estate laws of the Commonwealth has been made since 1917, but numberless amendments have been made and laws on subjects related thereto have been enacted, which render the true status of these laws uncertain and difficult of administration; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby requested, during the interim between the present session of the General Assembly and the regular biennial session of 1947, to study, revise and prepare for reenactment the Orphans' Court Partition Act, the Orphans' Court Act, the Revised Price Act, the Wills Act, the Register of Wills Act, the Intestate Act and the Fiduciaries Act, together with all of their supplements and amendments and all separate laws that should properly be incorporated therein, and to present them for the consideration of the General Assembly at its next session.

[(3) Shares the par value of which has been paid in part by a single cash payment at the time of their issuance and in part by accrual of earnings on such shares. Such shares shall be known as prepaid shares]

(4) Shares the par value of which is to be paid in part by payments in cash at such times and in such amounts as the holder may from time to time elect and in part by accrual of earnings on such shares. Such shares shall be known as optional payment shares. Holders of optional payment shares shall not be subject to fines for failure to make payments on account of such shares

(5) Shares to be known as direct reduction loan shares and to be issued only to borrowers contracting to repay mortgage loans by a direct reduction method. The dues or periodical installments on such shares shall fluctuate as required by the loan contract and such shares shall not participate in the profits of the association nor be subject to losses

Section 607 Share Certificates Issuance and Preservation
A Every association shall furnish to each holder of record of an installment optional payment or direct reduction loan share a copy of the by-laws of the association and of all amendments thereto and a receipt by pass book or otherwise for all dues premiums fines or other payments made to the association by him but an association shall not be required to issue a share certificate to any holder of an installment optional payment or direct reduction loan share

B Every association shall furnish to each holder of record of [a prepaid or] a full-paid share a copy of the by-laws of the association and of all amendments thereto and a share certificate upon which the name of the association shall be printed and which shall state

(1) That the association is incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth

(2) The name of the registered holder of the shares represented thereby

(3) The date of issuance of the shares

(4) The type of shares which the certificate represents [that is whether they are prepaid or full-paid]

(5) The number of shares which the certificate represents

(6) The par value of each share represented [and in the case of prepaid shares the amount of the single cash payment made on each share by the shareholder]

C Every share certificate shall be signed by the president or vice-president and the secretary or treasurer or by such officers as the by-laws may provide and sealed with the corporate seal. In case any officer who has signed any share certificate shall have ceased to be such officer because of death resignation or otherwise before the certificate is issued it may be issued with the same effect as if the officer had not ceased to be such at the date of its issue

D Share certificates shall bear printed consecutive numbers and shall be issued from a bound share certificate book containing a stub for each certificate. Each stub shall bear the same number as the share certificate which was attached to it the name and address of the person in whose name the share certificate is issued the number of shares represented by the certificate and the date of the issuance of the certificate. The president or vice-president and the secretary or treasurer or such officers as the by-laws provide shall certify on each stub that the information contained thereon is correct and in accordance with the share certificate bearing the same number

E Upon the withdrawal of [prepaid or] full-paid shares and upon payment by the association the certificate representing such shares shall be surrendered to the association and preserved by it indefinitely. Likewise any share certificate for which the association has issued a substitute certificate or which for any other reason has been surrendered to the association shall be preserved by it indefinitely

Section 612 Voluntary Withdrawals
A Any shareholder may upon giving written notice to the association withdraw any shares whether full-paid [prepaid] optional payment or installment which are not pledged to the association as security for a mortgage loan granted by it. The secretary or other officer designated by the by-laws of the association shall endorse on the written notice of an intention to withdraw required by this section the date of its receipt by the association and shall record such notice and the date of its receipt by the association in a book to be used solely for the recording of notices of withdrawals

B The association shall pay to a shareholder who has withdrawn his shares the [amount paid to the association by him on] participation value of such shares less all fines or other indebtedness or charges due by him [plus such proportion of the earnings of the association or such rate of dividends as may be prescribed by the by-laws of the association minus the losses properly apportionable to such shares but the board of directors may by general rule or regulation and with the prior written consent of the department change such proportion of earnings or such rate of dividends] and in the case of installment shares less the withdrawal fee authorized by the by-laws. The amount payable to a shareholder who has withdrawn his shares shall be known as the withdrawal value of his shares

[(C Any shareholder may upon giving written notice to the association withdraw amounts paid or credited on account of optional payment shares or non-serial installment shares without reducing the number of shares owned by him. The term withdrawn shares in any other section of this act shall be construed to include such a withdrawal of amounts paid or credited on account of optional payment shares or non-serial installment shares)]

D Except as herein otherwise specifically provided a withdrawal shall become effective thirty days after presentation by the shareholder of the written notice required by this section at a meeting of the association or if not presented by him at a meeting then thirty days after the first meeting of the association held after the receipt of such notice at the place of business of the association

Section 613 Involuntary Withdrawal of [Prepaid] Optional Payment or Installment Shares
A An association may at or before maturity compel withdrawal of [prepaid] optional payment or installment shares which are not pledged to the association as security for mortgage loans granted by it but it shall not have the power to compel withdrawal of [any prepaid] any optional payment or any installment share as the case may be unless it shall have on hand sufficient funds to pay such withdrawals immediately and until [all prepaid] all optional payment or all installment shares respectively issued prior to the date of issuance of such share have first been voluntarily or involuntarily withdrawn. In the case of installment shares issued in series such compulsory withdrawal shall be pro rata among the shares of the same series

[(B The association shall pay on each prepaid share thus involuntarily withdrawn the full amount of the cash payment made thereon by the shareholder at the time of the issuance of such share plus the full portion of the accumulated earnings of such association properly apportionable to such share)]

C The association shall pay on each installment or optional payment share thus involuntarily withdrawn the full amount of the dues paid thereon by the shareholder plus the full portion of the accumulated earnings of such association [properly apportionable] credited to such share

Section 615 Matured Shares
A [An installment optional payment or prepaid share] Installment shares shall be declared matured by the board of directors of an association whenever [in the case of a prepaid share the cash payment made thereon by the shareholder at the time of the issuance of such share or in the case of an installment or optional payment share] the dues paid thereon by the shareholder plus the [full portion of the accumulated earnings of such association properly apportionable to such prepaid optional payment or installment share as the case may be after deducting the reserve for contingent losses created pursuant to the provisions of this act equal the par value of the share] dividends credited thereto equal the aggregate par value of the installment shares subscribed to by such shareholder. Notice of such maturity shall forthwith be given to the holder of such [share] shares and at the option of the holder thereof such shares shall be listed for payment as withdrawn shares or with the consent of the association such shares may be converted into full-paid shares or into optional payment shares. If the shareholder does not elect one of the options within thirty days after maturity such shares shall immediately be converted at the option of the association into optional payment shares or full-paid shares or be listed for payment as withdrawn shares.

B If the shares thus declared matured have not been pledged to the association as security for a loan the association shall before making payment or converting such shares deduct an amount equal to any delinquent fines or other charges due it by such shareholder.

C If the shares thus declared matured have been pledged to the association as security for a loan which is secured also by a mortgage upon real property then the mortgage shall be forthwith satisfied upon the payment of any delinquent fines or other charges due the association and upon the payment of a fee not in excess of three dollars and in addition thereto a fee of ten cents per mile if the place of business of the association is not located in the county where the mortgage is to be satisfied.

D If the shares thus declared matured have been pledged to the association pursuant to a loan upon which the sole security is such shares the note shall be forthwith cancelled and the amount of the loan together with the amount of any delinquent fines or other charges due the association shall be deducted from the [matured] participation value of such shares. The balance shall be payable to such shareholder in the same manner as provided by this act in the case of shares which have been declared matured which are not pledged to the association as security for a loan.

E The holder of a share which has been declared matured pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be entitled to cash dividends upon any unpaid portion of the par value thereof at the rate of four per centum per annum from the date of the declaration of maturity but the rate of such dividends shall not in any event exceed the rate of earnings apportioned during such period to installment optional payment or prepaid shares which have not been declared matured.]

Section 616 Order of Payment and Funds to Be Used to Pay [Matured or] Withdrawn Shares Power to Sue A Withdrawn [or matured] shares shall be paid in the order in which the withdrawals become effective [or the maturities are declared] but withdrawals which become effective [or maturities which are declared] upon the same day shall be paid on a pro rata basis. Provided That if a holder of a share account applies for withdrawal of more than one thousand dollars ($1000) he shall be paid one thousand dollars ($1000) in order when reached and his application shall be charged with such amount as paid and shall be renumbered and placed at the end of the list of applications to withdraw and thereafter upon again being reached shall be paid a like amount but not exceeding the value of his shares and until paid in full shall continue to be so paid renumbered and replaced at the end of the list. However the board of directors may at any time [either] authorize payment of [withdrawn shares on a pro rata basis or with the consent of the department fix a maximum amount to be paid periodically on such shares. The action of the board of directors in authorizing payment to be made on a pro rata basis or in fixing a maximum amount to be paid periodically shall also apply to unpaid withdrawals which became effective prior to the date on which such action was taken by the board of directors] withdrawals not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) to any one shareholder in any one month in any order.

B At least two-thirds of the funds in the treasury of an association shall be applied to the payment of [matured or] withdrawn shares whenever such amount is necessary for this purpose but the association shall first deduct such amount as shall be necessary to pay current expenses and [interest or] dividends on full-paid shares to protect or preserve the assets of the association and to make proper provisions for meeting such obligations as it may reasonably be expected to be compelled to pay [Whenever two-thirds of the funds in the treasury other than such amounts as are required by this section to be deducted are insufficient to pay in full all matured or withdrawn shares such funds shall be applied to the payment of withdrawn and matured shares in proportion to the total amount of unpaid claims in each class].

C Whenever funds are not available in the manner hereinbefore provided to pay any [matured or] withdrawn share upon which payment has been due for a period in excess of six months eighty per centum of the funds in the treasury other than such amounts as are required by this section to be deducted shall be applied to the payment of [matured or] withdrawn shares [Whenever eighty per centum of the funds in the treasury other than such amounts as are required by this section to be deducted are insufficient to pay in full matured or withdrawn shares such funds shall be applied to the payment of withdrawn and matured shares in proportion to the total amount of unpaid claims in each class].

D Whenever [matured or] withdrawn shares have not been paid by an association for a period of six months after the maturities have been declared or the withdrawals have become effective owing to the fact that the funds in the treasury which under this act are to be applied to the payment of such shares are insufficient to pay them in full so much of the bonds or other obligations of the United States of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board [or of a Federal Home Loan Bank or of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation owned by the association as shall be necessary to pay such [matured or] withdrawn shares shall be sold and the proceeds paid into the treasury of the association to be used to pay such shares unless the department shall give written permission to the association to hold such bonds or other obligations for a longer period of time.

E For the purposes of this section the words "fund in the treasury" shall be construed to include all money received by the association from any source whatsoever except money borrowed from the Federal Home Loan Bank.

F The holders of [matured or] withdrawn shares shall not have the power to sue for the amount due them by virtue of [such maturity or] such withdrawal until such time as under the provisions of this section [such matured or] such withdrawn shares should have been paid.

Section 9 Section six hundred eighteen and section six hundred twenty as amended or last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 740) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 618 [Restriction on Dividends on Full-Paid Shares Undivided Profits A The rate of cash dividend paid on full-paid shares during any year shall not exceed the rate of earnings apportioned during such year to installment optional payment or prepaid shares of the association] Dividends on Shares Undivided Profits A The rate of cash dividend paid on full-paid shares during any dividend period shall not exceed the rate of dividends credited during such period to optional payment shares of the association and the rate of dividends credited to optional payment shares during any dividend period shall not exceed the rate of dividends credited during such period to installment shares

B An association may retain earnings in an undivided profit account to be used at the discretion of the board of directors for the purpose of paying additional dividends. Provided That the total undivided profits on hand at any one time shall not exceed [five] ten per centum of the [amount paid in by shareholders on account of shares] participation value of all outstanding shares of the association

C The books of each association shall be closed at least annually and as much oftener as the board of directors may determine and the net profits for the period determined and transferred to the undivided profit account. Dividends shall be declared at least annually by resolution of the board of directors out of the undivided profits after appropriate transfers to the reserve for contingent losses. For the purpose of maturing installment shares special dividends may be declared between regular dividend dates to installment shares nearly matured and special dividends may also be declared between regular dividend dates to installment optional payment and full-paid shares in the case of withdrawal between dividend dates. Such special dividends shall not be declared unless justified by the earnings for the current period and shall not in any event exceed the rate of the last regular dividend on the same type of shares

D Dividends on full-paid shares shall be paid promptly in cash. Dividends on all other classes of shares including dividends or earnings credit or apportioned to such shares on the effective date of this act shall be credited on account of the shares and shall become part of and be included in the share liability of the association the same as though actually paid in by the shareholders on account of shares

E All shares of the same type standing on the books of an association at the close of a dividend period including shares for which notices of withdrawal have been given but which have not been paid shall participate with all other shares of the same type equally in dividends pro rata to the average amount including previously credited dividends standing to the credit of each share during the dividend period. However the board of directors may fix a date in each month for determining the date of investment of share payments in which event such share payments received by the association on or before such determination date shall receive dividends as though invested for the entire month and such share payments received subsequent to such determination date shall receive dividends as though invested during the next succeeding month. Provided however That the board of directors may permit investments of one hundred dollars ($100) or more to receive dividends calculated from the date of actual receipt by the association in any event. And provided further That in the case of installment shares upon which fines are charged for arrearages all payments of dues may for dividend purposes be considered as having been paid when due

Section 620 Reserve for Contingent Losses Every association shall set aside each year not less than five per centum and not more than [fifteen] twenty per centum of its net profits for such year unless the department in writing approves the setting aside of a lesser or a greater amount as a reserve for contingent losses until the total amount of such reserve shall equal at least five per centum and not more than [fifteen] twenty per centum of the assets of such association unless the department in writing approves the creation of a total reserve of a lesser or a greater amount. The department may at any time require any association to set aside such additional amount as the department shall deem necessary to safeguard the interests of the shareholders of such association. Such reserve for contingent losses may be loaned or invested in the same manner as is authorized by this act in the case of other funds of the association

or due to any other cause whatsoever the reserve for contingent losses shall exceed [fifteen] twenty per centum of the assets of the association or if the department has authorized or directed the creation of a reserve for contingent losses in excess of such [fifteen] twenty per centum and such reserve exceeds such amount authorized or directed by the department the amount above such [fifteen] twenty per centum or such other amount as has been authorized or directed by the department shall be transferred at the next regular meeting of the board of directors to the general profit account of the association

Section 10 Section eight hundred one of said act as last amended by the act approved the thirteenth day of April one thousand nine hundred forty-two (P. L. 22) is hereby further amended by adding at the end thereof a new clause to read as follows

Section 801 Powers of Associations In addition to the general corporate powers granted by this act and in addition to any powers specifically granted to an association elsewhere in this act an association shall have the following powers subject to the limitations and restrictions imposed by this act

* * * * *

(10) To enter into a contract with any corporation authorized to transact the business of insurance in this Commonwealth or to participate in or become a member of a trust fund plan or agreement to provide retirement benefits death benefits or disability benefits and any or all such benefits for the officers and employees who are in the regular service of the association on a fixed compensation basis and to make such contributions out of the earnings of the association as may be required to provide these benefits. Provided however That the terms and conditions of any such contract trust fund plan or agreement shall have first been approved in writing by the Department of Banking

Section 11 Subsections A and D of section eight hundred two of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 740) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 802 Power to Borrow Money Issuance of Notes Pledging of Collateral A An association may be resolution of its board of directors borrow money at a rate of interest not exceeding six per centum per annum to a total amount not exceeding fifty per centum of the [amount paid in by shareholders on account] participation value of shares which have not been pledged to the association as security for mortgage loans or which have not on the date of such borrowing been matured or for which notice of withdrawal has not on such date been given. Provided That the amount of all existing share loans shall be deducted in determining the [amount paid in by shareholders on account] participation value of shares

* * * * *

D An association shall not grant any mortgage loan if the amount of borrowed money owed by it to [any corporation or person] corporations or persons except the Federal Home Loan Bank or any other agency or instrumentality of the United States Government other than national banks exceeds [ten] fifteen per centum of the [amount paid in by shareholders on account] participation value of shares which have not been pledged to the association as security for mortgage loans or which have not been matured or for which notice of withdrawal has not been given [but this] The amount of all existing share loans shall be deducted in determining the participation value of shares. This provision shall not be construed to affect the right of an association to readjust or otherwise refinance any mortgage loan which it has granted

Section 12 Section eight hundred three of said act as amended by the act approved the fifteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 63) is hereby further amended to read as follows

wise specifically provided in this act an association shall not make any investments except as follows

(1) Bonds or other interest-bearing obligations of the United States or those for the payment of the principal and interest on which the faith and credit of the United States is pledged

(2) Bonds or debentures issued by a Federal Home Loan Bank or consolidated debentures issued by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board under the provisions of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act approved the twenty-second day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-two its amendments and supplements

(2.1) Bonds or interest-bearing debentures issued by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation under the provisions of Title IV of the National Housing Act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-four its amendments and supplements

(3) Bonds or other interest-bearing obligations of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania or those for the payment of principal and interest on which the faith and credit of this Commonwealth is pledged

[B An association shall not at any one time without the written approval of the department have more than twenty-five per centum of the amount paid in by its shareholders on account of shares invested in the bonds debentures or other interest-bearing obligations authorized by this section as investments for associations]

Section 13 Subsection A of section eight hundred five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 805 Limitation on Building Owned or Leased Furniture and Fixtures Therein A The cost of the real property including the building or buildings thereon which an association owns and occupies for the transaction of its business or partly so occupies and partly leases to others together with the cost of furniture and fixtures therein which belong to the association shall not at any time exceed in the aggregate five per centum of the [amount paid in by its shareholders on account] participation value of its outstanding shares. However an association shall not purchase any real property or erect any building for its occupancy in the transaction of its business without the prior written approval of the department

Section 14 Subsections A and B of section eight hundred eight as last amended by the act approved the fifteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 63) are hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 808 Segregation of Dues Upon Order of Department A Whenever it shall appear to the department that the affairs of an association are in such condition that the action hereinafter provided in this section is justified the department may by written order issued in the manner provided by law direct that all payments made thereafter on account of shares which have not been transferred and pledged to the association as security for loans shall be segregated from the other assets of the association and that the association shall not grant any further loans make any payments on account of withdrawn or matured shares or allow any credit for the value of any shares on account of the principal of any loan until such order is revoked in writing by the department. Such order of the department shall be known as an order of segregation. Such segregated moneys shall either be kept on deposit in a depository selected in the manner provided by this act or invested in the bonds designated by this act as authorized investments for associations. The money so segregated and the bonds in which such moneys are invested shall be known as the segregated fund

If an association at any time after an order of segregation has become effective has no liability except to its shareholders arising from the ownership of shares it may with the written consent of the department transfer to the segregated fund a portion or all of any cash which it may have on hand and bonds if any designated by this act as authorized investments. Cash and bonds so transferred shall become a part of the segregated fund the same as though paid into the segregated fund by the shareholders whose shares are not pledged to the association as security for loans in proportion to the [amounts paid in on account] participation value of their shares on the date that the order of segregation was issued. Such segregated fund shall not be subject to an attachment issued on a judgment obtained by any creditor or shareholder of the association

During the period of segregation the segregated fund shall be available exclusively for the benefit of the shareholders who made such payments or for whose benefit the transfer of cash and bonds was made and may be withdrawn during such period of segregation upon thirty days written notice

B All dues paid in during the period of segregation by shareholders whose shares are pledged to the association as security for loans shall be known as segregated credits and shall be applied as credits against the principal of any loans so secured which are repaid during the period of segregation

When any transfer of cash and bonds is made to the segregated fund the shareholders whose shares are pledged to the association as security for loans shall be entitled to segregated credits which shall bear the same relation to the [amounts paid in by them on account] participation value of their shares prior to the effective date of the order of segregation as the amount of cash and bonds so transferred bears to the total [amount paid in on account] participation value of shares prior to the effective date of the order of segregation by shareholders whose shares are not pledged as security for loans

If at any time during the period of segregation the segregated credits on shares pledged for a loan exceed the amount of the loan for which such shares are pledged all payments made by the borrower thereafter shall be segregated in the same manner as payments made by shareholders whose shares have not been pledged to the association as security for loans

Section 15 Section nine hundred three as last amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of February one thousand nine hundred forty-five (No 6) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 903 Security for Mortgage Loans A An association shall grant mortgage loans to its shareholders or to any person intending to become a shareholder upon the following security only

(1) The bond of the borrower secured by the transfer and pledge to the association of installment shares in such association which belong to the borrower and which have a par value at least equal to the amount of the loan and further secured by a mortgage upon real property which belongs to the borrower such mortgage being for at least the full amount of the loan A loan secured in this manner shall be known as a share-mortgage loan and the mortgage securing such loan as a share mortgage

(2) The bond of the borrower secured by the transfer and pledge to the association of one direct reduction loan [shares] share in such association which [belong] belong to the borrower [and which have a par value at least equal to the amount of the loan] and further secured by a mortgage upon real property which belongs to the borrower such mortgage being for at least the full amount of the loan. Provided That an association may accept and hold additional collateral of any kind if the loan meets all of the requirements of this act and could have been legally made without the additional collateral. A loan secured in this manner shall be known as a direct reduction mortgage loan and the mortgage securing such loan as a direct reduction mortgage

(3) The bond of the borrower secured by a mortgage upon real property which belongs to the borrower such mortgage being for an amount not to exceed one-half of the amount of the loan such portion of the loan to be known as the straight-mortgage portion of the loan and a bond for the remainder of the loan secured by the transfer and pledge to the association of installment shares in such association which belong to the borrower and which have a par value at least equal to the amount of such remainder of the loan and further secured by a mortgage upon such real property for an amount equal to such remainder of such loan such remainder of such loan to be known as the share-mortgage portion of the loan. A loan secured by both a straight mortgage and a share mortgage in this manner shall be known as a split-mortgage loan. A split-mortgage loan may also be in the form of a single bond and mortgage which meets all the requirements of this section.

The straight-mortgage portion of a split-mortgage loan shall not be secured by shares and an association shall not charge fines upon such portion of the loan.

An association shall not demand payment of the straight-mortgage portion of a split-mortgage loan except in case of a default by the borrower in the terms of the loan until the share-mortgage portion of such loan has been repaid in full by the maturing of the shares assigned or pledged as security therefor or by any other method. Upon such payment of the share-mortgage portion of a split-mortgage loan an association shall either demand and enforce payment of the straight-mortgage portion of the loan or convert such loan to a share-mortgage loan or to a direct reduction mortgage loan upon the transfer and pledge to the association of installment shares or direct reduction loan shares in such association which belong to the borrower and which have a par value at least equal to the amount of such loan.

(4) The bond of the borrower secured by a mortgage upon real property which belongs to the borrower without monthly amortization for a term not exceeding ten years provided that the loan does not together with any other loans held by such association upon such property exceed fifty per centum of the fair market value of such property and provided further that the aggregate amount of loans so made to all persons and corporations shall not exceed fifteen per centum of the total assets of such association.

B An association shall not grant any mortgage loan unless the mortgage securing such loan (1) is a first lien upon unencumbered improved real property the improvement being a dwelling for not more than four families which is used or to be used in whole or in part for residential purposes or upon real property upon which such a building is in the process of construction situated anywhere within the Commonwealth or where it is not a first lien upon such property every equal or prior lien is owned by the association and (2) does not together with any other lien held by such association upon such property exceed eighty per centum of the fair market value of such real property plus the amount paid to the association prior to or withdrawal value upon the day of the granting of such loan [upon] of shares to be assigned or pledged to the association by the borrower as security for such loan. Provided however That shares of the association owned by any shareholder may be assigned or pledged as additional collateral security for the mortgage loan and in such event the mortgage loan granted upon such property may be increased by the withdrawal value of the additional pledge shares to an amount not to exceed a maximum total mortgage loan of ninety per centum of the fair market value of such real property and the association may release this additional collateral whenever the mortgage loan meets all of the requirements of this act and could be legally made at the time of release without the requirement of additional collateral. An association shall not take any lien upon real property as security for a mortgage loan if such lien is equal to any lien owned by any other corporation or person.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act an association may make any mortgage loan on a dwelling for not more than four families situated in the Commonwealth if the full amount of such mortgage is insured or guaranteed by the United States or any instrumentality thereof or if there is a commitment to so insure or guarantee.

Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law an association may grant any mortgage loan on a dwelling for not more than four families which is used or to be used in whole or in part for residential purposes or upon real property upon which such a building is in the process of construction situated anywhere within the Commonwealth if such loan is guaranteed in an amount equal to at least twenty per centum of the value of the property subject to the lien under the provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of one thousand nine hundred and forty-four its amendments and supplements and rules and regulations promulgated from time to time pursuant to the provisions of said Act or if there is a written commitment to so guarantee.

The provisions of this subsection shall not be construed to apply to a purchase money mortgage taken by an association upon real property owned by it nor to the readjustment or refinancing in any other manner of a mortgage loan owed to the association upon the effective date of this act.

[Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection an association may prior to the first day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five grant a loan upon improved real property encumbered by a mortgage not owned by the association provided that the prior encumbrance not owned by the association does not exceed forty per centum of the fair market value of such real property and that it will not together with the mortgage securing such loan exceed sixty per centum of the fair market value of such real property.]

C An association shall not directly or indirectly grant to any one corporation or person mortgage loans to a total amount exceeding five per centum of the [amount paid in by its shareholders on account of] participation value of its outstanding shares but any association may grant to any one corporation or person mortgage loans to a total amount of ten thousand dollars.

In computing the total mortgage loans made by an association to an individual there shall be included all mortgage loans made by the association to a partnership or other unincorporated association of which he is a member all mortgage loans made either for his benefit or for the benefit of such partnership or other unincorporated association and all mortgage loans to or for the benefit of a corporation of which he owns twenty-five per centum or more of the capital stock.

In computing the total mortgage loans made by an association to a partnership or other unincorporated association there shall be included all mortgage loans to its individual members all mortgage loans made for the benefit of such partnership or other unincorporated association or of any member thereof and all mortgage loans to or for the benefit of any corporation of which the partnership or unincorporated association or any member thereof owns twenty-five per centum or more of the capital stock.

In computing the total mortgage loans made by an association to a corporation there shall be included all mortgage loans made for the benefit of the corporation and all mortgage loans to or for the benefit of any individual who owns twenty-five per centum or more of the capital stock of such corporation.

A mortgage loan shall be deemed to be made for the benefit of a corporation or person to the extent that the proceeds of such loans are credited or transferred to such corporation or person.

D An association shall not upon the security of any one piece of real property grant mortgage loans totaling more than twenty thousand dollars.

Section 16 Sections nine hundred seven and nine hundred ten as amended or last amended by the act approved the fifteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 63) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 907 Interest Reduction Loans and Direct Reduction Loans A A borrower with the consent of the association may have the periodical installments of dues on his shares credited on account of the principal of the mortgage loan at such times as shall be provided in the mortgage and also in its accompanying bond or other obligation if any and the interest and the premium if any thereon shall be computed on the balance of the principal of the loan in each case when the dues have been so credited. The borrower in such case may agree that the subsequent dues on his shares shall become automatically increased by the amount of the reduction of interest and of premium if any in each case when the dues have been so credited so that the total of each monthly installment of dues and interest and premium if any shall remain the same until the loan has been paid in full but the right to have the dues on the shares credited on account of the principal of the loan as well as the agreement if any that the dues on the shares shall become automatically increased as herein provided shall be set forth in the mortgage and also in its accompanying bond or other obligation if any.

The borrower shall have the right with the consent of the association when the dues so credited on account of the principal of the loan shall equal the par value of one or more shares to have the number of shares reduced to such number that their aggregate par value shall not be less than the reduced amount or balance of the principal of the loan still remaining unpaid. The periodical installments of dues on the shares thus reduced as well as the interest on the reduced principal of the loan and premium thereon if any shall be payable after the date of such reduction the same as if the shares had been originally issued in such reduced number as of such date and such loan made for such reduced amount.

When the dues on the shares are credited on account of the principal of the loan as herein provided such shares shall not participate in the profits of the association nor be subject to losses. When the loan has been paid in full by the crediting of the dues thereon as herein provided the borrower shall be entitled to have his mortgage satisfied upon the payment of a fee not exceeding three dollars and in addition thereto a fee of ten cents per mile if the place of business of the association is not located in the county where the mortgage is to be satisfied.

B [Direct reduction mortgage loans secured by the transfer and pledge of direct reduction loan shares shall be repaid by the monthly application and credit of the dues paid on such shares on account of the principal of the mortgage loan. Such loans shall be known as direct reduction mortgage loans.] A mortgage loan secured by the transfer and pledge of one direct reduction loan share shall be repaid by the monthly application and credit of the dues paid on such share on account of the principal of the mortgage loan. The interest or interest and premium shall be computed monthly on the unpaid balance of the principal of the loan and such interest or interest and premium if not paid may be added to the unpaid principal together with any and all payments or advances made by the association for taxes water rents assessments insurance premiums or other charges or advances permitted by law. Payments made by the borrower shall be applied first to the interest or interest and premium due the association and the remainder of the monthly payment shall be credited on account of dues on the direct reduction loan [shares] share. The subsequent periodical dues on the direct reduction loan [shares] share shall become automatically increased by the amount of the reduction of interest or interest and premium when the dues have been so credited to the principal of the loan so that the total of each monthly installment of dues and interest or dues interest and premium shall remain the same until the loan has been paid in full. When the loan has been repaid in full by the crediting of the dues thereon as herein provided the borrower shall be entitled to have his mortgage satisfied upon the payment of a fee not exceeding three dollars and in addition thereto a fee of ten cents per mile if the place of business of the association is not located in the county where the mortgage is to be satisfied.

C The borrower shall have the right with the consent of the association to have the number of direct reduction loan shares reduced to such number that their aggregate par value shall not be less than the reduced amount or balance of the principal of the loan still remaining unpaid. The periodical installments of dues on the shares thus reduced as well as the interest or interest and premium on the reduced principal of the loan shall be payable after the date of such reduction the same as if the shares had been originally issued in such reduced number as of such date and such loan made for such reduced amount.

D A borrower may with the consent of the association convert a share-mortgage loan into a direct reduction mortgage loan or convert a direct reduction mortgage loan into a share-mortgage loan.

Section 910 Security for Share Loans. An association may grant share loans to any of its shareholders upon the following security only. The note of the borrower secured by [the transfer] an assignment as collateral and pledge to the association of installment optional payment or full-paid [or prepaid] shares which have not previously been transferred or pledged to anyone other than the association the [amount paid in on account] withdrawn value of such shares prior to or at the time of the granting of any loan upon the security of such shares shall be at least equal to the total amount of all loans granted thereon.

Section 17 Subsection A of section one thousand one hundred six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1106 Notice to Creditors and Shareholders. After the Department of State has [transmitted to the association] filed the [copy of the] certificate of election to dissolve the liquidating trustee or trustees as the case may be shall forthwith give notice to all corporations or persons who appear upon the books or other records of the association as or who are otherwise known to the liquidating trustee or trustees to be creditors or shareholders of the association. Such notice shall be sent to or given at the address which appears upon the books or other records of the association for the particular corporation or person or if no address appears there then to the last known address of such corporation or person.

The notice to each shareholder shall state the amount which the books or other records of the association show to be due to such shareholder. It shall also state that unless such shareholder shall present his claim under oath or affirmation within three months from the date of the giving of such notice the amount shown to be due by the books of the association will be conclusively presumed to be correct.

The notice to each creditor other than a shareholder shall inform such creditor that he must present his claim under oath or affirmation within three months from the date of the giving of such notice or else be barred from claiming an amount exceeding the amount shown to be due him on the books or other records of the association and that he must present his claim under oath or affirmation within six months from the date of the giving of the notice or else be forever barred from sharing in any distribution of the assets of the association.

Section 18 Section one thousand one hundred twelve of said act as last amended by the act approved the fifteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 63) is hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 1112 Order of Preference in Distribution. The following shall be the order followed by the liquidating trustee or trustees as the case may be in the distribution pursuant to the provisions of this act of the assets of any association which is being liquidated in pursuance of a plan of voluntary dissolution.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 406, as follows:

An Act to regulate the sale of second-hand watches and providing penalties

Section 1 As used in this act

1 "Person" means an individual firm partnership association or corporation engaged in the business of selling watches

2 "Consumer" means a person who buys for his own use or for the use of another but not for resale

3 A "second-hand watch" means (a) A watch which as a whole or the case thereof or the movement thereof has been sold to a customer except that a watch which has been so sold and is thereafter returned within a period of six months from the date of the original sale either through an exchange or for credit to the same person who sold the watch to the consumer shall not be deemed to be a second-hand watch for the purpose of this act if the vendor keeps a written record setting forth the name and address of the consumer the date of the sale to the consumer the name of the watch or its maker and the serial number if any on the case and the movement of the watch or other distinguishing numbers for identification marks such record to be kept for at least three years from the date of the sale of the watch or

(b) Any watch whose case or movement serial numbers or other distinguishing numbers or identification marks have been erased defaced removed altered or covered

sell or exchange exposes or displays for sale or exchange or possesses with intent to sell or exchange a second-hand watch shall affix and keep affixed to the same a tag with the words "second-hand" legibly written or printed thereon in the English language

Section 3 Any person who sells a second-hand watch shall deliver to the vendee a written invoice setting forth the name and address of the vendor the name and address of the vendee the date of the sale the name of the watch or its maker and the serial numbers if any or other distinguishing numbers or identification marks on its case and movement If the serial numbers or other distinguishing numbers or identification marks have been erased defaced removed altered or covered this shall be set forth in the invoice. A duplicate of the invoice shall be kept on file by the vendor of the second hand watch for at least one year from the date of the sale thereof

Section 4 Any person advertising or displaying in any manner second-hand watches for sale shall state clearly in such advertising or display that the watches so advertised are second-hand watches

Section 5 Violation of any of the provisions of this act is a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one (1) year or by fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500.00)

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, on behalf of Senator Kephart, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend Section 1, sub-section 1, line 3 by striking out the words "engaged in the business of selling," and line 4 by striking out the word "watches"; Amend by inserting after Section 1, sub-section 3 (b) page 2 the words "(c) Any watch, the movement of which is more than five years old and has been repaired, or any part or parts of the watch, including the movement, have been replaced, whether in the vendor's hands or while in the possession of another; and this provision shall apply whether or not the watch has been returned either through an exchange or for credit to the same person who sold or disposed of said watch to the consumer in any manner"; Amend Section 2, line 13, page 2 by inserting after the word "person" the words "or agent or employee thereof"; Amend Section 3, line 19, page 2 by inserting after the word "person" the words "or agent or employee thereof."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I think it is a waste of the time of the Senate to be passing such legislation as this. We have gotten along without this kind of a bill for quite a long while.

MOTION THAT SENATE BILL NO. 406 BE DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, in view of the fact that the hour is quite late, I move that Senate Bill No. 406 be dropped from the Calendar.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I rise on a point of order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator McCreesh, is not in order as there is now before the Senate a motion to amend this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McCreesh, wants to express the thought he has not any time for this bill.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Chair rules there is before the Senate a motion to amend this bill and therefore the motion of the gentle from Philadelphia, Senator McCreesh, is out of order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, do I understand the bill is to go over in its order after amendments are adopted?

Mr. President, before the amendments are adopted—without attempting to be facetious about it—as I understand one of the amendments proposed to be placed in the bill it says “no watch movement aged more than five years.” The Senate will remember this bill carries a penalty clause and if you sell a watch movement aged more than five years, you are subject to punishment under this bill.

I think, Mr. President, somewhere in this bill there should be some time from which you start to measure the age of the movement of a watch; how do you tell the age of a movement in a watch. They are going to laugh this bill right through the Senate—and not out of the Senate—and then they will have a lot of fellows selling watches and then discover the movement is five years and six months old. There is no way of telling when the time starts.

I am assuming that the industry—it is a reputable industry—has some method of ascertaining the age of a watch, but I think that information should be known to the Senate before we insert a penalty clause in this bill.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as I understand the amendment, section 1 would remove from the bill persons engaged in the business of selling watches.

(The Senate was at ease)

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, we have come to an agreement whereby the amendment will be adopted and the bill will be held on Third Reading after the amendments are adopted.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

AMENDMENTS WITHDRAWN

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I withdraw the amendments.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION PRESSED THAT SENATE BILL NO. 376 BE DROPPED FROM THE CALENDAR

Mr. McCREESH. Now, Mr. President, my motion is in order, that this bill be dropped from the Calendar, and it is seconded, due to the fact that the Republican Floor Leader is in doubt as to whether you should look into the inside of a watch to find the date of it.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. MALLERY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—3

So the question was determined in the negative.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION THAT BILL BE RECOMMITTED

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 406, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary Special.

Mr. McCREESH. I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODRING. Mr. President, and members of the Senate, I am going to vote for this bill, but I do so with my tongue in my cheek. This is a dangerous piece of legislation, not perhaps in itself, but for the precedent that it might establish as regards future legislation of this kind.

During the past year I have had the experience, together with other members of the Senate, of studying the laws of neighboring states on the question of compensation for partial unemployment, and what our committee learned from the many industries and businesses that we called upon was that business wanted to be let alone, it did not want to be regulated by law, and it did not want to be directed by directives.

This bill regulates business; it tells the dealer what kind of tag he shall put on his merchandise; it tells the dealer the nature of what his invoice shall be and the contents of the invoice; it tells the dealer the period of time during which he must continue to keep a record of the duplicate invoice; it tells the dealer the nature of the advertising he must use in order to sell these commodities.

I think it is not the place of the Legislature to impress its orders and its mandate upon business; I think business should be unfettered. Business already has too many requirement of it. I think this bill is going to regulate business. It is true in this case business has come to us and asked that we give it to them.

The comparison that comes to my mind is in connection with various vocations in our state, the architects, engineers, and all those vocations and professions that wanted to be licensed and wanted separate boards and, as soon as we established the boards and set up regulations, we then found those businesses actually would be hampered by reason of regulations. I think this business here also thinks it wants this law, that it wants this regulation, but I think it is a bad precedent to establish and I vote "Yes" against my better judgment.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—38

Barr,	Crowe,	Jones,	Taylor,

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 423, on third reading, entitled:

An Act providing for the incorporation as bodies corporate and politic of "Authorities" for municipalities counties and townships as herein defined prescribing the rights powers and duties of such Authorities authorizing such authorities to acquire construct improve maintain and operate projects and to borrow money and issue bonds therefor providing for the payment of such bonds and prescribing the rights of the holders thereof conferring the right of eminent domain on such authorities authorizing such authorities to enter into contracts with and to accept grants from the Federal Government or any agency thereof conferring exclusive jurisdiction on certain courts over rates go over in its order.

BILL ON THIRD READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 424, entitled:

An Act to amend Section 686 of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872) entitled "An act to consolidate amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth" by providing that a cashier of a bank who engages in any gainful profession occupation or calling other than that of his duty as cashier shall not be guilty of a misdemeanor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer amendments at this time?

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing on final passage.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. BECKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 425 on third reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing individual co-fiduciaries in certain cases to consent to holding of investments in the name of their corporate co-fiduciaries' nominee and validating such consents heretofore given

go over in its order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 80, entitled:

An Act to reenact and amend the title and the act approved the sixteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 208) entitled as amended "An act to provide revenue for State purposes by imposing an excise tax for a limited period of time on the net incomes of certain corporations joint-stock associations and limited partnerships providing for the assessment collection settlement and resettlement of taxes and reviews and appeal therefrom conferring powers and imposing duties on certain persons corporations joint-stock associations limited partnerships State and county officers boards and departments making an appropriation and providing penalties" as previously reenacted and amended by extending the provisions of the act for a further limited period of time by providing for additional deductions in fixing the tax by specifically imposing tax on corporations receiving rent or other income from property in Pennsylvania by providing that a report of change of income becomes part of the original report in certain instances by changing the gross receipts fraction by specifically providing for the computing of interest on increases of income indicated by reports of change and by exempting cooperative agricultural associations.

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. GELTZ offered the following amendment:

They were agreed to.

The section was agreed to be amended.

The second and third sections were read and agreed to.

The title was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title?

Mr. BECKER offered the following amendment:

Amend title by striking out on page 2 in the third line of the title the word "institution" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "institutions".

They were agreed to.

The title was agreed to as amended.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, as amended.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 115 on second reading, go over in its order so that we will have an opportunity to study the amendments.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 222, on second reading, entitled:

An Act abating certain tax penalties interest and costs on unpaid county city borough town township school district poor district and county institution district taxes with certain exceptions prohibiting the sale of real property for the non-payment of any such taxes for a certain period and preserving certain tax liens and providing for the extension thereof

go over in its order.

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 307, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to safeguard human life prohibiting the performance of operations previous to the making of certain studies and tests and the inspection thereof by the person making the operation defining emergency operations and preoperative study and providing penalties

go over in its order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, Senate Bill No. 307 has now been on the Calendar for a number of weeks. I have made every honest effort to appease the little opposition which has appeared to this bill. I have found that both groups—when I say both groups I mean the medical society and the hospital groups, agree that there is much need for such legislation. However, it is quite apparent that one group seems to think the other group should have the responsibility; in some cases they agreed, in some cases the doctors feel the hospitals should be the responsible authorities and then again the hospitals feel the doctors should be the responsible authorities, which proves to me without any doubt there is much need for this legislation.

What we do here, gentlemen, reflects upon monetary gains or losses, but this is the first time in my experience in this Chamber that we are dealing directly with life itself. I believe that every member in this Chamber has a vital interest in Senate Bill No. 307. It has a tragic background, too, but I have received many pieces of mail, Mr. President, almost identical with my own case.

I must absolve all the members who have been criticized from any responsibility. I have been approached by many persons asking why this bill has been so long on the Calendar.

The Chairman of the Committee on Public Health has been extremely courteous to me. Other members who are interested have been very courteous; they have tried to the best of their ability to make this bill a good bill.

We have no punitive thoughts, there is no malice in my heart, but certainly I have gone as far as I possibly can go to give you a much needed piece of legislation, and now I am determined and satisfied, and I have agreed with the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health that the importance of the bill is such that a public hearing should be held in order to give all persons who might be interested an opportunity to bring forth their facts. I do not like any quiet secret discussions; no one does.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 307 be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health, for the purpose of a public hearing to be held on Tuesday, March 20th, at 10:20 o'clock, a. m.

Mr. GOURLEY. Mr. President, I second the motion. On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. I am asking my colleagues to inform all interested parties to attend this public hearing so that after the hearing we will be definitely in position to know what course we might pursue.

Further, Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Public Health—since I am not a member of that committee—that I be shown the courtesy and be granted the right to sit with that committee and take part in any interrogations or discussions that might come forth, since I am vitally interested and also because I am sponsor of this bill.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Does the Chair understand that the gentleman from Cambria wishes to interrogate the gentleman from Butler, Senator Carr?

Mr. HALUSKA. No, Mr. President; I am only making a public statement and asking for the courtesy of being allowed to sit with the committee at the committee meeting next Tuesday morning, as sponsor of the bill, and have the same right and privilege of interrogating or being interrogated as any member of that committee.

Mr. GOURLEY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I desire to second the motion of the gentleman from Cambria, Senator Haluska, because I think I should have the privilege of seconding that motion.

In reply to the question of Mr. Haluska, the sponsor of the bill, as to his sitting with the committee, I have no authority to have him sit on the committee, but I will be glad to have him attend the hearing and ask any questions and give any answers he feels are necessary.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 344, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section five hundred and forty of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 103) entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" further defining the duties of the secretary to the board of supervisors and providing for the preservation and turning over to the successor in office of township records and for the destruction of certain records go over in its order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 347, on second reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section forty-six (c) of the act approved the seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 447), entitled as amended "An act relating to the administration and distribution of the estates of decedents and of minors and of trust estates including the appointment, bonds, rights, powers, duties, liabilities, accounts, discharge and removal of executors, administrators, guardians and trustees herein designated as fiduciaries, the administration and distribution of the estates of presumed decedents, widow's and children's exemptions, debts of decedents, rents of real estate as assets for payment thereof, the lien thereof, sales and mortgages of real estate for the payment thereof, judgments and executions therefor, and the discharge of real estate from the lien thereof, contracts of decedents for the sale or purchase of real estate, legacies including legacies charged on land, the discharge of residuary estates and of real estate from the lien of legacies and other charges, the appraisal of real estate devised at a valuation, the ascertainment of the curtilage of dwelling houses or other buildings devised, the abatement and survival of actions and the substitution of executors and administrators therein, the survival of causes of action and suits thereupon by or against fiduciaries, investments by fiduciaries

aries, the organization of corporations to carry on the business of decedents, the audit and review of accounts of fiduciaries, refunding bonds, transcripts to the court of common pleas of balances due by fiduciaries, the rights, powers, and liabilities of nonresident and foreign fiduciaries, the appointment, bonds, rights, powers, duties, and liabilities of trustees durante absentia, the recording and registration of decrees, reports, and other proceedings and the fees therefor, appeals in certain cases, and also generally dealing with the jurisdiction, powers, and procedure of the orphans' court in all matters relating to fiduciaries concerned with the estates of decedents," by providing that the failure to give written notice or to present a claim at the audit of an account will not relieve the fiduciary from filing a supplemental inventory and account be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question;

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to say, for the benefit of the Senate, this motion is made simply because, since this bill has appeared on the Calendar, we have discovered that practice in the various Orphans' Courts in the different counties has such a wide latitude, and the experiences of the various judges differ and they would rather have this bill be given more study, which is just another indication, Mr. President, why the Orphans' Court rules as well as the law should be revised and recodified.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 385, entitled:

An Act to amend clause two of subsection (b) and to further amend clause six of subsection (c) of section two hundred two of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by authorizing domestic stock and mutual fire and marine and casualty insurance companies to make insurance against all risk of loss of or damage to personal property

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I would like to have this bill go over in order. There has been no committee meeting held in connection with this bill and the insurance companies would like to look into it before it passes.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. For the information of the gentleman from Allegheny this bill has already been read the second time.

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 385

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 385, entitled:

An Act to amend clause two of subsection (b) and to further amend clause six of subsection (c) of section two hundred two of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-one (P. L. 682) entitled "An act relating to insurance amending revising and consolidating the law providing for the incorporation of insurance companies and the regulation supervision and protection of home and foreign insurance companies Lloyds associations reciprocal and inter-insurance exchanges and fire insurance rating bureaus and the regulation and supervision of insurance carried by such companies associations and exchanges including insurance carried by the State Workmen's Insurance Fund; providing penalties and repealing existing laws" by authorizing domestic stock and mutual fire and marine and casualty insurance companies to make insurance against all risk of loss of or damage to personal property passed second reading.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I voted "aye."

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. BARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. CROWE. I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny what is his objection to the bill.

Mr. BARR. I am not the one objecting, Mr. President, but some of my constituents seem to think the bill should be the subject of a public hearing, as they would like to have a chance to study the bill.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, for the information of the gentleman from Allegheny I want to say that this property owner provision is now in existence in all excepting three states in the United States. This bill would provide benefits for policy holders and would give policy holders something they never before had in Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the only question that arises is whether or not we can have a few more days to study this bill. It may be one of the best bills ever presented in this Senate but we would like to look into it a little more fully and if the sponsor will give us his permission I would request that the bill go over in its order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The motion is out of order. There is a motion before the Senate that the vote by which this bill passed second reading be reconsidered.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, it will be perfectly all right if the bill goes over in its order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Crowe, agrees that the bill be held over on third reading.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, that will not put us in a very favorable position if we should find something wrong with the bill and desire to offer amendments and make it better for the policy holders.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 385, on second reading, go over in its order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 468, on second reading, entitled:

An Act authorizing the alteration improvement and construction of buildings equipment and facilities for the Pennsylvania Maritime Academy by the Navigation Commission for the Delaware River and making an appropriation go over in its order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 631, entitled:

An Act approving ratifying and enacting into law the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Compact for the prevention abatement and control of pollution of the rivers streams and waters in the Ohio River drainage basin and making the State of Pennsylvania a party thereto creating the "Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission" providing for the members of such commission from the State of Pennsylvania and providing for the carrying out of said compact after the conclusion of hostilities of the present war

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I believe I recognize this bill. It is quite strange, with such a lot of people in Allegheny County being interested in this bill, that we should find someone from Lehigh County sponsoring a bill for the Ohio River Valley.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, sponsored such a bill previously and I think I sponsored a similar bill in 1935.

This bill was sponsored two weeks ago in the House and I introduced and sponsored a similar bill on the twenty-second day of January in the Senate and nothing was done about it.

However, the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh has asked for a hearing on this bill. Naturally they thought it was my bill, but there are two strange names sponsoring this Ohio River Bill, because I never saw either one of those gentlemen at any of the meetings we have held in the last ten years. From the meetings we have had in Pittsburgh, and among the people from Pittsburgh and Ohio, I doubt if they would know where Lehigh County is, because it is pretty far away.

I believe the Chamber of Commerce should be heard, although they differ with me on this bill—I believe they should be given a public hearing. The gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Geltz, just said he thinks he is going to faint because I am speaking for the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. President, I ask that the Senate give them the courtesy of holding a public hearing on this bill. I so move.

A MOTION THAT PUBLIC HEARING BE HELD ON HOUSE BILL No. 631

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I move that a public hearing be held on House Bill No. 631.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion and ask that the bill go over in order for the purpose of holding a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. HOLLAND. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Allegheny why a request was not made to hold a public hearing on this bill while it was on the Calendar in the House.

Mr. HOLLAND. They did, Mr. President; there was a request to hold a public hearing and they did not get it.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I rise not to question either the expediency or the wisdom of having a public hearing on this bill, but to suggest to the Senate that it is bad practice to have a bill on the Calendar and then have a public hearing. It seems to me that better practice would be to move to have the bill recommitted, properly and in order—if that is the wish of the Senate—and then have the proper committee have a public hearing on this bill.

I mention that because this matter has been brought to the attention of the Senate in connection with House Bill No. 115 on several occasions and it seems to me that we ought not indulge in the practice of asking for public hearings and having them on bills while they are on the Calendar.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Lehigh is entirely correct. The proper procedure would be to have the bill go back in committee and have a public hearing, under the jurisdiction of the proper committee that had the bill at the time it came into the Senate.

However, Mr. President, I would like to suggest to the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, that the bill go over in order so that we may have a chance to discuss this matter with the people in Allegheny County who have requested a hearing.

What the gentleman from Allegheny has said is true, this bill has been sponsored repeatedly by representatives in the General Assembly from Allegheny County who are interested in having an Ohio River Compact bill passed by the legislature.

I personally have not had any requests for a public hearing, and I represent a small portion of the county—but I would like to have an opportunity, before we commit ourselves to a public hearing, to have an opportunity to discuss the matter with the Chamber of Commerce and with those people who suggest they might want a hearing.

I therefore would suggest to the gentleman from Allegheny County, Senator Holland, that if he will withdraw his motion to hold a public hearing we will put this bill over in its order until we have an opportunity to discuss it with the folks back home.

MOTION WITHDRAWN

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, that is perfectly satisfactory to me and I withdraw my motion that a public hearing be held on this matter. I agree with the Senator from Allegheny, my beloved colleague, for once, and I agree that the bill shall remain on the Calendar and over the week-end I shall be very pleased to go with the Senator from Allegheny, Senator Walker, to the Chamber of Commerce and see if they still insist on a public hearing.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Does the Chair understand the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Holland, withdraws his motion.

Mr. HOLLAND. I do, Mr. President, I might also add, Mr. President, that the Chamber of Commerce is located in my district and not in the district of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I remind the gentleman that the members are located in my district.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that House Bill No. 631 on second reading, entitled:

An Act approving ratifying and enacting into law the Ohio River Valley Sanitation Compact for the prevention abatement and control of pollution of the rivers streams and waters in the Ohio River drainage basin and making the State of Pennsylvania a party thereto creating the "Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission" providing for the members of such commission from the State of Pennsylvania and providing for the carrying out of said compact after the conclusion of hostilities of the present war

go over in its order.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

Mr. WILSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WILSON read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 522, entitled:

An Act establishing a certain public road in Indiana County as a State highway; providing for its construction and maintenance by the Department of Highways.

Which was committed to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Messrs. STEVENSON, MALLERY and COLEMAN read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 523, entitled:

An Act relating to the collection of taxes levied by counties, county institution districts, cities of the third class, boroughs, towns, townships, certain school districts, and vocational school districts; conferring powers and imposing duties on tax collectors, courts, and various officers of said political subdivisions; and prescribing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Municipal Government.

PERMISSION TO HAVE REMARKS SPREAD ON THE LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

Mr. McCREESH asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the following remarks spread upon the Legislative Journal.

Mr. McCREESH. In commemoration of the great day we Irish celebrate on March 17th, I wish to present the following remarks and ask that they be spread on the minutes of the Journal and read by the Clerk of the Senate.

Before the outbreak of the great war which now engulfs the world, nations were weaving new patterns into the tapestry of the world's culture.

Germany carried to high perfection the technique of science, Italy developed the great masters of song, France made noble contributions to literature; England to jurisprudence, while our own America achieved eminence in the mechanical arts. America mechanized the world and taught how to manufacture upon a scale never dreamed of before.

On the contrary, the contribution of Ireland, which country we must needs think of today, has been and will evidently remain a different kind—a spiritual contribution which has enriched mankind.

History bears witness to the fact that Ireland was a cradle of culture when Europe was in darkness. Yet looking back to the year 387, it is hard to visualize this. For the light of Ireland was born that year and not in Ireland, but in Scotland, at Dunbarton, when Patrick, the son of Calphurnis and Conchessa saw the light of day. His father belonged to a Roman family of high rank and held office in Gaul or Britain. His mother was a near relative of the patron of Gaul, St. Martin of Tours.

Carried into captivity in his sixteenth year by marauders and sold as a slave to a Druidical high priest, he learned the Celtic tongue during his six years of bondage. When Patrick finally escaped to Britain, it was with the resolution to return to Christianized Ireland.

That St. Patrick succeeded in doing this has incontestable proof in the annals of world history; and that the Irish, as a nation, have contributed in no small way to many countries, particularly to the United States, is a matter of record.

Pennsylvania and New York in particular have lists where the names of counties and towns of Ireland attest the place of origin of the first settlers, while official military records show the Irish took a most active part in the fight for American independence. It was from the Irish settlers in New Hampshire that Stark's Rangers were recruited who fought the battle of Bennington and took part in the campaign leading to the surrender of Burgoyne. Furthermore, the official military records of the province of New York show that from early times Irishmen were there in large numbers. Thomas Dongan, the first colonial governor (appointed in 1683), who gave New York its first charter of liberties, was a native of County Kildare, Ireland.

But perhaps it was to William Penn's colony, reputed for religious tolerance, that the Irish settlers were most attracted. And Penn's trusted agent and administrator of the affairs of the colony during the period 1701-1751, James Logan, distinguished for his high character and the ability with which he discharged his trust, was a native of Lurgan, Ireland.

Other early Irish immigrants arriving in Philadelphia were Patrick, Michael and Philip Kearney, natives of Cork, among whose descendants may be named General Stephen W. Kearney, first Governor of California, Commodore Lawrence Kearney, and the dashing General Phil Kearney, the distinguished soldier of the Civil War.

Among the signers of the Declaration of Independence thirteen (some authorities claim more) were of Irish origin. It was promulgated over the signatures of the President of the Continental Congress and of Charles Thomas, its Irish Secretary.

Nor was the genius of the Irish race, which had risen to the defense of America, lacking in the pursuit and development of the arts and sciences in times of peace. The Erie Canal, the greatest contribution to the supremacy of the State of New York, was planned and carried out between 1817 and 1857 by De Witt Clinton, the governor of the state and a descendant of Charles Clinton, an American immigrant from Longford, Ireland. And as early as 1784 this great enterprise had been recommended by another Irish immigrant, Christopher Colles, who with prophetic insight, proposed a system of water supply for New York City by means of aqueducts which startled the then powerful ones.

It is a well known fact that the actual work of the construction of the railroads of our United States, which today are so vital in the defense of our country and of the world, was accomplished by Irish hands and Irish energy.

An Irish surveyor, Jasper O'Farrell laid out the City of San Francisco, while Robert Fulton of steam navigation fame, Samuel Morse to whom we are indebted for the electric telegraph and Cyrus McCormick, the inventor of the mowing machine, were all descendants of Irish immigrants.

Nor were the fine arts left without contributions by the Irish in America. George Washington, the Father of our country, sat for a portrait painting to an Irish artist; John Barry and William Doogue, who laid out the grounds for the Centennial Exhibition in Philadelphia, were likewise Irish. And, it was the plan of James Hoban, a young Irish architect of Charleston, that was accepted for the Executive Mansion, otherwise known as the White House, while the Statue of Liberty, which surmounts the dome of the Capitol at Washington is the work of the Irish sculptor, Thomas Crawford.

The field of literature in our country, as well as the more modern one of journalism contains a roll call of Gaelic names, and it is estimated that one-half of the Presidents of the United States have been of Celtic origin.

Nor can the medical profession be insensible to the contribution of an Irish American Surgeon-Major James Carroll, who with another United States Army Surgeon, deliberately admitted himself to the perilous experiments then being made by the Government to ascertain by what means the yellow fever germ was transmitted. As a result, Major Carroll contracted the disease and gave up his life in sacrifice to the cause of science and the good of humanity.

St. Patrick died on March 17, 493, at Saul, Downpatrick, Ireland. Since culture was never the offspring of paganism, whose child is destruction, the celebration of today needs no explanation or defense.

Thus March 17, 1945 is the 1452nd anniversary of the death of St. Patrick, a man of ideals, strength and courage whose qualities of mind, heart and soul are needed more than ever today.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF GEORGE F. HOLMES, EX-SECRETARY OF THE SENATE

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. On behalf of the President Pro Tempore, the Chair announces the following members of the Senate as a Committee on the Part of the Senate to attend funeral services for George F. Holmes, late Secretary of the Senate:

Senators Farrell, Edmonds, Kephart, James, DiSilvestro, Jaspán, Stiefel, McCreesh, Taylor.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KEPHART, from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as amended, Senate Bill No. 264, entitled:

An Act to ascertain and appoint the fees to be received by the several prothonotaries of the court of common pleas of the Commonwealth in counties of the fourth class; to provide the time of paying the same; and to repeal all acts inconsistent herewith with the recommendation that the bill be recommitted to the Committee on County Government after it has been printed.

ST. PATRICK'S ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, the committee arranging for the St. Patrick's dinner has asked me to announce to the Senate that there are a few tickets available; anyone desiring tickets should get in touch with Mr. Griffin, a member of the House.

This St. Patrick's dinner is being held March 20, a week from tonight. There are still some tickets available for the State Senate and to those who want to attend the dinner I suggest that they obtain tickets at once.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. BARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, last week I offered a resolution which was referred to the Committee on Elections. I stated at that time that I wanted a meeting of that committee on Monday but I have not, of course, been granted that courtesy.

If we do not have a meeting tomorrow concerning this resolution I am afraid it is going to be very embarrassing to the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the State Chairman of the Republican Party because of the remarks I will have to make tomorrow if they do not hold a meeting.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I interrogate my colleague from Allegheny, Senator Barr.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. BARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, do I understand the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, is interrogating the Chairman of the Committee on Elections with regard to the resolution which he introduced.

Mr. BARR. No, Mr. President, the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Walker, is wrong; I was not interrogating; I was just making a statement.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be further interrogated.

Mr. BARR. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. I desire to inquire from the gentleman from Allegheny if he has examined carefully the files of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to determine whether the names are there.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I examined them on December 8 and probably January 12 and Tuesday of last week. I think when a paper is received in that office where there is a time clock—if they have slipped the names in there since I offered the resolution, I just want to say that I want to see the names.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I did not inquire as to when. My question to the gentleman was: has he examined carefully? I would suggest to him that he had better look again before he threatens the distinguished citizen from Philadelphia. Perhaps the names are there and he has not looked carefully.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, they were not there last Tuesday and Miss Zimmerman had several of her employes trying to find them, and they were not there last Tuesday. I spent about an hour and a half in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, there is an old saying "seek and ye shall find."

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, there is something, somewhere, I am sure.

BILLS ON FIRST READING

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion. The motion was agreed to.

collectively; declaring certain labor practices by employers to be unfair; further providing that representatives of a majority of the employees be the exclusive representatives of all the employees; authorizing the board to conduct hearings and elections, and certifying as to representatives of employees for purposes of collective bargaining; empowering the board to prevent any person from engaging in any unfair labor practice, and providing a procedure for such cases, including the issuance of a complaint, the conducting of a hearing, and the making of an order; empowering the board to petition a court of common pleas for the enforcement of its order, and providing a procedure for such cases; providing for the review of an order of the board by a court of common pleas on petition of any person aggrieved by such order, and establishing a procedure for such cases; providing for an appeal from the common pleas court to the Supreme Court; providing the board with investigatory powers, including the power to issue subpoenas and the compelling of obedience to them through application to the proper court; providing for service of papers and process of the board; prescribing certain penalties," by guaranteeing to employees equal employment opportunity and full membership rights in labor organizations, without discrimination on account of race, creed, color, national origin or political affiliation, and by making any such discrimination an unfair labor practice.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 457, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine (P. L. 872), entitled "An act to consolidate, amend and revise the penal laws of the Commonwealth," further revising and changing the penal laws of the Commonwealth.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 462, entitled:

An Act establishing a mode of selecting and drawing jurors for counties of the first class, and imposing penalties.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,
Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the first reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 482, entitled:

CONGRATULATIONS EXTENDED TO THE ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

The ACTING PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. At this time the Acting President Pro Tempore wishes to express his deep appreciation for this opportunity to preside over this honorable body.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Heyburn.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, on behalf of the membership of the Senate, I wish to express our appreciation to the gentleman from Cumberland, Senator Wade, on the very able manner in which he presided over the Senate this afternoon.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I only want to say that by the time you get around to having all the Republican Senators preside it will be more difficult to pick out which one will be the candidate next year.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Wednesday, March 14, 1945, at 11:00 o'clock a. m., Eastern War Time.

Mr. JONES. Mr. President, I second the motion.
The motion was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 5:40 o'clock p. m., Eastern War Time until Wednesday, March 14, 1945, at 11:00 o'clock a. m., Eastern War Time.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, March 13, 1945

The House met at 1:30 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ira T. Fiss) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrove, offered the following prayer:

Dear Lord, we wait upon Thee. Thou are ever prompt to keep Thy promise. Come Thou now and guide all the deliberations of the legislature. Use the legislators as instruments of blessing unto those whom they serve.

Never let us prevent Thee willfully or fail Thee carelessly. Hearten us by Thy continued presence, and by Thy word so have Thy use of us through all the days, and in the using, redeem us. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of Monday, March 12, 1945.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of Monday, March 12, 1945, when, on motion of Mr. ELISH, unanimously agreed to, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Messrs. SALUS and FLEMING.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 38.

In the House of Representatives, March 12, 1945.

Whereas, there are many ethically conducted and honestly operated companies dealing in consumer credit and engaged in the business of financing on conditional sale or lease, motor vehicles and other articles of personal property, it appears there are also many other finance and consumer credit companies which engage in unscrupulous and unconscionable practices unjustifiably detrimental to purchasers and inimical to public good; and

Whereas, the losses suffered from these nefarious practices fall upon the shoulders of those least able to bear them—the persons in lower income brackets who for want of ready cash are obliged to purchase even necessities on deferred payment bases—to enrich those guilty of chicanery; and

Whereas, shortly there will return to this Commonwealth our native sons and daughters who have so well served their country here and overseas and who will want to take up anew their civil pursuits and reestablish their homes with those necessities which they must have and those luxuries to which they are entitled; and

Whereas, these veterans most of whom gave up lucrative positions of employment in answer to the call of war may be by the very reason of their patriotism, unable financially to attain their just aims without resorting to installment purchases, and accordingly may become the victims of the designing manipulations of dishonest finance companies and others dealing in consumer credit. Therefore, To that end, Be it

Resolved (if the Senate concurs) the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly, with the cooperation of the Secretary of Banking, the Insurance Commissioner and the Attorney General, is hereby directed to investigate and explore all matters connected with the operation and management of the conditions prevailing in finance companies and others in this Commonwealth dealing in consumer credit or otherwise engaged in the business of financing motor vehicles and other articles of personal property which are sold or leased on what is commonly known as the installment plan, for the purpose of ascertaining and reporting as soon as reasonably possible to the General Assembly such negarious unscrupulous and improper practices as are deemed to be inimical to the public good and in the main to ascertain and report on any prevailing practices of such companies or individuals as the case may be, which may inure to the disadvantage or detriment of the public generally and returning veterans specifically, and to report thereon with recommendations for such legislation as it may deem advisable under the circumstances.

For these purposes the Joint State Government Commission of the General Assembly shall have the power to compel the appearance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and records, and to issue proper subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, records, and any and all other writings deemed necessary for the fulfillment of the duties prescribed by this resolution.

Referred to Committee on Rules.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to have appear in the Legislative Journal the editorial to which the gentleman has referred? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and consent is granted.

Editorial

WHY TOWNS ARE IN FINANCIAL MESS

Tax Abatement Now Rated a Plague; New Danger Lies in "Perpetual Liens" Proposal

If the financially distressed municipalities of Pennsylvania wish to improve their condition, they should face facts and stop urging the passage of tax abatement bills and measures to make the liens of municipal claims perpetual.

Tax abatement bills in 1945, when pay-roll and employment are at a high peak, do not offer a cure—or even any relief—to bankrupt or sadly depleted municipal treasuries. While there may have been a necessity for tax abatement during a part of the depression period, when twelve million workers were without jobs—there can be no reasonable excuse today for such measures.

It is unfair, discriminatory and unwise to continue abatement in periods of high employment and fattened pay-rolls, for these reasons:

(1) The tax abatement act of 1943 (for example) gave the delinquent taxpayer a much better deal than the property owners "who scraped the bottom of the barrel" to currently pay his taxes. The delinquent taxpayer who had failed to pay in 1942 and prior years was given the privilege of taking 4 years' time to pay his 1942 and previously arrearages—and, at the same time escape all accumulated penalties and interest, if he paid his 1943 taxes currently, together with 20% of his back taxes.

This kind of thing has been going on in a big way for years. Now those taxpayers who have faithfully met their obligations are considering whether or not they should get on "the band-wagon of forgiveness" and obtain the advantages of a four or five year delay in payment of taxes. This is bad news for municipal officials. They had better waken up to this danger and stop treating the "paying class" unfairly—else this class may also try to "get in out of the rain."

(2) No one can deny that thousands of delinquent taxpayers wilfully seek a free ticket for all services rendered by their municipalities. Here is how they try it. They deliberately fail to pay their taxes, depending upon the legislature to pass abatement acts at each session. Meanwhile, they figure they can invest their money and accumulate earnings they would be unable to make if they paid their taxes currently.

One prominent public official says many of these people "used the tax money for speculation." They figure they have nothing to lose. If the speculation does not pay dividends, the good old legislation will stay the hand of the tax collector for four or five years anyhow—and the old homestead will be saved. This is a discrimination against the faithful citizen, who meets his obligations, often at great personal hardship.

(3) The municipalities have lost a large amount of revenue formerly collected from penalties and interest. Now, they have lost (through the tax abatement acts) the weapons which were used to drive money into their treasuries—namely, penalties and interest. Where to now? The answer is "Stop all tax abatement acts."

The Threat of "Perpetual Liens"

A recent note-worthy trend, fraught with danger, threatens to become a twin evil to the tax abatement act. This threat is contained in the proposals which have appeared at almost every recent session of the General Assembly, calling for the perpetuation of judgments for municipal claims and taxes.

As the law now stands, judgments on real property for municipal claims and taxes must be revived at the end of each five years. This wise provision forces attention to the judgments, so that unless there is some compelling reason to continue such judgments, the properties would be sold and put back into the tax-paying column. Otherwise, persons could indefinitely remain in possession of delinquent properties (while back-taxes, interest and penalties continue to mature), and enjoy free rent on properties already considered as lost. Meanwhile, those who paid the taxes would have to carry the excess weight of the delinquent taxpayers.

It seems that this five-year revival provision must be looked upon as a nuisance to some municipal officials and solicitors, despite the fact that they get paid for the work. They just don't want to bother about going through the motions, as required, to revive judgments within the five-year period. What would happen if the poor, dear taxpayers decided it was too much bother to pay their taxes? Small wonder that the financial plight of hundreds of municipalities in Pennsylvania is a public disgrace.

There appears to be little hope for financial recovery so long as the officials themselves continue to urge the passage of "tax abatement laws" and "perpetual liens" at a time when there is little, if any, unemployment, and when the wages being paid are good.

When will these officials face facts and realize that the day of tax abatement has passed?

When will they also realize that the five-year provision of the law relating to judgments on municipal claims and taxes is sound, and that its mandates should be strictly followed, unless those who do pay their taxes are to be expected, hereafter, to carry the ball for their delinquent brethren?

The present procedure to create and keep alive a lien is reasonably simple and easily complied with. It has frequently been pointed out that if taxes accrue for a longer period than ten years, as is possible under existing law, the chances are very strong that the premises could seldom be sold for a sum sufficient to meet the judgments.

The legislature has wisely refrained, until this writing, from accepting any proposal to render tax liens perpetual. Many legislators have served as municipal officials or municipal solicitors. These assemblymen know the pitfalls of perpetual liens and have helped to defeat all such proposals.

Scrape Off the Barnacles

The year 1945 would be a good year in which to kill off the plague of the tax abatement racket and to sink all bills to perpetuate the liens of unpaid taxes. The sooner the municipalities get back to the fundamentals of the tax system, and destroy these hybrid creatures, which act as barnacles, the better off the taxpayers and the municipal officials will be.

Tax abatement, in many cases, is simply an over-extension of credit to individuals who have found it pays them dividends NOT to get on a cash basis. Calvin Coolidge once condemned this kind of long-time credit by saying that such people "were eating the calf in the cow's belly." Like a plague of locusts, the tax abatement acts and the frozen judgments have provided a class of "forgiven taxpayers" who have eaten away the substance of municipal treasuries for years to come. Reverse this trend of defeating all such proposals in 1945.

(b) The Commonwealth shall reimburse the vocational school districts herein established in the same manner and to the same extent as is provided by existing law for salaries of teachers transportation and tuition of pupils and any other reimbursement to which school districts are now or shall hereafter be entitled Provided That any vocational school district consisting of all the school districts that are under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent shall be reimbursed to an amount which when added to all other items of reimbursement from the Commonwealth as provided by law shall total eighty per centum (80%) of the sum expended for approved salaries and travel of the teaching supervisory and administrative staffs for the transportation and tuition of pupils during the previous year and any other reimbursements to which school districts are now or shall hereafter be entitled

Section 3 Sections eight and nine of said act are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 8. Each board of directors of vocational schools receiving a copy of such resolution shall vote on the question whether vocational schools should be established in their district or jointly with another vocational school district or districts or another school district or districts in accordance with the recommendation contained in said resolution of the State Board for Vocational Education In case the board of directors of vocational schools shall by a majority vote favor the establishment in their district of vocational schools the question as to their establishment shall be submitted to a vote of the electors school directors of the districts constituting the vocational school district as hereinafter provided

Section 9 Whenever electors equal to at least ten per centum of the highest vote cast for any office in the territory comprised within any vocational school district at the last preceding general election shall petition the board of directors of vocational schools of such district for a [referendum on] determination of the question of the establishment of vocational schools or whenever the board of directors shall have voted in favor of the same as hereinbefore provided the board of directors shall cause a question to be submitted [at the general or municipal election occurring at least sixty days thereafter by certifying a resolution duly adopted to the county commissioners for submission of such question on the ballot or on voting machines at such election in the manner provided by the election laws of the Commonwealth] to all of the school directors of the districts constituting the vocational school district. In the case of vocational school districts comprising all of the school districts of a county that are under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent the question shall be submitted at a county convention of such directors or at a local board of directors meeting as the county board of directors may choose.

Such question shall be in the following form

Do you favor the establishment	Yes
of vocational schools in the vocational school district of ?	No

If a majority of the [persons] directors voting on such question vote "Yes" then vocational schools shall be forthwith established and maintained in such vocational school district as provided by law. When a vocational school district consists of more than one school district the question shall be determined by the total vote of all the directors voting and not by a majority in each school district.

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 345, as follows:

An Act to further amend sections two and three of the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 326) entitled "An act relating to counties of the first class defining deceased service persons providing for contributions by the county to the funeral expenses for such persons and their widows providing for the erection and care of markers headstones and flags and for the compilation of war records" further changing the provisions for the burial of deceased service persons and their widows.

Section 1 Sections two and three of the act approved the eleventh day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 326) entitled "An act relating to counties of the first class defining deceased service persons providing for contributions by the county to the funeral expenses for such persons and their widows providing for the erection and care of markers headstones and flags and for the compilation of war records" as amended by the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 294) are hereby further amended to read as follows:

Section 2 Sum to Be Spent The county commissioners of any county of the first class of this State are hereby authorized and directed to contribute the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) towards the funeral expenses of each deceased service person in the cases enumerated below where in each case application therefor is made within one year after the date of his or her death and where the total expenses of the funeral does not exceed [four] six hundred dollars [($400.00)] ($600.00). Provided That in the case of any deceased service person who died while in the service application need not be made within one year after the date of his or her death but may be made at any time thereafter if the reason for the delay is satisfactory to the county commissioners. Payment shall be made under the following circumstances:

(1) Where the deceased service person at the time of his or her death had his or her legal residence in the county whether or not he or she died in the county and whether or not he or she was buried in the county. It is hereby declared to be the intent of the General Assembly that every deceased service person having a legal residence in any county of the first class in this Commonwealth at the time of his or her death shall be entitled to the benefits of this section regardless of where he or she may have died or where he or she may be buried and that the liability therefore shall be on the county where such deceased service person shall have had his or her legal residence at the time of his or her death

(2) Where the deceased service person died and was buried in the county but at the time of his death did not have a legal residence within this Commonwealth if the county commissioners of the county where he died shall be notified in writing by any organization of veterans that the body is unclaimed by relatives or friends and upon investigation shall find such condition to exist

(3) When a deceased service person has died while a member of the Pennsylvania Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Erie Pennsylvania and such home incurs all funeral expenses and burials such person in a cemetery in the City of Erie Pennsylvania or the home furnishes clothing casket and shipping case and ships the body to the county from which he was admitted to the home the county from which he was admitted shall reimburse and pay to the Pennsylvania Soldiers' and Sailors' Home the amount of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) or so much thereof as was actually expended by such home

Section 3 Burial of Widows of Deceased Service Persons Upon due application and proof the county commissioners of such county are hereby authorized and directed to contribute the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) from the county funds towards the funeral expenses of any widow of any male deceased service person who at the time of her death had a legal residence in the county whether or not she died in the county and whether or not she was buried in the county Provided however That the county commissioners shall not contribute any moneys toward the funeral expenses of any such widow of a deceased service person who had remarried after the death of such deceased service person nor where the total expense of any such funeral shall exceed [four] six hundred dollars [($400.00)] ($600.00) nor unless application for the payment of such moneys shall be made within one year after the date of the death of such widow of a deceased service person

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 315, as follows:

An Act to further amend the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 208) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words "drug" and "poison" and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity" discontinuing the registration of assistant pharmacists and providing that persons who have served as registered assistant pharmacists for ten years or longer shall be qualified for examination as pharmacists

Section 1 Sections one and three of the act approved the seventeenth day of May one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. L. 208) entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and drugs and providing penalties for the violation thereof defining the words "drug" and "poison" and providing for the appointment of a board which shall have in charge the enforcement of said law and the power to make rules and regulations for the enforcement of said law and providing for the purchase of samples of drugs for determining their quality strength and purity" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That (a) the term "pharmacy" when not otherwise limited shall for all the purposes of this act be taken to mean a retail drugstore or any place where drugs medicine or poisons are compounded dispensed prepared or sold at retail (b) the term "drug" as used in this act shall include * * * all medicine and preparations recognized in the United States Pharmacopoeia the National Formulary or the American Homeopathic Pharmacopoeia for internal or external use and any other substance or mixture of substances intended to be used for the cure mitigation or prevention of disease of either man or other animals (c) the term "pharmacist" shall for all purposes of this act be deemed to mean a person who is properly registered in accordance with this act of Assembly as a pharmacist [(d) the term "assistant pharmacist" shall for all the purposes of this act be deemed to mean a person who is properly registered in accordance with this Act of Assembly as an assistant pharmacist] Provided however That all persons registered as pharmacists [or assistant pharmacists] by the State Pharmaceutical Examining Board of Pennsylvania under the act of May twenty-fourth one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven and various supplements and amendments entitled "An act to regulate the practice of pharmacy and sale of poisons and to prevent adulterations in drugs and medicinal preparations in the State of Pennsylvania" shall be deemed to be pharmacists [or assistant pharmacists respectively] registered under this act

Section 3 [That the Pennsylvania] The State Board of Pharmacy shall meet at least four times a year in the city of Harrisburg or such other place in Pennsylvania as they may deem expedient and examine all persons in the science of pharmacy and its allied branches who shall make application for registration as pharmacists [or assistant pharmacists] and that the said [Pennsylvania] State Board of Pharmacy or a majority of them shall grant to such persons as may be qualified registration and certificates of competency and qualification which shall entitle the holders thereof to all the privileges of a pharmacist [or assistant pharmacist] under the provisions of this act as may be specified therein

Section 2 Section four of said act as last amended by the act approved the twenty-fourth day of April one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 70) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 4 [That every] Every person applying to the Pennsylvania Board of Pharmacy for examination and registration as a pharmacist shall be not less than twenty-one years of age and of good moral character and be a graduate in pharmacy of some reputable and properly chartered college of pharmacy so recognized by the State Board of Pharmacy and must produce satisfactory evidence of having had subsequent to his sixteenth birthday practical experience in the business of retailing compounding or dispensing of drugs chemicals and poisons and of compounding of physicians' prescriptions under the personal supervision of a registered pharmacist one year of which practical experience must have been acquired within the United States

The practical experience required of each applicant for examination and registration shall depend on the length of the course the applicant took in the college of pharmacy of which he is a graduate in pharmacy as follows

(a) If a two years college course in pharmacy then four years of practical experience

(b) If a three years college course in pharmacy then two years of practical experience

(c) If a four years college course in pharmacy then one year of practical experience

Under subdivision (a) of this section credit on the years of practical experience required shall be given equal to the actual time of attendance in the college of pharmacy

Credit for practical experience may be given for experience acquired in the drug dispensary of a regular public hospital which is conducted under the constant supervision of a registered pharmacist but such credit shall not in any case exceed six months

In lieu of the above requirements of this section relative to the qualifications of applicants for examination and registration as pharmacists any person who has been actively engaged for ten years or longer as a registered assistant pharmacist shall be qualified and entitled to take the examination for pharmacist and upon satisfactorily passing such examination and payment of the prescribed fees shall be duly registered as a pharmacist

[Every person applying for registration as an assistant pharmacist shall be not less than eighteen years of age and of good moral character and must produce satisfactory evidence of having satisfactorily completed a two years' course in pharmacy in some reputable and properly chartered college of pharmacy so recognized by the State Board of Pharmacy and of having had subsequent to his or her sixteenth birthday not less than two years practical experience in a pharmacy under the personal supervision of a pharmacist Credit for practical experience may be given for experience acquired in the drug dispensary of a regular public hospital which is conducted under the constant supervision of a registered pharmacist but such credit shall not in any case exceed one year]

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 176, as follows:

An Act to add sections eight point one and eight point two to the act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred three (P. L. 106) entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the city treasurers of the several cities of second class and third class of this Commonwealth to sell at public sale all properties upon which the taxes assessed and levied are delinquent and remain unpaid" by fixing the interests of the various taxing authorities having taxes or claims against property sold under the provisions of said act by the treasurer of any city of the second class and providing for the distribution of moneys received as income from or resale of any such property purchased by the city at such tax sale

Section 1 The act approved the thirtieth day of March one thousand nine hundred three (P. L. 106) entitled "An act authorizing and empowering the city treasurers of the several cities of second class and third class of this Commonwealth to sell at public sale all properties upon which the taxes assessed and levied are delinquent and remain unpaid" is hereby amended by adding thereto after section eight two new sections to read as follows

Section 8.1 After the period for redemption as provided for in this act has expired and the said lands have not been redeemed it shall be the duty of the city treasurer to certify to the Board or Boards of Assessors or proper assessing authorities charged with the duty of assessing such real estate for purposes of taxation that he sold the lands to the grantee named in the deed and that the period for redemption has expired and said lands have not been redeemed and if the said lands have been sold to the city the aforesaid assessing authorities shall not thereafter return said lands for purposes of taxation and no taxes shall be levied thereon as long as the property is held and owned by the city. Copies of the aforesaid certification may also be furnished to deed registries or other interested authorities

Section 8.2 The interests of all taxing authorities having taxes or claims against any property sold to any city of the second class by the city treasurer under the provisions of this act shall be fixed and determined as of the time of the certification by the city treasurer as provided for in section eight point one and shall remain fixed without the necessity of filing or reviving liens or otherwise preserving such taxes or claims and if the said city receives income from the property it shall distribute any net income first to the cost of the treasurer's sale and the balance to the interested taxing authorities in proportion to their taxes and claims against the property until such taxes and claims have been iliquidated and thereafter in proportion to their rate of tax levy within the city

If upon a resale by the city of any property purchased by it under this act either for a sum sufficient to pay all taxes and claims or for a lesser sum as provided by laws it should be deemed necessary by said city to conduct any court proceedings to perfect its tax title acquired at the treasurer's sale it shall be lawful for the said city to deduct the costs of said proceedings from the sale price before distribution of the balance and if the sale price or balance remaining is more than sufficient to pay all taxes and claims then the sum left after all taxes and municipal claims have been satisfied shall be distributed to the interested taxing authorities in proportion to their rate of tax levy upon real estate within the city at the time of resale

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 681, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 1055) entitled "An act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries" extending the probationing powers of courts

Section 1 Section one of the act approved the nineteenth day of June one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 1055) entitled "An act authorizing the release on probation of certain convicts instead of imposing sentences the appointment of probation and parole officers and the payment of their salaries and expenses regulating the manner of sentencing convicts in certain cases and providing for their release on parole their conviction of crime during parole and their rearrest and reconviction for breach of parole and extending the powers and duties of boards of prison inspectors of penitentiaries" as amended by the act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-five (P. L. 554) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That whenever any person shall be convicted in any court of this Commonwealth of any crime except murder administering poison kidnapping incest sodomy buggery rape assault and battery with intent to ravish arson robbery or burglary and it does not appear to the said court that the defendant has ever before been imprisoned for crime either in this State or elsewhere (but detention in an institution for juvenile delinquents shall not be considered imprisonment) and where the said court believes that the character of the defendant and the circumstances of the case such that he or she is not likely again to engage in an offensive course of conduct and that the public good does not demand or require that the defendant should suffer the penalty imposed by law the said court shall have power to suspend the imposing of the sentence and place the defendant on probation for a definite period on such terms and conditions including the payment of money for the use of the county not exceeding however the fine fixed by law for conviction of such offense as it may deem right and proper said terms and conditions to be duly entered of record as a part of the judgment of the court in such case No such condition for the payment of money shall be considered as the imposition of a fine or a sentence nor prevent the court from thereafter sentencing any defendant under the act under which he or she was convicted upon violation of his or her parole

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 688, as follows:

An Act to further amend section twenty-one of the act approved the sixth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 861) entitled "An act to create a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in this Commonwealth establishing the "Pennsylvania Board of Parole" conferring and defining its jurisdiction duties powers and functions including the supervision of persons placed upon probation in certain designated cases providing for the method of appointment of its members regulating the appointment removal and discharge of its officers clerks and employes dividing the Commonwealth into administrative districts for purposes of parole fixing the salaries of members of the board and of certain other officers and employes thereof making violations of certain provisions of this act misdemeanors providing penalties therefor and for other cognate purposes and making an appropriation" empowering the Board of Parole to grant paroles to convicted persons before the expiration of their minimum sentence with the consent of the sentencing judge or the Pardon Board

Section 1 Section twenty-one of the act approved the sixth day of August one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 861) entitled "An act to create a uniform and exclusive system for the administration of parole in this Commonwealth establishing the "Pennsylvania Board of Parole" conferring and defining its jurisdiction duties powers and functions including the supervision of persons placed upon probation in certain designated cases providing for the method of appointment of its members regulating the appointment removal and discharge of its officers clerks and employes dividing the Commonwealth into administrative districts for purposes of parole fixing the salaries of members of the board and of certain other officers and employes thereof making violations of certain provisions of this act misdemeanors providing penalties therefor and for other cognate purposes and making an appropriation" as amended by the act approved the twenty-seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 767) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 21 That board is hereby authorized to release on parole any convict confined in any penal institution of this Commonwealth as to whom power to parole is herein granted to said board except convicts condemned to death or serving life imprisonment whenever in its opinion the best interests of the convict justify or require his being paroled and it does not appear that the interest of the Commonwealth will be injured thereby If at the time a person is paroled he has been imprisoned for a period in excess of the minimum term of imprisonment to which he shall have been sentenced the period of parole may be extended by the board up to but not beyond the maximum term imposed The power to parole herein granted to the Board of Parole may [not] be exercised in the board's discretion [at any time] before [but only after] the expiration of the minimum term of imprisonment fixed by the court in its sentence or by the Pardon Board in a sentence which has been reduced by commutation only in those cases where the sentencing judge or the Pardon Board consents or recommends in writing that a parole be granted Provided however That if the Board of Parole refuse to parole the prisoner at the expiration of any minimum term fixed by the Pardon Board it shall within ten days after the date when the minimum term expired transmit to the Pardon Board a written statement of the reasons for refusal to parole the prisoner at the expiration of the minimum term fixed by the Pardon Board Thereafter the Pardon Board may either accept the action of the Board of Parole or order the immediate release of the prisoner on parole under the supervision of the Board of Parole Said board shall have the power during the period for which a person shall have been sentenced to recommit one paroled for violation of the terms and conditions of his parole and from time to time to reparole and recommit in the same manner and with the same procedure as in the case of an original parole or recommitment if in the judgment of the said board there is a reasonable probability that the convict will be benefited by again according him liberty and it does not appear that the interests of the Commonwealth will be injured thereby

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 77, as follows:

An Act regulating the issuance of execution on judgments confessed on written instruments and providing that when such judgments are entered in one county defenses may be made to the same by petition to open filed in any other county where execution thereon is issued or made

Section 1 Whenever a judgment is confessed or entered in any court of common pleas on a note bond or other written instrument hereafter executed in which judgment is confessed or containing a warrant for an attorney-at-law or other person to confess judgment against the person or persons who execute the same and such judgment is transferred to any other court of common pleas by filing there a certified copy of the record in the case before an execution bill of discovery or attachment shall be issued thereon in such other court of common pleas the plaintiff therein shall enter his appearance in the prothonotary's office of such other county specifying a name and address within that county where all papers may be served on him. When the defendant has a defense to such judgment he may file his petition to open the same either in the court where the judgment is originally entered or in any other court to which the judgment is transferred and in which an execution bill of discovery or attachment is issued thereon.

Section 2 Whenever a judgment is confessed or entered in any court of common pleas on any instrument in writing set forth in section one of this act and a testatum writ of fieri facias is directed to the sheriff of any other county than that of the court in which it is confessed or entered the plaintiff shall enter his appearance in the prothonotary's office of such other county whose sheriff is directed to issue execution thereon giving an address within that county where all papers may be served on him. When the defendant has a defense to such judgment he may file his petition to open the same either in the court where the judgment is originally entered or in the court of the county whose sheriff is directed to issue execution thereon.

Whenever a judgment is ordered opened in a court other than the court in which the judgment was originally entered a copy of the order shall be certified within three days thereafter by the prothonotary of the court where the order is made to the prothonotary of the court of original entry.

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 20

Mr. NAGEL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Resolution No. 20, Printer's No. 214, on page 21 of today's calendar.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 12, 1945.

Whereas, many employees of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and former and present members of the General Assembly have been inducted into the Armed Forces of the United States since April first, one thousand nine hundred forty; and

Whereas, many of these persons have died while serving with the Armed Forces: therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Department of Property and Supplies be instructed to publish in the Pennsylvania Manual for 1945 a roster of all officers and employes of the Commonwealth and all former and present members of the General Assembly who have died in the armed service during World War II and to continue to publish such rosters in all future issues of the Pennsylvania Manual with such additions as may from time to time become necessary

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 290, as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand one of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" providing compensation for councilmen

Section 1 Section one thousand one of the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1001 Organization of Council [No] Compensation Eligibility The borough council shall organize at eight o'clock past meridian on the first Monday after the first day of January of each even-numbered year by electing a president, treasurer and secretary which shall constitute the organization of council The council may at the organization meeting elect such other officers as may be provided for by law or ordinance The president shall preside over the meetings of council and when absent his place shall be filled by a president pro tempore The councilmen [shall not receive any] may receive such compensation for their services as councilmen as fixed by ordinance but such compensation shall not exceed per year fifty dollars $50.00 in boroughs having less than one thousand population one hundred dollars $100.00 in boroughs having between one thousand and two thousand population one hundred fifty dollars $150.00 in boroughs having between two thousand and three thousand population two hundred dollars $200.00 in boroughs having between three thousand and four thousand population two hundred fifty dollars $250.00 in boroughs having between four thousand and five thousand population three hundred dollars $300.00 in boroughs having over five thousand population

Provided that in boroughs having over seven councilmen the total maximum compensation to all shall not exceed twenty-one hundred dollars ($2100.00) and shall be divided equally among them Within the aforesaid limits the ordinance may provide that instead of an annual salary compensation be fixed according to attendance at regular meetings of council and such other meetings or conferences as council deems of sufficient importance The amount or method of compensation shall not be fixed or changed oftener than once in two years

A school director shall not be eligible to the office of member of council

Section 3 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

COMMITTEE REPORT ON ELECTRIC ROLL CALL SYSTEM

Mr. CHARLES H. BRUNNER, Jr. Mr. Speaker, the Committee appointed under the provision of House Resolution, Serial No. 13, approved by the House of Representatives on January 29, 1945, and directed to make a thorough study of the feasibility of the electrical roll call system by inquiry and by investigation of such systems now in operation in other states, and to report the results of such study, together with its recommendations to this House on or before March 1st 1945, respectfully reports:

That a committee of five members was appointed by the Speaker on January 30, 1945. Various members of this original committee, realizing that information relative to the electrical roll call system should be obtained by personal observation, generously relinquished their right to visit each state contemplated and thereby permitted other members to replace them. Thus, though the undersigned represent the original appointees, other members of the House of Representatives who have observed the electrical roll call system in operation are Honorable Ira T. Fiss, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Honorable Edwin C. Ewing, Honorable Baker Royer, Honorable Joseph M. O'Brien, Honorable Edward T. Gallagher, Jr., and Honorable William J. Yester.

That in addition to the members mentioned above, the committee was accompanied on at least one visit by Honorable William E. Habbyschaw, Chief Clerk of the House, Honorable William P. Roan, Secretary of the House, Mr. S. Edward Moore, House Parliamentarian, Honorable Robert S. Frey, Director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, and Mr. Frank E. Hoffman, the Director of the Bureau of Grounds and Buildings in the Department of Property and Supplies.

The Committee is greatly indebted to the officials named herein. They contributed a full knowledge of parliamentary and legislative practice and made more comprehensible the practical features of an electrical roll call system. The technical knowledge of Mr. Frank E. Hoffman was invaluable with regard to the intricacies of the electric system, as were his observations on its operation and construction.

That the Committee or Sub-committee thereof, visited and inspected electric roll call system in actual operation and during the stage of installation in Wisconsin, Michigan, Virginia, Louisiana and Alabama.

That the Committee selected the aforesaid states for the following reasons:

(a) The State Legislatures of Wisconsin and Michigan were in Session at the time visited and had sufficient personnel on hand to effectively demonstrate their respective systems.

(b) The State of Louisiana had the most complete and elaborate system installed in its new $5,000,000 capital.

(c) The State of Alabama was presently installing a roll call system, thereby offering to the committee the rare opportunity of seeing the details of an installation and an approximation of what would be required for installation in our own House of Representatives.

(d) The State of Virginia was visited because the system installed in its capital at Richmond was the only one of its kind in the United States. It afforded the committee a full opportunity to study a competitive system in operation and to compare the data with that obtained from the other capitols visited.

Other states using the electrical roll call system are

Iowa, Nebraska, West Virginia, Texas, California, Florida and Minnesota.

That the committee has interviewed members of the legislatures of the states visited and interviewed officers of such bodies, the persons in charge of the mechanical parts of the systems and others who are constant visitors at sessions of these different legislative bodies.

The systems observed differ in some aspects but are based upon the same general plan. For the information of those who have not witnessed an electrical roll call system in operation, it was thought that a brief explanation of the general scheme would be helpful.

When a bill is presented for final passage requiring a taking of the yeas and nays, the Speaker of the House announces the fact and that the Clerk of the House will prepare the roll. The Clerk then opens the electric roll call system by turning a master key and a gong is sounded at the same time giving the members an opportunity to be seated. Each member then operates his individual voting switch at his desk. Should the member vote in the affirmative, he presses the switch or button at the left. Should he vote in the negative he operates the switch on the right. Each member has his own voting switch on his desk which is unlocked by his personal key. As the member votes, his vote is recorded by electric light on a large roll call board. If he votes aye, a green light appears opposite his name on the roll call board. If nay, the vote is shown by a red light. After the board indicates that the membership has cast its vote, the Speaker announces that the Clerk will close the roll. The time thus consumed is from 5 to 20 seconds. After the Speaker has inquired whether the membership has voted, the Clerk then is directed to close the roll call system and a recorder operates, which in another 5 to 10 seconds delivers to the Clerk a perforated roll call showing how each member voted and the final tally or vote. A counting device computes the vote simultaneously but independently of the recorder, at the Speaker's or Clerk's desk.

The system can be used on the question of a division or any other motion calling for a showing of yeas and nays. It can be used thusly without the operation of the recorder or counter.

After the vote has been taken the Clerk "clears the machine" by operating another switch thus readying it for the next vote.

The machine can supply any desired number of duplicate roll calls.

That the committee does not consider as part of its duty any obligation to recommend the adoption of any particular electric roll call system. It is of the opinion that the Department of Property and Supplies of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has the exclusive right to acquire the proper equipment at the request and direction of the House of Representatives. Accordingly, the undersigned, after thorough investigation and careful consideration of the various systems installed, submits the following findings, viz.:

Mr. Speaker, I would urge that the Members, even though they will be given copies of this report for their personal inspection, pay some attention if convenient to the findings of this committee at this time.

1. That, without exception, every member or official of the legislative bodies visited approve the electrical roll call system.

2. That the States of Wisconsin and Virginia in the years 1917 and 1922, respectively, installed a cumbersome electrical roll call system which consumed about five minutes for each roll call and yet effected a great saving of time and expense. Both States have since installed the most modern systems, which can and do operate a complete roll call in as little time as 15 seconds for their 100 members.

3. That the electrical roll call system operates with absolute precision and removes any possibility of error now present in the Pennsylvania House of Representatives in the recording of an oral roll call.

4. The perforated roll call vote precludes any error by clerks in recording the vote of members in the Official Journal and the printing of said vote in the Legislative Journal.

5. Members may change their vote before the roll is closed and the result is announced instead of being required to arise in their place, await recognition by the chair and orally change their vote.

6. Members vote simultaneously instead of one at a time.

7. The unparliamentary practice of using the so-called short roll call would be completely eliminated.

8. The cost of electricity to operate the electric roll call system for a session of the House will approximate 50 cents an hour.

9. The systems observed have been operated during at least 14 regular sessions of the legislatures. The total cost of repairs or replacements did not exceed $100.00 for all states visited.

10. The voting units installed in the desks of the individual members can be replaced in as little as 6 seconds, thus assuring uninterrupted efficiency.

11. No state visited by your committee had as liberal a constitutional provision as that found in Article II Section 12 of the Pennsylvania Constitution, whereby any 2 members may demand a ye and nay vote on any question. This emphasizes the need for the electrical roll call system in Pennsylvania.

12. Daily sessions consume less time due to use of electric roll call system thereby permitting more time for Committee action.

13. Men can be trained quickly to operate and maintain the system. No representatives of the manufacturer are required for the system's operation after initial installation.

14. In the State of Wisconsin, which uses a roll call sheet printed in triplicate, the printing cost for 20,000 roll calls amounted to $250.00.

15. It is believed that instead of consuming an average of 7 minutes for each roll call in the House of Representatives, an electrical roll call system would average one minute and accomplish it more efficiently and accurately.

That, as a result of the study and investigation so made, the committee unanimously reports to the House that the acquisition and installation of an electrical roll call system would expedite the business of the House and effect a substantial saving of its time, expense and confusion.

REPORT ADOPTED

Mr. LICHTENWALTER. Mr. Speaker, I move the adoption of the report of the special committee making the investigation of the electrical roll call system so that it may be printed in the official record of the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to second the motion that the report of the committee be adopted.

The motion was unanimously agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. LEVY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in the Senate of the United States was introduced what will probably be the broadest program of public housing, urban redevelopment and rural home improvement in the nation's history, and after consultation with various housing experts, builders, city planners and economists the administration in Washington has had introduced today a seven billion dollar program for post war development of slum clearance areas.

With this in mind and with the desire of the Governor in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for such post war planning rehabilitation, I am happy this afternoon, a few hours after the introduction of this great measure into the Senate of the United States, to offer a resolution to be forwarded to the President of the United States, to the House of Representatives, to the Senate of the United States and to the Governor of the Commonwealth. I ask that the resolution be given prompt and careful consideration by the committee.

RESOLUTION

Mr. LEVY offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk.

CONGRATULATORY RESOLUTION

Mrs. DYE offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1945.

Life is made up of many days—some of sorrow, some of gladness, and many that are just twenty-four hours of which the world pays little notice.

Then there are these days filled with people, and then there are days when one eagerly searches for someone—anyone.

Then there are those holidays, the importance of which change with each of us as we go down life's path, no two being quite alike as we experience them through the years.

Then there are those days of birth—mother's, dad's, Joe's and Nancy's, and the birthdays spent at home and birthdays spent away from home.

Today, however, it is a birthday away from home among people and a happy day—a day on which some part of the world does take notice. It is the birthday of Thomas Lyons; therefore be it

Resolved, That we the members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, hereby commemorate the birthday of the honorable gentleman from Mercer County, Thomas Lyons, and we join with his family, his host of friends and acquaintances, in congratulating him and wishing him many more happy birthdays.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Mercer, Mr. Lyons.

Mr. LYONS. Mr. Speaker, I thank my colleague and the other Members of the House for the resolution just passed; also the member who voted "no", including myself.

I have been accused of many things since the flowers were set on my desk this afternoon. They have accused me of doing a little bit of advertising in the way of flowers, but it was not personal advertising, ladies and gentlemen of the House; it was nothing more nor less than a jesture to remind the Members of this House that in a few weeks from now Easter will be here, and to remind you Members not to forget your wives and sweethearts on that day.

The House sang "Happy Birthday to You."

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. LEVY. I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. LEVY. I would like to inquire of the Parliamentarian, Mr. Speaker, whether the speaker was in tune.

The SPEAKER. He cannot decide against me.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY OF PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATIVE CORRESPONDENTS' ASSOCIATION

Mr. ANDREWS offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration. The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1945.

During the month of January in the year 1895, there was organized in Harrisburg an association which, during the two score and ten years that have passed since its founding, has increased in size, prestige and importance.

This organization and its members have been present and have played a vital part in every regular and special legislative session since its inception, and now that they are about to celebrate their Fiftieth Anniversary, it is fitting that proper consideration should be given by the General Assembly to mark its birth, growth and accomplishments.

It is the oldest organization of its kind in the Nation and its contribution to the General Assembly and to the people of the Commonwealth cannot be over-emphasized.

The Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' Association will celebrate its Golden Anniversary at a banquet in the Penn-Harris Hotel on Tuesday, April 3, 1945 at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

In prior anniversary programs emphasis has been on providing entertainment of a lighter vein, however, on this occasion because of the war and the seriousness of the times an outstanding program has been arranged which will be of interest to every Member of the General Assembly and Officials of the State Government.

His Excellency, The Governor of the Commonwealth, Edward Martin will present the guest of honor, The Honorable Robert P. Patterson, Under Secretary of War, who will give an Off-the Record address on the war situation.

John M. McCullough of the Philadelphia Inquirer staff, will tell of his experiences as a War Correspondent in the Pacific Theatre.

Cy Hungerford of the Pittsburgh Post Gazette staff, a cartoonist of National reputation will present an illustrated talk.

Last but not least, John P. Doheny the sole surviving charter member of the Association and a former correspondent for the Pittsburgh Press will be a distinguished guest on this occasion.

Tickets for the banquet can be obtained from any member of the Correspondents' Association.

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania extends to the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' Association its heartiest congratulations upon having reached so ripe an age and commends it for its accomplishments in the newspaper world and wishes it a most successful celebration and a continuation of growth and service; be it further

Resolved, That the Members of the House and Senate attend this Golden Anniversary Banquet and join with our Correspondents in properly marking the occasion and respectfully calls the attention of His Excellency, The Governor and the Members of His Cabinet, to the impending celebration and to the opportunity it affords to pay honor to those who help to keep Pennsylvania on the front pages of the newspapers of the State and the Nation.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. LYONS asked and obtained permission for the St. Patrick's Day Committee to meet during the session of the House.

PRINTING ADDITIONAL COPIES OF HOUSE BILL

Mr. FRED P. HARE, Jr. offered a resolution and asked and obtained unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 13, 1945.

Resolved (if the Senate concurs), That the Department of Property and Supply is hereby requested to authorize the printing of five hundred (500) additional copies of House Bill No. 568, entitled, "An Act to add section 1209.1 to and to repeal subsections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 7A, 8, 9, 10 and 11 paragraph (a) of subsection 19 of section 1210 and to further amend section 1436 of the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309), entitled 'Public School Code,' by further providing for the minimum compensation and increments of members of the teaching and supervisory staffs of school districts, county superintendents, assistant county superintendents, and district superintendents, and providing for reimbursement by the Commonwealth."

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know if Rule 30 on page 733 is in effect in this House.

The SPEAKER. Rule 30 is a rule of this House, and it is in full force and effect.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, could I have permission to have the reading clerk read the rule, please?

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read the rule.

Powers and duties of committees. Each committee shall have full power over the bill resolution or other paper committed to it, except that the committee cannot change the subject, nor amendments adopted by the House.

Mr. FREED. Will the Speaker kindly explain how many men this rule pertains to?

The SPEAKER. The Chair does not understand the question.

Mr. FREED. Is there more than one gentleman that this rule pertains to, Mr. Speaker?

The SPEAKER. This rule applies to all standing committees and every Member in this House.

Mr. FREED. Will the Chair give me a ruling on this question: is it possible for the chairman of any committee to hold any bills in his own desk without presenting them to the committee?

The SPEAKER. The chairman of the committee is always responsible for the bills referred to his committee.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, is the chairman allowed to keep those without bringing them before the committee?

Mr. Speaker, to go just a little bit further on that, I tried to ask this question in caucus, I tried to ask this question in committee, and they referred me to you, Mr. Speaker, to get it answered. Will you please answer it?

The SPEAKER. The chairman has no power except his own vote.

Mr. FREED. Then, at any time at all, do I understand that he is supposed, Mr. Speaker, to present the bills to the committee for the committee to work on such bills?

The SPEAKER. It would be impossible for the Chair to tell each committee how to conduct its business. The Chair wishes to cooperate with every standing committee of this House, and will do so in every way.

Mr. FREED. Would the Speaker then kindly inform the Members of the House as to who then informs the chairman as to when the white flag shall be on for the bills to be released from his desk.

The SPEAKER. I would suggest to the gentleman from Lehigh if he has any complaints he bring them before the committee itself, the Rules Committee or the House.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, I have tried to get this answered in caucus, as I have stated before, I have tried to take it up in committee, and I am informed in the committee that I have reference to, that I shall take it up on the floor of the House, that he has no control over those bills other than to put them out as he gets instructions from the powers that be, and I would like to know who the powers that be are.

The SPEAKER. May the Chair again read the rule:

Each committee shall have full power over the bill, resolution, or other paper committed to it, . . .

Mr. FREED. There is more to that rule, Mr. Speaker. I believe.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read it again:

Each committee shall have full power over the bill, resolution or other paper committed to it, except the committee can not change the subject, nor amendments adopted by the House.

The Chair thinks the rule is clear.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, the rule does appear to be clear, and that is why I went through the channels I did go through, and that is why I hesitated to bring it to that particular point, but I was instructed by the chairman of this particular committee referred to, to ask you, Mr. Speaker, on the floor—to ask you if the chairman should put them out of his desk or if the committee had a right to haul them out of his desk.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will again inform the gentleman that the Chair has no power over any committee, nor does he believe that it is within his province to tell any standing committee what it shall do. They must proceed according to the rules of this House.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the Chair correctly that I shall take this up with the Rules Committee?

The SPEAKER. If there is any violation of the rules the gentleman has a perfect right to be heard by the Rules Committee.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, may I have a little more on that? Should I put in a resolution or merely see the Rules Committee?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman may request the Rules Committee to hear him or present a resolution to the House making charges against a Committee.

Mr. FREED. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION GRANTED TO MEET DURING SESSION

Mr. BAKER asked and obtained permission for the Democratic Members of Allegheny County to meet during the session of the House in the Minority Floor Leader's office.

INTERROGATION

Mr. HEATHERINGTON asked and obtained unanimous consent to interrogate the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Freed.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREED. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, did I understand him to say that to have a bill brought before the committee you must get permission from the powers that be?

Mr. FREED. That was, Mr. Speaker, my instruction from the chairman, that he had to have permission from the powers that to be release it from that committee.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Does the gentleman have any idea who those powers that be are, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. FREED. I am not allowed to even think who they are. I tried to find out who they are but I have not been able to up to this time.

Mr. HEATHERINGTON. Mr. Speaker, I have a couple of bills that I would like to move myself. If the gentleman finds out who those powers that be are, will be please notify me so that I can move them?

Mr. FREED. I shall be glad to, Mr. Speaker.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state it.

Mr. ANDREWS. If, Mr. Speaker, in discussing a bill pending in committee the chairman of that committee advises me to see a well known lobbyist, should I take the matter before the committee or bring it on to the floor of the House

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will use his own discretion. He has the privilege of doing either.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the Chair for his illuminating and instructive reply.

Mr. FREED. I would like to answer the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, Mr. Speaker.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. FREED asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, as to getting bills out of committee, and receiving treatment like the gentleman to my left, advising me to see the powers that be, I too was told that we have men on the side lines that unless they give the highlight and the flag, which I don't believe we were elected by our constituents back home to do, that they give the highlight or the bills do not appear. I am told, "When I say so they will hit the floor from committee and not before."

I wonder if the people back home know that these people on the sidelines are the ones that appear to be operating this House? I myself don't like it and I don't believe a lot of members in here do. I think our Chairmen should be instructed to beware of those powers that be, that the people back home are the operators, and when any Member of this House, of whom I happen to be one, asks for a bill to come out on the floor from a Committee that they take proper action, whichever way they see fit, but not to be controlled by the men on the sidelines.

The SPEAKER. The Chair repeats that no chairman has full control of any bill. Power is vested in the membership of this House and the membership of the Committees.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I want to state for the purpose of the record that I stated an absolute fact, not a supposition, that in discussing a bill pending in Committee I was advised by the Chairman of that Committee to take it up with someone who is not a Member of this House.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would say to the Members of this House, as well as the gentleman from Cambria, that that is not proper advice for any Chairman or any Member of this House to give to another Member.

SENATE MESSAGE

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows:

HOUSE BILL No. 246.

An Act defining and regulating the practice of Chiroprody and providing penalties.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendment, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.
